There are a few women in our land who would like to take the place of men and would rather do a man's work, leaving their own undone. They would like to be known as public benefactors while perhaps their own children suffer from neglect. You will find them in public places more than at their homes and they generally want their names to go down as leaders or they are not in it at all. Who of you that ever heard a hen try to crow that ever had the same degree of respect for her majesty?

Andrew Schatzthauer, of Wood Lake, was in town on business yesterday.

J. E. Cochran and family were in town this week from their ranch near Woodlake.

Dave Hanna was in town yesterday and made us a visit in the interest of the state fair.

Louis Smith started Monday for a visit in northwest Missouri to be gone three or four weeks.

Chas. Tackett is in town this week from the reservation trying to make a sale of some of his horses.

Mrs. J. E. and Inez Pettyerew returned this morning from Hot Springs, S. D., where they enjoyed a pleasant time.

S. F. Gilman came up last Saturday and took a ride out in the country with Mr. Cornell to see how the wheat was growing.

Mrs. W. P. Hunt came in last night from Joplin, Mo. to visit her sister Mrs. Simons and her mother Mrs. Razy for few weeks.

Mat House and family returned from a pleasant visit down in Missouri Tuesday night. Mat says crops are not as good down there this year as usual.

A telegram from Dr. Compton yesterday morning stated that Geraldine Tracewell had had a successful operation for throat trouble and was getting along nicely.

Mrs. Thackrey and daughter Miss Cora, Mrs. S. A. Rice, I. M. Rice and son Lawrence start tonight for Hot Springs, S. D., for a stay of a week or ten days.

An Indian girl belonging to Omaha Boy died last night between Norfolk and Valentine while returning from school at Flandreau, S. D. She died of tumor on the brain and was 13 years old. Her mother was here to meet her but had to procure a coffin in which to convey her daughter back to Rosebud.

There is considerable talk of where the postoffice ought to be. We are not complaining of its present location and believe it to be satisfactory to all the people in the town as a central point. If there is a political pull strong enough however, it could be abandoned entirely to please one or two persons. Our government is no longer a government for the people but for a few persons who have "a pull" as they call it, with some officer whom they can work or chooses to be worked.

Colorado Springs, July 13, '03. Ed Democrat:

Dear friend, I suppose an apology for writing would not be accepted and as "THE DEMOCRAT" is a great big letter to me each week I feel it my duty as well as pleasure to inform my friends through it something of my whereabouts and how things appear to me here. I am in Colorado Springs with my family and we are running a large restaurant, seating capacity, 50 people. Paxson has quit his place in the Colorado Fuel & Iron Works and has taken charge of the restaurant nights. Mrs. Hornback has care of the 11 rooms (in connection with restaurant) and she is improving in health with no sign of hay fever as yet and just now is away on a visit to her sisters near Rocky Ford, where the fruit is all killed by a late frost. This same frost nearly ruined the first crop of alfalfa. Has been a very backward spring. Sugar beets had to be planted over again. There is a sugar beet factory at Rocky Ford. Rocky Ford watermelons and muskmelons promise fair. Hail and frost do lots of damage here so that farming is a pretty hard proposition. At Colorado Springs we have good water and cool climate. We are very pleasantly located here, the Antler hotel park west of us and the mountains and Pikes Peak make a magnificent view. We hope some of our Valentine friends may happen out this way and come and see us. They may be sure of a welcome. Sending our best wishes to all our friends, We remain as ever,
J. A. HORNBACK.

Last Saturday night a great crowd of people collected in front of Perry William Commodore Cornelius Lawson's place to hear Mrs. Lawson relate her grievances to Marshal John Simpson whom she had called to arrest Mrs. William J. Dooley because the latter had called her "a mat headed black niggah." Mrs. Lawson would not stand it and wanted Mrs. Dooley run out en de town or she would break her neck so she would. Mrs. Dooley didn't want to be run out en de town by Mrs. Lawson and it was hard to tell by their talk which would succeed in convincing John that she was not to blame but John told them both to go in the house and keep still which they seemed reluctant to do. In fact John admits that he would rather take care of a dozen men than two women and thought the best thing he could do was to coax them to go back into their respective places of abode and "stop talkin about this 'ere thing." All agreed that John's diplomacy succeeded in averting a great danger but not before Dad Hershey had run a block to get a gun for his own personal protection. Both women seemed determined to have the last word and it kept John pretty busy going from one to the other quieting them down. At one stage of the game, Mr. Dooley, who is a tailor at the Post, having called his wife into Cohota's restaurant and admonished her to let the other woman alone, became so incensed at Mrs. Lawson's incessant abuse of his wife and the apparent hilarity of the crowd that he walked out and told Mrs. Lawson to shut up or he would poke his fist in her face. Mrs. Lawson was hurried into Perry's barber shop by the marshal and admonished to keep still. The trouble started when Mrs. Lawson had called her Rosina to "come away from dem trash" as she designated two girls with which she had been playing and also cast reflections on Mrs. Dooley who had been working for Mr. Cohota.

Junior Normal Notes

Miss Myrtle Bennett went to her home at Longpine Saturday morning and returned for work Monday.

Mr. Fisher, a representative of Belview college, visited the Normal Wednesday in the interest of his institution.

After chapel Wednesday morning the students and instructors assembled in front of the school building where Photographer Jennings took their picture.

Dean Fordyce, of the Wesleyan University, spoke to the students during chapel hour Friday and also in the afternoon. On Saturday evening he delivered a lecture in the M. E. church which was very much enjoyed by those who heard it.

It was announced at chapel last Friday morning that the students were to meet at Judge Walcott's armed with their rubber boots and from thence would go to the creek where Prof. MaGee would ferry them across. All were anticipating a fine boat ride until we arrived at the bank where we found Mr. Welsh's delivery wagon. Being hauled across was almost as nice as being rowed. After a good deal of scrambling, walking and climbing we found ourselves up on Lone Pine hill from where we returned to town by the mill. Many have expressed a desire that we might have some excursion of this kind every week.

Our county should be represented at the state fair this year. Farmers and stockmen who have fine grasses, tame or wild, that would make a good sample and representative of what can be grown in our county should confer with C. H. Cornell regrading it or any other product which could be sent from here as an exhibit. The State Fair will be held Sept. 4th to 11th. David Hanna, of Wood Lake, has charge of the exhibit of Class A of horses and mules which insures a recognition of the north-western part of the state and its resources.

We want news from all parts of the county. There is something happening in your locality that people would like to know. If you'll tell us, we'll tell them. Someone will be telling from each locality if someone will only respond. We furnish a copy of the paper free to the correspondent and will also pay postage and furnish stationery to a regular writer. Correspondence should reach this office Mondays and not later than Tuesdays to insure publication that week. Those living a great distance from a postoffice should mail their news any time from Friday to the next Monday or any time that it is convenient. We'll try to get it into the paper some time. We must know who our correspondents are, though will not publish your names unless you request it. Write us for further information or send us the news from your locality.

Notice To Delinquent Subscribers.

If there is anyone getting THE DEMOCRAT who does not want it, you have only to pay up what you owe and request us to discontinue.

If everything does not suit you, it may be that it suit somebody.

If nothing suits you, your liver may be out of order and you may need a doctor.

If your subscription is not paid up, you will feel better when you have paid.

We will also feel better to know that you think of us occasionally.

There are some who may think that we are sending the paper to keep up a big subscription list, and that they are doing us a favor by accepting it.

We are willing to cut down our list if you don't want to pay your subscription.

We want all the subscribers we can get, but want them to pay.

It costs money for postage and paper besides the work of printing, folding and mailing you these papers and you should bear your part of the expense if you want the news.

During the next month we hope to mail notices to many of you who have not paid recently and to all those outside Cherry county whose subscription is not paid in advance.

Please respond with the cash or tell us when you can pay.

Remember, subscription is $1.00 per year when paid in advance but $1.50 per year for subscriptions past due.

We realize that most of our subscribers who have neglected to pay have done so as an oversight, and will appreciate a reminder.

Mrs. Vaughn departed Thursday for a visit with friends in Cal.

W. S. Sleeth, representing the McCormick machines, is in town this week visiting their local dealer L. C. Sparks, of the Ludwig Lumber Co. Mr. Sparks tells us that they have sold two carloads of McCormick machines this summer and have sold two threshing machines this week. People buy McCormick machines because they do the work, wear longer and cost less than any other machine made.

The J. C. C. Corset, the best cheap corset made, at the Ladies' store. Mrs. Elmore.

Arthur Dunham, a son of Milt Dunham was kicked on the jaw by a horse last Friday at Chesterfield. He is in town doctoring this week.

Geo. D. Huggins, of Norden, came in last Friday from Omaha where he had been with four cars of cattle and topped the market with his steers for feeders. He made us a pleasant visit while in town and paid up in advance for THE DEMOCRAT.
