SIX KILLED AND MANY INJURED
AT LOS ANGELES.

Special Carrying University Students
Home from Field Meet Collides with Regular Train on Santa Fe—Several Injured Will Die.

A special train on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad, carrying scores of students home from an intercollegiate field meet at Claremont, Cal., collided head-on with the out-bound limited No. 2, on the same road, while both trains were moving at a rapid rate, within the city limits of Los Angeles, Saturday night. Six persons were killed and seventeen injured, several of them fatally.

Both engines, one of the baggage cars on the overland limited and the smoker on the special were demolished. The crash was terrific and was heard many blocks away from the scene. The known dead: C. G. Franklin, student at University of Southern California; A. H. Edwards, J. C. Gail, Fred Hodgson.

Workers at the wreck stated Sunday that they were convinced there were at least two additional bodies under the wreckage of the smoker.

The collision occurred in that part of Los Angeles river bed occupied by the Santa Fe tracks and directly beneath the Buena Vista street bridge.

MAY MEAN LOSS TO HEIRS.

Disposition of Big Estate Involved in Disappearance of Mail Pouch.

Unless the registered mail stolen from a pouch on the ship La Savoie in January is recovered it may mean the loss of an estate valued at $1,000,000 to the beneficiaries of a will sent to France for probate. Under the provisions of the will the estate, or a large part, is said to have been left to other than the legal heirs. The will was drawn by the late Charles Rubens, a Frenchman by birth, but who came to America, where he amassed a fortune. He died in Paris last summer, and his will, which was in the custody of the law firm of Couderc Bros., of New York, was forwarded to France in the registered mail that went aboard on the La Savoie. It is said there are numerous claimants for the estate and that unless there is a certified copy of the will in existence the estate will be distributed as if the testator had died intestate.

Woman Testifies for Her Husband, Who Shot Physician.

In the trial now proceeding at Carthage, Mo., of Arthur Sanderson for the killing of Dr. Solomon D. Meredith, the Sanderson family physician, on January last, Mrs. Sanderson, testifying for the defense said:

"Dr. Meredith began his advances toward me one day when he was called to the house to attend one of the children. Later he stroked my head, and took hold of my hand. I pulled away from him; then he grasped me with both hands. I was standing by a chair in his office, and he took me around the waist and pressed me to him and said, 'I love you.' I protested and asked him to think of his wife and my husband, and said it would be something awful if anybody found out what he had done. I was helpless to resist him."

BACK FROM PANAMA.

Congressmen Well Pleased with the Progress of Canal Work.

Thirty-nine congressmen who have been inspecting work on the isthmian canal arrived in New York Saturday on the steamer Panama. Congressman S. C. Smith, of California, said:

"We were delighted with all we saw. They are taking out from 30,000 to 31,000 cubic yards of dirt a day, with an average of about 30,000 cubic yards a month."

"There are now estimated 52,000,000 cubic yards to dig out, so you can work it out for yourself. There are 35,000 men on the pay roll, of which 5,000 are Americans."

"We did not see a single Chinaman at work on the canal. We found the feeling was against their employment. The only ground of complaint we found was that possibly the food was not all that might be desired. This is, of course, accounted for by the great heat."

Capt. Koehler was charged with using disrespectful language in an appeal from the action of Gen. Wood, who reprimanded Capt. Koehler for making charges against Maj. Scott, commanding officer at the Jolo military post and civil governor of Jolo, and was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman in making unfounded and malicious statements regarding his commanding officer, and with insubordination.

The first court-martial sentenced him to be reprimanded and the second court-martial, on which Friday's action was based, acquitted him.

The president's order follows: "The White House, Washington, D. C.—The proceedings, findings and acquittal in the case of Capt. Lewis M. Koehler, Fourth cavalry, United States army are disapproved. I entirely concur in all that the secretary of war says of Capt. Koehler, and of Gen. Wood, and of the poor showing made by the court which last passed on the case. Theodore Roosevelt."

German Sharp Makes It Work Distance of Two Miles.

Count Arco, of Berlin, in his wireless telephone experiments, has succeeded in obtaining distinct exchanges of words in a tolerably natural voice at a distance of two miles by using poles thirty feet high. Rear Admiral Manny, who was a delegate of the United States to the International conference on wireless telegraphy at Berlin, and Lieut. Commander Howard, U. S. N., the United States naval attaché there, were present at a series of private exhibitions of the wireless telephone apparatus, and have been able to talk with each other at a distance somewhat less than three miles. But the best practical results are attained at two miles or under, with thirty-foot poles.

BABEL AT PRETORIA.

Confusion of Tongues at the Opening of Parliament.

The first parliament of the Transvaal under the newly granted constitution met at Pretoria Thursday morning in the hall in which the late President Kruger presided for so many years over the sittings of the upper volksraad of the erstwhile South African republic. The stage setting was the same as in the old days of the dutch republic, but the characters in the drama were a mixture of British imperialists and burghers. A large crowd assembled in front of the house of parliament, where two regiments of British infantry were drawn up. For the benefit of the throng the members of the lower house took the oath on the historic balcony where it was the custom of President Kruger to deliver his biblical exhortations when sworn into the presidency.

In the upper chamber the earl of Selbourne, the high commissioner, who was in full uniform and attended by his military and personal staff, was seated on the throne, flanked by black gowned judges and foreign consuls.

Lord Selbourne ordered the members of the lower house to retire and elect a speaker. As soon as they had assembled in their hall a language controversy sprang up, the Afrikaners persisting in the use of Dutch.

Mr. Hofmeyer took the chair and, speaking in English, explained the method of electing a speaker, whereupon Gen. Schalkburger, the former vice president of old times, shouted: "Speak Dutch."

The general's interruption was greeted with cheers by the Boers, and Hofmeyer complied, finishing his explanation in Dutch.

BREAKS OIL MONOPOLY.

Standard Oil Hit by Decision of Oklahoma Official.

The monopoly of the Standard Oil company in the sale of kerosene for illuminating purposes in Oklahoma has been broken by an opinion by W. O. Cromwell, the territorial attorney general. Mr. Cromwell holds that the territory has power to prescribe such flash tests as afford safety to consumers, but that the legislature has no authority to regulate the quality of any article of merchandise shipped into the territory and bought by the people. The restrictions which the attorney general's opinion remove are contained in the act of the legislature of 1902. When in Washington several weeks ago Gov. Frantz submitted the law and his proposal to James Garfield, secretary of the interior. Secretary Garfield said that his impression was that the law was in valid.

JAPAN WANTS ISLANDS.

May Have Trouble in Keeping the Philippines.

United States Senator William J. Stone, in the course of a speech in Kansas City Tuesday night, said:

"If we are ever to have serious trouble with any nation it will be Japan. Japan wants the Philippines. I am not sure whether it would not be best for all concerned if she should get them, but one thing is certain, she will never get them with our consent. But we may have trouble in keeping them. Japan could seize the archipelago in a week, and we could only send over a big enough fleet to wipe Japan from the sea. That would be a costly task."

CASE IN COURT MANY YEARS.

More Than Quarter Century of Litigation Over a Small Farm.

The "Schellenberg case," which in some form or other has been pending in the various courts of this state for twenty-seven years, came on for trial at Fremont on its merits before Judge Reeder.

The original action was begun by T. Uehling, guardian of Katherine Kaulbach, an incompetent person, to set aside a deed to eighty acres of land near Scribner to Anna Schellenberg on the ground of fraud. Plaintiff had judgment and the supreme court affirmed the case in 1882. Since then there have been injunctions, replevin suits and various other proceedings and over twenty different attorneys have at times been employed. The land was not at that time valuable, and it is claimed the Schellenbergs got a good share of the crops and are now claiming adverse possession. The present actions were begun in 1898 by B. Monich and H. von Seggren, who had acquired title from the Kaulbach heirs, and they obtained a judgment, which was later reversed. Mrs. Schellenberg, who is now quite old, is under guardianship.

When the case came up it was found a quantity of the voluminous files in the different cases were missing. A part of these were afterwards found. There is a number of witnesses present, including two who testified at the trial in October, 1881.

CAN CUT RAILROAD RATES.

Bill Giving Commission Power is Sent to the Governor.

In the senate Wednesday morning the bill empowering the Nebraska railway commission to lower railroad rates was passed by a vote of 31 to 0. It will now go to the governor. The commission has power to alter the schedules after giving the railroads a hearing and after publishing the new rates for thirty days.

The senate passed the Burn pure food bill. The measure requires, among other things, that all packages be labeled with the net weight.

On two test votes the house declared itself in favor of the railroad terminal taxation bill and finally just before adjournment it was reported to the house by the committee of the whole. Friends of the bill say it is equivalent to making it a law and it has passed the senate and Gov. Sheldon favors it. It is admitted, however, that the vote on final passage in the house will be close.

OMAHA COAL MEN TO JAIL.

President of the Exchange to Serve Six Months.

Judge Sutton, in the district court at Omaha, sentenced Samuel E. Howell, president of the Omaha Coal Exchange, to six months in the county jail and to pay a fine of $1,000 and costs.

Howell was convicted of violating the Nebraska anti-trust law in connection with the regulation of coal prices in the city of Omaha.

Howell's attorneys made a plea for suspension of the sentence, but the court declared he should be given the treat of an ordinary criminal, and remanded him to the custody of the sheriff, who at once took him to the county jail.

Panic Ties Up Power Canal.

SUICIDE OF HASTINGS GAMBLER.

Joshua F. Wright Takes Own Life,
Ending Sensational Career.

By sending a bullet through his brain, Joshua F. Wright, a gambler, widely known in Nebraska, Colorado and Texas, recently took his own life and ended a career full of sensational episodes. He died sitting in a chair in the Lindell hotel at Hastings, while his wife, a bride of a few months, was waiting at home for him to return from what she supposed was to be a brief business errand down town.

It was in Hastings that Wright, six years ago, figured in a spectacular ministerial raid of all the gambling houses that had been in operation there for years. The clergymen, in the prosecution of a vigorous reform crusade, employed detectives from Lincoln and Omaha to assist them in driving the gamblers out of business. Wright had come to Hastings from Texas some years previous to this and was reputed to be one of the boldest and most daring gamblers in the country. In Wright's establishment was found a complete layout of gambling devices, and all were electrically equipped in such a way as to entirely eliminate the element of chance upon the part of the house. The apparatus was seized, carted to the court house square, and there a few days later burned in the presence of one of the largest crowds ever assembled in Hastings.

President F. S. Perdue, of Madison county, to whose untiring efforts the enthusiasm of the approaching meeting is largely due, estimates that the association meeting will be larger this year than it has ever been before, and he expects 500 pedagogues or more in Norfolk.

Among the special features will be a declamatory contest in which 23 aspirants for honors will take part. Senator Dolliver, of Iowa, will be there one night.

South Omaha has a new police board, by appointment of Gov. Sheldon, made up of Wesley P. Adkins, A. H. Murdock and W. C. Lambert. The new board, consisting of three members, will succeed the old board, consisting of four members, which has been ousted by the enactment of a law passed by Gibson and signed by the governor. The bill provides for immediate appointment and the governor therefore commissioned the new members at once in order to prevent a hiatus in the police government of the Magic City. The bill prohibits more than two of the members being chosen from the same political party, and as consequence Adkins and Murdock go in as Republicans and Lambert as a Democrat. Adkins is in the livery business and formerly served in the city council, having also been the unsuccessful Republican nominee for mayor in the last city election. Murdock's last position was that of deputy county attorney under Judge Slabaugh, and Lambert was once city attorney in South Omaha. The bill makes the mayor an ex-officio member and presiding officer of the board, but without any vote in participation of the duties. Gov. Sheldon also signed the bill increasing the salaries of the captains of the Omaha police department to $125 a month. This will give them an increase of $15, as they were now paid to be getting $110. The bill fixes $125 a month as a minimum and leaves it to the police board, should it so desire, and funds permit in the future to increase the pay further up to a maximum of $150 a month.

Don C. Despain, chief clerk of the bureau of labor, a candidate for a state office and chief press bureau worker for Senator Norris Brown during the last campaign, Tuesday afternoon became the central figure in one of the most exciting legislative scandals in the history of the state. Representative McMullen stated that Despain had written him a threatening letter. The missive hinted at revelations concerning McMullen's alleged immoral actions unless the latter refrained from working against the allowance of Despain's salary. On McMullen's motion this item had been stricken from the appropriation bill. McMullen declared he would do his duty, despite threats. He demanded an inquiry. A committee took evidence Tuesday evening. Despain admitted that he had no proof for his insinuations against McMullen's character, and the committee voted to report a resolution of censure, blaming Despain and exonerating McMullen. Gov. Mickey accused Despain of political activity and neglect of official duty. He advised abolishing the office. McMullen acted in accordance with the recommendation in the governor's biennial message. Several rumors of misconduct of members have been floating around, but McMullen has not been suspected of any wrongdoing. It was stated that Gov. Sheldon would not reappoint Despain.

Dr. Young, superintendent of the Norfolk insane hospital, with regard to an attack in an Omaha paper from a former employee, issued this statement: "My attention has been called to the article in an Omaha paper headed 'Neglect Charge.' The article written by a discredited employee, shows upon its face its malicious intent and requires no reply. I have forwarded the article to Gov. Sheldon together with a refutation of the contained charges, and have asked for an investigation. I am responsible to Gov. Sheldon for the proper conduct of this institution and stand ready at all times to have a thorough examination made into the affairs of the hospital. A committee of seventeen members of the present legislature visited the hospital some six weeks ago and their favorable report bespoke no such condition as described in the article. Should you wish more detailed information, I am sure that you will find ready access to it in the governor's office. Newspaper men are invited to visit the hospital and every opportunity will be given to aid them in arriving at a correct knowledge of the conditions."

The street railway companies will have an inning before the senate this week. It is believed an attempt will be made to change the railway commission bill before final passage to cut out street railways from the jurisdiction of the commission. But in addition to this there is the Burns bill, which Lincoln and Omaha street railway men declare would almost amount to a confiscation of their property if it became a law. It not only places the street railways under the jurisdiction of the commission, but it requires competing roads in the same city to allow the cars of all companies to run over their tracks under such conditions as the commission may impose. It also requires an exchange of transfers by different roads. The bill also makes it easier for new roads to get franchises to operate.

The advent of the youngest Miss Cone into this world of good times and smiles was duly made of record in the house when a motion was made to congratulate the father, the gentleman from Saunders. Speaker Nettleton said make it unanimous by a rising vote and this was done with a hearty shout.
