The World at Our Fountain

Most all parts of the world contribute to the excellence of our soda, but most of its inhabitants never drank anything so delicious. It's our choice of materials that counts for so much. Mexico, Sicily, Tahiti, Hawaii and numerous remote islands send their choicest products. But one of the most important items is purely American—ice cream. Our ice cream is so rich and delicious and we use plenty of it in our Ice cream Soda.

C. L. DOTSON, Valentine, Neb.

It is our painful duty to record the death of Frank W. Sawyer, who died on Sunday evening, May 13, 1906. Frank was taken ill five weeks ago with spinal meningitis. Dr. Empey was called and had attended him constantly. His mother, being a physician, was in constant attention at his bedside and everything was done that medical skill could accomplish, but he gradually sank away till death ended his suffering. Frank was born in Sparks, Neb., Jan. 21, 1892, and was in his 15th year. Five years ago Mr. Sawyer moved to Torrington, where Frank has lived since. Always a quiet, peaceable, innocent boy, he seemed older than his years would indicate. He was a great help to his parents, always busy when not in school about his home and the store and so trustworthy. * * *

The above obituary is copied from the Gering, (Neb.) Courier. Many of our readers will remember the above deceased as the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer who conducted a store at Sparks and who moved from here several years ago

Penbrook Quills.

A bill book containing letters addressed to C. E. Peterson was left at the Penbrook postoffice by Roy Kuskie.

C. W. Hamar and wife went to Mr. Polen's Monday. Mr. Polen is slightly improved, but is yet seriously ill.

A RANCHMAN'S COMPLAINT.

When all the girls are teachers, Stenographers and preachers, Photographers and printers, Doctors, lawyers, even sprinters, O, who will cook our dinners? For men must eat; the sinners!

And when sickness binds the mother, And our fears we have to smother; Have to strive with the house-keeping, Strive with cooking, washing, sweeping,

And the little children weeping, While black despair comes creeping;

Comes the girl of health and muscle, Who can get around and hustle; Who can lift the housewife's burden; Whose kindness wins a guerdon Of love and admiration From the wise ones of the nation.

She can make the bread and butter, She can wash and sweep—to utter All her praises I'm not able; But to sit down to the table, You will say, may Heaven bless her! And the children all caress her.

When she softly sings to baby, The sweet thought comes that may be You can win her for your treasure, And your joy have full measure In the home you plan to build And your heart with hope is thrilled.

She's accomplished and so pretty, She's so modest and so witty; There's few like her in this region. I would her name were legion; This sweet girl of health and muscle With no use for pads or bustle. E'en yet you'll find her here and there, May God defend her everywhere.

Of school-ma'ams there's a plenty, From sweet sixteen to twenty; And of typist and of clerk Who, house work calmly shirk; We've enough and some to spare, You'll find THEM everywhere.

EAGLE.
