Captain F. M. Dorrington, register of the land office at Alliance, died at his home after a brief ill-Wednesday night of last week. He had been a prominent man for a number of years in the republican party and was considered an old war horse. Besides being a prominent politician he was a man among his townsmen who numbered his friends almost as his acquaintances. Such character will be missed and mourned.

The Hancock Anderson Case

The case of David A. Hancock vs W. W. Anderson, growing out of the sale of the Dewey Lake Ranch, in before Judge Munger and a jury, last week. This suit was instituted in the District court of this county by Hancock, last September, but Major Brome and Burnett, of Omaha, transterred the case to the Federal court.

Hancock alleged that Major Anderson, in July, 1901, took him out and showed him over the ranch and told him that in the year 1900 he had cut two thousand five hundred tons or hay and that there was then growing on the ranch two thousand five hundred to three thousand tons of hay Hancock bought the ranch, cattle and machinery and Anderson agreed to for month beginning January 5, cut and stack all the hay there was Report of school district No. 50. | then growing on the premises and de-

All our farmer readers should take advantage of the unprecedented clubbing offer we this year make, which includes with this paper The Homestead, its Special Farmers' Institute Editions and The Poultry Farmer. These three publications are the best of their class and should be in every farm home. To them we add, for local, county and general news, our own paper, and make the price of the four one year only $1.25. Never before was so much superior reading matter offered for so small an amount of money. The three papers named, which we club with our own, are well tried in the Federal Court at Lincoln known throughout the West, and commend themselves to the reader's attention upon mere mention. The Home stead is the great agricultural and live stock paper of the West Anderson through his attorneys, The Poultry Farmer is the most practical poultry paper for the farmer, while the Specia! Farmers' Institute Editions are the most practical publications for the promotion of good farming ever published Take advantage of this great offer, as it wil hold good for a short time only.
