

GRATEFUL, HAPPY WOMEN

Miss Muriel Armitage

Thank Pe-ru-na for Their Recovery After Years of Suffering.

Miss Muriel Armitage, 36 Greenwood Ave., Detroit, Mich., District Organizer of the Royal Templars of Temperance, in a recent letter, says: "I think that a woman naturally shrinks from making her troubles public, but restored health has meant so much to me that I feel for the sake of other suffering women it is my duty to tell what Peruna has done for me."

"I suffered for five years with uterine irregularities, which brought on hysteria and made me a physical wreck. I tried doctors from the different schools of medicine, but without any perceptible change in my condition. In my despair I called on an old nurse, who advised me to try Peruna, and promised good results if I would persist and take it regularly. I thought this was the least I could do and procured a bottle. I knew as soon as I began taking it that it was affecting me differently from anything I had used before, and so I kept on taking it. I kept this up for six months, and steadily gained strength and health, and when I had used fifteen bottles I considered myself entirely cured. I am a grateful, happy woman to-day."—Miss Muriel Armitage.

Peruna cures catarrh of the pelvic organs with the same surety as it cures catarrh of the head. Peruna has become renowned as a positive cure for female ailments simply because the ailments are mostly due to catarrh. Catarrh is the cause of the trouble. Peruna cures the catarrh. The symptoms disappear.

Female Weakness Is Pelvic Catarrh.

Always Half Sick are the Women Who Have Pelvic Catarrh.

Catarrh of any organ, if allowed to progress, will affect the whole body. Catarrh without nervousness is very rare, but pelvic catarrh and nervousness go hand in hand.

What is so distressing a sight as a poor half-sick, nervous woman, suffering from the many almost unbearable symptoms of pelvic catarrh? She does not consider herself ill enough to go to bed, but she is far from being able to do her work without the greatest exhaustion. This is a very common sight and is almost always due to pelvic catarrh. It is worse than foolish for so many women to suffer year after year with a disease that can be permanently cured.

Peruna cures catarrh permanently. It cures old chronic cases as well as a slight attack, the only difference being in the length of time that it should be taken to effect a cure.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

Never use any one's comb and brush, or even their towel, and be sure you keep your hair brush scrupulously clean. Wash it weekly and let the bristles only, stand in cold water for a little time after washing as this will keep them firm and nice.

Ray had been taught how to gargle. A few weeks after, while at grandma's farm, he saw the chickens drinking. "O mamma," he shouted, "come here and see the chickens gargle their throats!"

The Uses of Honey.

Note that a very simple and yet efficacious remedy is honey.

Pharmacologists is greatly indebted to it, and veterinary surgeons often prescribe it for diseases of domestic animals.

Honey is one of the ingredients in the manufacture of gingerbread, and is very valuable to the pastry cook and confectioner.

For affections of the mouth, in aptha and thrush, it is used as a gargle, mixed with a little alum or borax.

For toothache the gums are rubbed with a mixture of honey and linseed, marsh-mallow root and tincture of saffron.

Mixed with vinegar it is a good gargle for sore throat.

It is prescribed in cases of phthisis, mixed with plantain—fir honey being preferably selected.

Many a man would have to take off his own hat to himself if he could only know what a great hero he is.

One trouble with the times is that the sounding brass and tinkling cymbal business is so much overdone.

By devoting his whole time to it an ordinary man can do an extraordinary amount of good.

The man who makes broad his specialties will never get enough out of it to pay for the stuff he puts in them.

The man who sets out to find something he can't see into will not have to go far enough to make his feet sore.

There are people who believe that if Jonah had been a Chicago man he would have swallowed the whale and kept it down.

Never fear but that as long as the world needs to be moved the Lord of hosts will keep on putting men into it who will have the power to move it.

It is as well, too, that the hair should be examined every now and then by a reliable hair dresser, and the dead, split, and broken ends cut off. It is always believed to be of much benefit to have the hair cut and singed after the washing.

HUMOR OF THE WEEK

STORIES TOLD BY FUNNY MEN OF THE PRESS.

Odd, Curious and Laughable Phases of Human Nature Graphically Portrayed by Eminent Word Artists of Our Own Day—A Budget of Fun.

Here's an account of a woman who committed suicide because her husband had died. said Growells, as he glanced up from his paper. "What do you think of that?"

"I think," answered Mrs. G., "that she married the one man in about 1,000,000,000."

Something in a Name.
Miss Dashaway—It was very good of you to name your automobile after me. By the way, what is it like?

Mr. Cashleigh—Well, it isn't a thing of beauty, but it's the fastest bunch of wheels that ever came down the boulevard.

Greek Meets Greek.
Merchant—Your references seem to be all right, and if you can put up $1,000 cash security you can have the job.

Applicant—Thank you, sir. But what security can you put up for my $1,000?

From Bad to Worse.
Patient—The heat is so oppressive, doctor, that I almost feel inclined to commit suicide.

Doctor—Tut, tut! That will never do. What you need is a change of climate.

Pushing Him Along.
"Would you mind pinning a flower in my coat when I go?" asked young DeBore.

"Certainly not," replied Miss Wear-yum. "It will afford me pleasure to do it at once."

A Man of His Word.
Mr. Nokoyne—I'll give you the money for a new hat next week.

Mrs. Nokoyne—But that's what you said last week.

Mr. Nokoyne—Yes, and I'm likely to say the same thing next week, too. I'm not the kind of a man who says one thing one week and another thing the next week.

An Open Secret.
The reason for embracing We need not seek afar; Men love to hug delusions— And girls deluged are.

As Defined.
"Say, mamma," queried little Mary Ellen, "what's a dead letter?"

"Any letter that is given to your father to mail, my dear," replied the wise mother.

Good Reason for His Pendant.
Hicks—Henpeck is very fond of entertaining, isn't he?

Wicks—Yes; his wife is always pleasant to him when there's company in the house.—Philadelphia Press.

His Reputation in Peril.
Tess—He's a gay Lothario. He tries to flirt with all the pretty girls in our street.

Jess—I've seen him trying to flirt with you, too.—Philadelphia Press.

The Bow-Wow.
This Mr. Wing-Wung of Hun-Chow Walked out with his little bow-wow.

"How nicely!" he said, "A dog may be led, Provided you only know how!"

The Way Out of It.
She—He can't bear to have girls get ahead of him.

He—Then why doesn't he stop running after them?—Harvard Lampoon.

Couldn't Trust Himself.
Bleeker—But if you and your wife are not congenial why don't you get a divorce?

Meeker—Because I'm afraid. Bleeker—What are you afraid of? Meeker—I'm afraid I might be fool enough to marry again.

Then He Went.
"Will you think of me when I'm gone?" asked the lovelorn youth, who seemed unable to tear himself from her presence.

On the Auto, of Course.
"I ran across old Hopkins in Boston yesterday."

"Casually?"

"No; fatally."—Harvard Lampoon.

Must Support the Family.

Dinah: "Look hyar, Sam, we done bin married fo' or five days now, doan' yo' reckon yo' bettah go out an' look fo' some wuck?" Sam: "Nebah mind 'bout dat yit, I'll find some wuck fo' yo' time 'nough, but I doan' want yo' ter 'tink ob washin' an' ironin' till de honeymoon an' past."—Philadelphia Press.

Why She Laughed.
"Bridget," said Mrs. Hyflyte, "your lady friend musn't stay so late hereafter. Her uproarious laughter woke me up at 1 o'clock this morning."

"Yis, mum, I was tellin' her about how you tried to make cake wan day."—Indianapolis Sun.

Had to Get Well Sometimes.
Martha—I meant to come to see you while you were sick, Mary.

Mary—Well, I couldn't stay sick all summer to oblige you.—Detroit Free Press.

A Natural Question.
"I took medicine all the time, but for a long time I was more dead than alive. Altogether I suffered for over twenty years, and I believe I would have been suffering yet, or in my grave, if I had not read of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I got an almanac which told me of this remedy, and I bought some of it. I started with three pills a day, but increased the dose to six pills a day. I had not used many till my pains began to disappear. I kept on, and now I can sleep and eat as well as ever I could, and I feel like a new man with no pains or aches left."

"I will always recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills for they are a wonderful remedy."

A Necessity.
It was in a German household, according to a Berlin paper, that a mother said to her small boy:

"Johnny, go down to the grocer's and get a pound of black tea."

"But, mother—"

"What?"

"You know father won't drink black tea."

"That makes no difference. This family is in mourning now, and it has got to drink black tea."

One Wealthy Inva'id.
"How much is he worth?"

"Six millions."

"And how does he enjoy life?"

"Well, the doctors say that if he's very careful with himself he'll be able to sit up and make his will one of these days!"—Atlanta Constitution.

The Way to Civil Service.
Tite—There's only one way to get civil service.

Jens—How's that?

Tite—Why, make the tip a big one.—Pennsylvania Punch Bowl.

Deadly Insult.
Tiredout Walker—You seem so nervous, Willie, what's the matter?

Willie Weariness—I've been insulted. That man back there said I was working for him, mind you, he said "working."

He Had a Great Name.
Miss De Style—By the way, count it is very awkward, but I do not know your name.

Russian Count—Would you like to hear it?

"Most certainly."

"Den, if you haf ten minutes to spare sit down and I will tell it to you."—London Tit-Bits.

Keeping Tab.
"You should sleep on right side, madam."

"I really can't do it, doctor; my husband talks in his sleep, and I can't hear a thing with my left ear."—Tower Topics.

Bored to Death.
Tess—Gracious! You're as cross as two sticks this morning.

Jess—No wonder. That's what I had calling on me last night.

Tess—What?

Jess—Two sticks.—Phila. Press.

Poor Boy!
"Your new brother is the eleventh child in the family, is he not?" asked the caller.

"Yes, ma'am," said the little girl.

"Have you named him yet?"

"I think we're going to name him Jerusalem. That's what papa called him when he was born."—Chicago Tribune.

Recovering From the Delusion.
Roundleigh Towne—Do you believe in art for art's sake?

Cashleigh Splash—I had to for a while, but I'm getting orders now all right.—New York Sun.

A Maidenly Amenity.
The spinster showed her visitor a beautiful hand-made lace collar and said proudly: "This is over fifty years old."

"It is beautiful," purred the girl.

"Did you make it, dear?"—New York Press.

In our mind a fat horse is always associated with a good farmer.

A married man who tries to flirt, is about as ridiculous as a woman who tries to be coy after she has reached the double-oh period.

They tell of a woman who had always been free with her tongue, until a "story" struck near home, and now she is wondering that people are not more "charitable."

An Old Soldier's Experience.
Dennard, Ark., Sept. 7.—Mr. E. J. Hicks, merchant of this place, has written for publication an account of a personal experience, which is very interesting.

"I am an old Federal soldier," writes Mr. Hicks, "and shortly after the close of the war I was taken sick. I had aches and pains all over me, fluttering of the heart and stomach trouble. I just simply was never a moment without pain. I could not sleep at night, and I was always tired and fearfully weak."

"I took medicine all the time, but for a long time I was more dead than alive. Altogether I suffered for over twenty years, and I believe I would have been suffering yet, or in my grave, if I had not read of Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"I got an almanac which told me of this remedy, and I bought some of it. I started with three pills a day, but increased the dose to six pills a day. I had not used many till my pains began to disappear. I kept on, and now I can sleep and eat as well as ever I could, and I feel like a new man with no pains or aches left."

Some One There.
On one occasion, when Alexander Dumas was at the height of his prosperity, a friend ventured to say to him:

"Come, come, Dumas, you ought not to go on forever throwing money out of the window."

"Why not?" he asked, with eyes wide open.

"Wasted?" said Dumas. "Not at all. There's always somebody under the window to pick it up!"

Art Note.
Fair Lady (with large conversational aperture) Can't you make the mouth a little smaller? Photographer—Great Scott! do you want a picture without any mouth at all? I've pared it down three inches already.

DOCTOR SAID
"Quit Wrong Food and Eat Grape-Nuts."

An Illinoisian who has been through the mill says: "Last spring I was so bad with indigestion I could not digest even soft cooked eggs and doctor said I must eat predigested food and prescribed Grape-Nuts. I changed for the better before I had used one package, eating it three times a day."

"My improvement on Grape-Nuts food was so wonderful that I concluded to use your food drink Postum in place of tea, and to make a long story short, I have not been without Grape-Nuts and Postum since, and my present health proves my doctor's wisdom in prescribing Grape-Nuts. I have got strong as a horse and well, and I owe it all to your delicious food and Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

In the making of Grape-Nuts food all the indigestible starches of the grain are transformed into Post sugar. Every particle of Grape-Nuts is digestible in the weakest stomach. Physicians have never found a stomach too weak to digest and assimilate it.
