

"Fuel shortage is still the one seriously disturbing element in the industrial situation. Transportation facilities have been diverted from other merchandise, to the disadvantage of shippers, yet iron furnaces are unable to secure sufficient supplies of coke, and many other manufacturing plants are closed because of inadequate coal deliveries. Mines are more fully operated, but there is no prospect of normal conditions until spring." The view of R. G. Dun & Co. It continues:

Extremely low temperature during the last week stimulated distribution of heavy clothing and other seasonable a cloud of smoke covered part of the ramgoods. Retail trade was accelerated by the customary clearance sales, especially in dry goods and kindred branches. Traveling men are sending in large orders for spring goods, the volume of advance business surpassing the customary amount for this time of year. Quiet conditions in the iron and steel markets do not mean duliness or diminishing consumption, but merely the oversold condition of furnaces and mills, together with great uncertainty about keeping plants active on a day to day supply of fuel. Inquiries are numerous, especially in structural lines, but makers are not ready to accept bids until the future appears more definite.

New plans constantly come forward for large office buildings, notably at the West, which means vigorous consumption of structural steel, and the demands from car builders are phenomenal. Practically the entire capacity of the leading plants is already booked for six months. and at many concerns the last half of the year will bring no idleness unless crders are canceled.

Eastern manufacturers of footwear are fully employed on spring shoes, but new orders are light for later delivery, although western jobbers purchase freely of fall samples. Quiet conditions in leather have been succeeded by an increased demand for hemlock sole and standard upper, shoe manufacturers placing liberal orders. Last week's slight recovery in the hide market was not sustained. Dry goods trading has increased more activity in the latter half of the month. There is little disposition to anticipate wants in the cotton goods division, but immediate needs have evidently grown more pressing. In the woolen goods division the opening of piece dyes was made at an advance, but not as much as some sellers anticipated.

Bradstreet's weekly report on grain Wheat exports since July aggregate last season and 107,210,968 in 1900. Corn exports aggregate 2,394,612 bushels, against 2,856,986 last week, 298,093 a year ago and 5,184,550 in 1901. For the fiscal year exports are 15,978,018 bushels, against 21,255,447 last season and 108,935,495 in 1901.

The wheat market showed great strength and made material advance during the week. Conditions favored strength and the advance appears warranted. There were reports of good business at the seaboard and large sales of wheat and flour to go out later to Europe, Here in America, and more especially in the Northwest, sentiment has favored higher prices for some time. But the foreign markets, Liverpool especially, would not follow the advances on this side. With a good crop in sight in Argentina wheat importers in Liverpool are slow to anticipate their wants, and will naturally hold off as long as possible. During the week there was evidence that there was wheat needed abroad for immediate use. At present it looks as if there would be demand from Liverpool for good American wheat in any event, while if it should develop that the Argentina crop is not so large or the quality not so good as has been figured upon, the demand for American wheat would be great.

Three German Warships Shell San

Carlos Fortress in Venezuela. Three German warships, supposed to be the Panther, Vineta and Falke, began shelling the fort of San Carlos, Venreturned the free. The engagement lasted several hours. This is the same fort shelled a few days before by the Panther. Fort San Carlos is at the entrance to Lake Maracaibo, in the extreme westera part of Venezuela. The fort is equipped with modern rapid-fire guns.

A correspondent of the Associated Press in a rowboat approached to with in three miles of the fort. The roar of the guns was terrific. The Panther appeared to be not more than 500 yards from the fort. Her guns were being fired every minute. The fort could not be seen for the clouds of smoke, but it was plain that the Venezuelan gunners were anforegoing is from the Weekly Trade Re- swering the German fire bravely and

A number of Indian fishermen were intercepted fleeing from the direction of the fort in their dugout canoes. They reported that the smoke seen was from the burning village of San Carlos, which had been shelled by the Ger man ships and was in flames.

The shelling of San Carlos caused much excitement among the German residents of Maracaibo, who have protested against the action of the warships.

At the foreign office in Berlin and at the German navy department it was declared that no orders were given to bom bard the fort. The navy officials admithey knew the Vineta was proceeding to Maracaibo, but they did not anticipate a bombardment. The officials admit that the incident is likely to "renew anti German agitation in the United States' and say they recognize the disadvantage Germany is placed in through the impossibility of getting prompt reports from Venezuela. The foreign office does not even know what was the purpose of the Panther in its first action against Fort San Carlos.

Two Men Saw Out of Jall,

Mitchell, S. D., Jan. 27.-A jail delivery took place in this city Monday night and a very important prisoner made his escape. Jack Sully and Fred Baer, the two inmates, were released from the prison and no trace of them can be found. They were assisted by outside parties, who sawed the lock from an outside door that is rarely used, and then sawed their way into the jail.

At 4:30 in the afternoon the deputy sheriff saw Sully in the jail cerridor and when the deputy returned at 7 o'clock the jail was empty and an investigation revealed that the prisoners had gone. Telephone messages; were sent in all directions to intercept the fugitives.

Sully is the noted cattle rustler who has operated on the Sioux reservation, west of Chamberlain, for a number of years and in that time cape the officers, or has stood in with them to the extent of having escaped arrest.

Last summer Sully was arrested at Verdirgrie. Neb., where he had driven a large number of cattle and had sold them to Omaha dealers. He was brought back to Lyman county and later placed in the Mitchell jail for safe keeping.

It is believed that the plan for the delivery had been in operation for the better. It was not a difficult matter to saw through the iron bars that held them captives.

Capture of a Coal Train.

Des Moines, Ia. Jan. 27. - The town of Stratford, 100 miles north of here, having a population of nearly 2,000, is greatly wrought up as the result of the arrest of more than thirty persons who held up a train and seized nearly twenty cars of coal. But little coal has been shipped to Stratford for many weeks and a severe fuel

Yesterday a Northwestern freight train of loaded coal cars passing through the town stopped for water. The train had no sooner came to a stop than the news spread like wild fire. Soon a mob of 500 people with wagons, baskets and coal scuttles were at the tracks, a car of coal was broken open and people were helping themselves. Of the train of twenty cars but a few tons remained when the raid was over.

The rail had company at once notified the sheriff, who immediately left Webster City for Stratford. He made between thirty and forty arrests. A high state of excitement prevails. The amount of coal taken was not much per person, but as a whole is sufficient to last the town
