More Local.

The Kapa Paha News has suspended publication.

Mrs. A. Steele and daughter were down from Cody Monday.

A. B. Overman of Crookston, spent a couple of days in town this week.

Frank Fischer is still having considerable trouble with his throat and a bad cold.

Presiding Elder Julian conducted quarterly meeting at the M. E. church last Sunday.

John Jones, who has been employed in the Club feeding stables the past two weeks, is sick of typhoid fever.

Wm. Allen and wife, from down the Niobrara, were in town last Saturday. Mr. Allen is enjoying better health lately.

Daniel Adamson is in town this week attending court as a juror, and remembered the editor with a $ for advance subscription.

P. C. Butler, manager of the Oak Creek store on the reservation, was in town over Sunday and attended church and Epworth League.

P. J. Rademan, manager of the Papillion Times, shot himself at the Arcade hotel Tuesday night on account of ill health. He left a letter to his wife explaining his act.

Johnny Grooms' four-horse team got away from him in town last week and ran around the block, breaking off the hydrant at the corner of Catherine and Cherry streets. James Bradshaw ran after the team at this corner and succeeded in stopping them.

The U. S. weather report for the week ending Nov. 22, 1905, shows the mean temperature was 43°, being 11° higher than the normal. The extremes of temperature were respectively 72° on the 16th and 24° on the 19th, a range of 48°. The month of November to date shows a gain of 177° in temperature as compared with the normal. The precipitation for the week was .00. A light shower this morning, 23rd, gives .04 of an inch. The winds have been but little above normal.

A man, who gave his name as Jack Dempsey, coming in here from the west recently, hired a saddle horse at Shepard's livery barn last Saturday night to ride a short distance out of town and upon his not returning in an hour or so as he claimed, suspicion was aroused and upon inquiry it was learned that he had gone south. Wm. Shepard and Will Morgan started in pursuit and followed him across the county but taking another road, passed him near Brownlee and went on to Bedford. They returned yesterday but expect to yet capture their man.

Court is in session this week with Judge Westover of Rushville on the bench and J. D. Scott court reporter. The case of the state vs Craig and Rash, charged with the murder of Elijah Custard, was called up Tuesday morning. At 2:30 in the afternoon the jury was selected and the taking of testimony began. Only two witnesses were examined Tuesday. The testimony was all in by 3:30 p. m. yesterday and the lawyers began their pleas which lasted until six o'clock by agreement when Judge Westover gave his instructions to the jury and they went to their room to deliberate. This morning their decision was given, finding Wm. Craig and Wm. Rash guilty of the murder of Elijah Custard in the second degree. The county attorney was assisted in the prosecution by Capt. Fischer of Chadron and the defense was ably conducted by Morrissey & Walcott. It is the belief that Judge Westover will give Craig the longer sentence since he was the party who did the shooting and is considered the more desperate of the two. It is regretted that the jury did not find Craig and Rash guilty of murder in the first degree and fix the sentence of Craig. Cherry county men should have the courage of their convictions and should not when placed upon a jury shirk a duty that falls to their lot to execute. These murders can only be stopped and the stains rubbed from Cherry county sands by proper convictions. As we go to press the murder trial of the state vs Louie Wilson and Clarence Frazier is being tried. Peter Ladeaux pleaded guilty to stealing J. R. Ayers' horses and was sentenced to three years in the pen. Several other criminal cases were dismissed.

SCHOOL NOTES.

By Margaret Quigley. Clara Dunham.

MY ANGEL MOTHER.

I lay on my bed one evening, A watching the stars in the sky; I lay there sadly dreaming, Of another's home on high.

I seemed to see her standing In robes so pure and white; And round her head was gleaming A halo of golden light.

It came to mind these days of yore When I was but a child; As she before our cottage door Watched all our gambols wild.

And when night in gliding beauty Came swiftly o'er the hills; She heard our prayers of duty And smiled our fancied ills.

But I on earth no more shall hear That sweet voice call for me; But mother dear I hope to share That happy home with thee. —BESSIE SCHIFFERS.

The fifth grade are reviewing Eurasia this week.

Frank Wilson is out of school on account of sickness.

Bessie Morgan is out of school on account of sickness.

AN OPEN LETTER.

A clergyman, who wishes his name withheld, after seeing "The Man of The People" wrote to a friend as follows: "The Man of The People" causes a flood of reminiscent memories, as sweet as a peaceful dream. It took me back to the good wholesome plays which the young generation of theatre-goers know too little of, the plays on which we built an early devotion to the stage. Those were the times when Elsie Ellsler played 'Hazel Kirke,' 'Minnie Maden,' 'Caprice' and Lottie and Maggie Mitchell caused honest tears to flow like April Showers thro happy smiles—in the dear childhood's day of play going, before those harrowing offspring of the 'advance' drama which are showing youngsters nowadays the forbidden side of life I call 'The Man of The People' a model play, inasmuch as it provides four acts of the most dramatic material relieved by abundant humor.

"It's as harmless as a child's primer and its story is told with such purity. It leaves no bad flavor, no bitterness, no thought of morbid condition of life. Yet it is thrilling at times as anything Sardou has given the stage. A play that merits 15 to 20 curtain calls must be one to stir their emotion to the depths, and that is what this play did last night."

The Keeney Stock Company will open a three nights engagement at the Valentine Opera House on Monday, Nov. 27. The opening bill will be "The Man Of The People." There will be an entire change of bill nightly.
