THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 16, 1905.

It seems that W. R. Hearst was the peoples choice for mayor of New York and we sincerely hope that his contest of the election returns of that city will insure to the people a fair and impartial verdict now and hereafter.

A man, who on the election board as judge, would steal a vote properly marked, under the pretext of trying to read the voter's mind to the contrary, also would rob others of their vote who had plainly shown their intentions but failing to mark properly, is a rascal and in secret, we believe, he would not hesitate at greater criminal action.

Sneering at Mr. Bryan's "Advice."

That fine old republican newspaper, the Chicago Tribune, says: "Mr. Bryan can give more advice and see less of it followed than any man now before the public."

It is not necessarily a reflection upon a man that his advice is not followed; but Mr. Bryan cannot complain on that score just now; and certainly the Chicago Tribune is not justified in a boast.

Mr. Bryan has lived to see many of the policies he favored warmly advocated by those who, a few years ago, as warmly opposed them.

Mr. Bryan has advised the election of senators by the people, and today men of all parties are committed to that plan.

He has advised arbitration in the settlement of labor difficulties, and in one notable instance the gentlemen elected to the office of president as a republican rendered distinguished service to his countrymen by acting upon that plan.

He has advised that the free pass is a great and growing evil, and today men of all political parties condemn the free pass system.

He has advised that public sentiment set itself rigidly against campaign contributions by corporations, and today that question occupies a conspicuous place in the attention of the American people.

He has advised that the quantitative theory of money is correct; and this, the foundation of all arguments made in behalf of bimetalism is now conceded by the very men who vigorously condemned it in 1896.

He has urged the enforcement of the criminal clause of the Sherman anti-trust law, and—after many years of waiting—the government's law officers, acting under the president's instruction, caused the arrest and prosecution of the members of the beef trust.

He has urged the enactment of stringent laws providing for publicity in the affairs of corporations, and the president, elected as a republican, has had much to say in advocacy of that method.

He has advised that corporations be required to show clean hands before being permitted to do business outside of the state of their origin, and that before such corporations could engage in interstate business they be required to obtain a federal license. The republican administration is now squarely on record in favor of that plan.

He has urged that tariff laws be amended by putting the products of trusts upon the free list in order to prevent monopoly under the plea of protection; and a considerable number of distinguished republicans are today publicly advocating that plan, while the rank and file of the party, if permitted to speak, would unquestionably give their sanction to it.

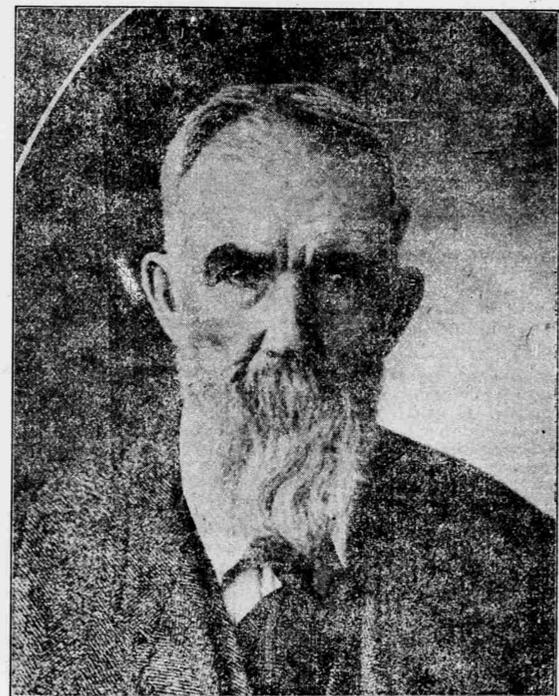

He has advised the enlargement of the powers of the interstate commerce commission to the end that individuals and communities might be protected from discriminations and from unjust transportation rates; and today that is the most conspicuous reform for which the president, elected as a republican, stands

Republican editors tread on dangerous ground when, in the light of present-day happenings, they undertake to call Mr. Bryan to account for the character of "advice" he has given.—The Commoner.

Hon. Judge W. R. Towne.
Re-elected County Judge of Cherry County.

To My Friends.

The official canvass of the vote for county treasurer shows that I have been defeated by five votes. I have been urged by some to bring a contest and demand a recount of the votes, but, while there may be errors here and there, there is nothing unfair. The result represents the will of the majority and I am willing to abide the decision.

Though defeated I appreciate none the less the loyalty of my party associates. They did good work for the ticket and for me, and I shall ever remember them. But I want to thank personally every republican who voted for me. It was not a question of party loyalty with them—it was a matter of good fellowship. I am especially proud of the vote received in my home precinct and the precincts adjacent, where I was known. I realize that it represents the vote not alone of my party but a great many republicans, and to all I want to express my sincerest thanks.

ERNEST B. QUIBLE.

The democrats had a celebration last Friday night in honor of the election of P. F. Simons for sheriff and Judge W. R. Towne as county judge. At that time the reports from all the precincts also indicated that Mr. Quible was elected county treasurer. A big bonfire was built on the Davenport corner and the Valentine band came out and played while the fire lasted, after which the big crowd that had collected scattered, some going home while others went up to the ball where a free dance was given in honor of the successful candidates. Music was furnished by the Valentine orchestra and everybody seemed to feel happy. Judge Towne and his wife came up and were seated at one end of the hall while Mr. Simons took a seat at the side. The merry dancers soon began and it is said to have been the biggest and jolliest crowd that ever danced in the hall. Some danced who were not in the habit of dancing and all seemed merry and gay. Meantime oysters, coffee and sandwiches were being served at the Home Bakery which is owned by the Donohoe sisters and a constant stream of people kept them busy until after midnight, all expenses of the same being borne by the democratic campaign committee and a few others who voluntarily contributed. It is said to be the biggest jubilee demonstration ever held in Valentine.

Reports from the different precincts indicated the election last week as we went to press of E. B. Quible for county treasurer by 1 majority, but this was changed by the official canvass of the votes which gave W. D. Armstrong 5 majority. Several precincts which polled but few votes might have changed this result to a victory for Mr. Quible had they taken an interest in the campaign. When the votes were counted and it was found only six votes were needed it seems they might have been had in the smallest precinct.
