Now is the time to look over your stoves. If you are going to need a Furnace, a Base Burner, a Heater, a Range or anything in the stove line do not fail to look up the following. It means dollars to you. We carry a complete line of Peninsular Base Burners, Heaters and Ranges, a line of stoves made upon honor. There are scores of them in use right in your own community, and everyone speaks praises for the entire line. Their make up includes all the latest improvements in the stove line.

Talk of the Town.

W. F. A. Meltendorff is going to auction off his cattle on Oct. 29. Read his sale ad in this paper.

Edward Lewis of Wood Lake was in town last Saturday and subscribed for THE DEMOCRAT.

Walther Meltendorff sold his two-year-old steers for $36.20 each last week. They averaged 1040 pounds.

Since putting in a notice last week, James Lawless and his wife have become reconciled and are living happily together again.

Rev. J. Robert Beale has been called as pastor of the Presbyterian church and is expected to be here the first Sunday in November.

H. H. Knott, who has been visiting with his wife at George Harden's, departed this morning for his home at Wyncote, Wyo.

John Porath was caught in town as also many others during the recent storm and remained waiting for the snow to settle or melt.

Albert H. Metzger stopped in town Monday on his return from Omaha and has been here during the storm, meeting friends and getting acquainted.

Hear Everett Kemp Saturday night at the opera house, presenting the beautiful story, "Seven-oaks," and the delightful romantic drama, "If I Were King."

D. J. Drebert, special agent of the German Mutual Ins. Co., came in this morning from the west and tells us that the snow was about as deep there as here but is drifted worse.

Married at the M. E. parsonage Friday Oct. 19th. Geo. D. Hancock of Penbrook, Nebr., and Miss Amy Marriott of Walworth, Wisconsin. Rev. C. E. Connell officiating.

Hon. C. J. Smyth was in town Tuesday but on account of the storm the public meeting was declared off and the following day he returned to Omaha cancelling all dates West.

Johnnie House had his face and eyes badly hurt by the explosion of a shot gun shell last Sunday which had missed fire and he was attempting to remove it when the explosion nearly took the top of his head off. It is doubtful if he will recover his eye sight.

George Dodson broke jail Wednesday evening by sawing or filing the bars off a window enough to admit his body and crawled out while Mike Clynes was at supper. He is charged with stealing a team and wagon from an Indian at Crookston, about four weeks ago. He is now at large.

There are several cases of diphtheria in town and parents should be careful to keep their children out of the snow, keep their feet warm and if they have a cold begin to doctor for it immediately. This will not keep them from coming in contact with those having the disease which is epidemic and may spread regardless of your caution, but it may lessen the severity of a case. The epidemic seems to be in other parts of the country as well as here.
