TALK OF THE TOWN

Cody will celebrate the glorious Fourth.

Cooling drinks are becoming very popular.

D. A. Hancock had business in Omaha last week.

F. H. Baumgartel was down from Crookston, Monday.

Peter Wantz and Alf Morris of Wood Lake were in town last week.

Mat Hoffman is moving into the Borman property on Cherry Street.

Miss Orah Britton went out to her claim near Arabia, Monday morning.

A. J. Folks and daughter, Miss Maud, drove down from Crookston, Tuesday.

J. E. Pettycrew of the north table was in town on business last Saturday.

The Sparks flew Monday but they were not fly enough and Valentine won.

W. A. Wilson was down from Georgia to attend the funeral of Hon. John Shores.

The Bridges instruction in vocal music is good. They have our recommendation.

The Salvation Army bands make a horrible imitation of music but there are things that are worse.

For security in keeping prisoners, the Cherry county jail is about as secure as a summer kitchen.

Our devil is of the opinion that base ball poetry is becoming epidemic and the poets should be quarantined.

C. A. Manning, the Wood Lake druggist, was in town Tuesday and was a welcome caller at these headquarters.

Master Cloyd Quigley, who is working for his father on the reservation, spent Saturday and Sunday in Valentine.

A four-foot fence has been built around the rear of the court house. It may serve to keep the prisoners in the jail.

A farmer near Eustis nearly killed himself the other day while killing cats. He got off easy, though; only lost one eye.

Geo. A. Johnson, of Crookston, was in town last Saturday and dropped a $ in the slo and will get this household gem until 1903.

Monday night would have been a bad time for the fire alarm to have sounded, as there was less than two feet of water in the tank early in the evening.

Charlie Breuklander has resigned his position with Quigley & Chapman. Jay Morey will now operate the Soda fountain and study the drug business.

Mrs. W. A. Pettycrew and daughter left Valentine last Saturday morning for the east where they will spend the vacation visiting friends and relatives.

D. E. Sherman and wife started Thursday evening for a trip overland to Hot Springs in quest of health. Miss Cora Thackrey will assist with the postoffice during his absence.

The fact that "a rich man cannot enter heaven" don't appear to stop very many people in the scramble for wealth. Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage died with $300,000 to his credit. Wonder if he believed what he preached.

On the 7th, Judge Towne issued a marriage license to Samuel J. Heth, and Miss Hannah M. Pederson, both of Valentine, and then tied the knot that made them one.

Frank Brayton is limping around town with some rheumatism concealed about his person. He threatens to go to Hot Springs as soon as he can get away from his business, and get rid of it.

The great American eagle has been corraled for use in Valentine on the Fourth and we will have a celebration that will outdo everything in this neck of the woods. Put Valentine on your visiting list on that date and you had better come the day before so you won't miss any of the fun.

One of the most disappointed individuals on earth is the one who becomes disgruntled at something that appears in the columns of the paper and at once proceeds to "stop the paper" and then anxiously waits for the aforesaid paper to starve to death without his munificent patronage of eight and one-third cents per month.

Arthur Heath, living ten miles south of Cody on a ranch, came down Monday morning to transact business with our Valentine people. Mr. Heath didn't forget to call at headquarters and register. We are glad to have our friends call on us from the country and surrounding towns and we wish you to make our office your headquarters while in town.

The Y. W. C. T. U. observed Flower Mission day, Sunday, June 8th, by rendering an appropriate program in the M. E. Church in the afternoon and distributing bouquets tied with a knot of white ribbon and scripture text cards attached, among the sick and shut-ins of the town. The trains were also visited by a committee of the Y's and the train men presented with button-hole bouquets tied in the same way.

The Bridges, who spent the last week in our city instructing a class in vocal music, gave a concert and class drill Friday evening which was attended by our best people and found to be highly entertaining, instructive, and was appreciated. If Bridges Bros. come again to our city they will find a royal welcome and a larger class waiting for their instruction. They are to be commended to all communities where good singing is appreciated.

The Western League 1902 pennant race is well under way. All of the clubs in the league when visiting Omaha will stop at the Millard hotel, which will be base ball headquarters for the season. Manager B. E. McKibben, of the St. Joseph, Mo., club, stopped at the Millard with his players during the exhibition games, on the suggestion of Manager Rourke, of the Omaha club. In a letter to James H. Manning, manager of the Kansas City club, he said: "We are all so well pleased with our treatment here that I have closed a contract with the Millard for the entire season of 1902. Everything promised to us by Mr. Rourke and in the hotel correspondence has been amply fulfilled and faithfully carried out." The rates at the Millard are as low as $2 per day on the American plan and $1 and up, European plan. The Lincoln, the only first-class hotel in Lincoln, opposite depots, offers a rate of $2 per day to its patrons.
