

THE VALENTINE DEMOCRAT.

THE OFFICIAL NEWSPAPER OF CHERRY COUNTY, NEBRASKA

VOLUME XVII

VALENTINE, NEBRASKA, AUGUST 7, 1902.

NUMBER 29

CORTELYOU.

Prospective Purchasers

of the "Acorn Brand" clothing can certainly be congratulated on the sterling worth, the style, the tone and fit of these garments. Our untiring zeal and great purchasing power have enabled us to place them before you this season at prices that will preclude any question of our clothing leadership.

The Red Front

TALK OF THE TOWN

The sound of the school bell will soon be heard again.

Plasterers are working on the addition to the Red Front.

Max Viertel, of Crookston, had business in Valentine Monday.

Sheriff Layport drove to Springview, Tuesday, on business.

J. T. Keeley, deputy county clerk, Sundayed with friends in O'Neill.

A. F. Webb was around last Friday with one hand in a sling. Poison ivy.

County Attorney Morrissey made a business trip to Ainsworth Tuesday.

Miss Frances Van Buskirk is spending a month with relatives at Hemingford.

People are so busy making hay while the sun shines that the town is almost deserted.

Fred Gatz, an O'Neill butcher, paid $100.08 for the fun of selling beef from a lump-jawed steer.

The Springview Herald assures its readers that the country in and around Butte is not "dried" out.

W. S. Marr, of Chicago, sold a few crackers in Valentine Saturday and went east Monday morning.

Miss Gertrude Jordan, recording clerk in the county clerk's office, is rustivating on her homestead in Dewey Lake precinct.

Col. Pullman has been ordered to proceed at once to Fort Niobrara and see that the barracks are made ready for immediate use.

Carl Krueger and Ed Luther, of Hooper, arrived in Valentine Tuesday morning. Mr. Krueger has an interest in Cherry county stock.

The daily papers are devoting more space to sentimental slobber over the Strong-Yohe scandal than the case seems to warrant. Ring off.

Judge Walcott returned from Deadwood, Tuesday, wearing a badge. He says the people up there are wearing nothing but badges this season.

While playing ball last Friday one of the soldiers caught a ball hot from the bat in his right eye and that organ was closed for repairs in short order.

The twelve-year-old daughter of John Hungenberg, of Norden, was drowned in the Niobrara near Norden, Saturday. The body was recovered.

Burglars entered the residence of Editor Risley, of the Grand Island Democrat, recently, and came near starving to death before they could escape.

Miss Alma Carlson returned Friday night from a year's visit with relatives in Pennsylvania. She was accompanied by Claude Anderson and Mr. Johnson.

Prairie chickens are not ripe enough to pick yet but nearly everyone carries a gun and would not hesitate to shoot in self defense if attacked by a chicken.

An ordinance to prohibit gambling in Valentine reached the third reading and was ready for passage, Monday evening, and died right there. The motion to pass did not receive a second.

The printers of Holt county have challenged the lawyers to play a game of ball for $50 and a banquet. Their spunk is to be more admired than their judgment.

The Omaha water company has purchased a new pump with a capacity of 20,000,000 gallons a day. What a beaut that pump would be to get the water out of stocks.

Do you feel all run down, have no appetite and a tired feeling? A paid-up subscription to the DEMOCRAT will do more to relieve you than anything we know of. Try it.

Miss Jennie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Morgareidge, was married at Dayton, Wyo., July 28th, to Chas. O. Day. The DEMOCRAT extends the usual congratulations.

The mill is being thoroughly overhauled and remodeled and the Plansifter system, the most modern, is being introduced. When completed it will be one of the best equipped mills in the state.

A. Nenzel, of Nenzel, returned Friday from Omaha, where he marketed a load of steers. He reports a satisfactory market and dropped some of his surplus in the DEMOCRAT'S-treasury on his subscription account.

A lodge of the Fraternal Union of America was organized Saturday evening with twenty members and there were a dozen more applications on file. They meet again next Saturday and it is expected that the membership will be more than doubled at that time.

The Chadron Journal crows a little because it is one of the papers selected to publish the proposed constitutional amendment, and thinks the selection was made because of the excellent standing and splendid circulation of the paper. The Journal has missed its guess. It was selected because it swallows every dose having the g. o. p. label on the bottle no matter how nauseating, without making a wry face.

The following incident is vouched for by the Globe, of Atchison, Kansas: A policeman found a hotel guest roaming about the streets in his sleep. He started to lead the man to jail, when the stranger protested. "I am guilty of no wrong-doing," he said, "I am a somnambulist." "It don't make any difference what church you belong to," returned the officer, "You can't do no walking on these streets in your shirt tail."

At the last session of the grand lodge, A. F. & A. M., held in the city of Omaha, commencing June 4th, 1902, the following amendment to the constitution was presented and is now submitted to the lodges for approval or rejection: "Resolved, that Art. III of the Constitution be, and is hereby amended so as to read as follows: 'Article III. The Grand Lodge shall hold a regular communication annually, in the city in the city of Omaha.'" All members of Minnechadusa lodge No. 192 are earnestly requested to attend the regular session Tuesday, Aug. 12th, at which time the vote on the foregoing change in the constitution must be taken. T. C. HORNBY, W. W. THOMPSON, Sec. W. M.
