IN IMMUNITY BATH

E. H. HARRIMAN GIVEN TREATMENT AT WHITE HOUSE.

To Begin Prosecution of Anthracite Coal Carrying Roads at Once—Bituminous Coal Carrying Roads Left to the Attorney General.

That E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, is immune from criminal prosecution as the result of his testimony before the interstate commerce commission in New York recently; that the question of prosecution of bituminous coal carrying railroads should be left in the hands of the attorney general, and that prosecution of the anthracite coal roads will begin in Philadelphia probably next week, were conclusions reached at a notable conference held at the White House Friday night.

The Harriman case and the cases of the coal carrying roads were discussed for three hours by President Roosevelt, the five members of the cabinet, two members of the interstate commerce commission and special counsel for the government.

Following the general conference Attorney General Bonaparte remained with the president to discuss the so-called harvester trust. It is thought not unlikely that the question of the prosecution of that organization will be left in the attorney general's hands.

DIPLOMAS FOR MIDDIES.

Seventy-Three Graduate from the Annapolis Academy.

The seventy-three members of the final section of the graduating class of the naval academy received their diplomas from the hands of the secretary of the navy Thursday, in the presence of a large assemblage, which included Admiral Thierly, of the French navy; French Ambassador Jusserand, Admiral Baron von Asbeck, of the Dutch navy, and Gov. Warfield and the official board of visitors.

Secretary Metcalf paid high tribute to the honor, integrity and bravery of the American naval officers.

Speaking of the target practice of the Atlantic fleet last March he said: "These men can shoot straight, so if there should ever be a war, which, God forbid, no American need fear the outcome."

Mr. Metcalf urged constant preparedness for war.

EARLY RISING SAVED LIFE.

One of Orchard's Intended Victims Tells of Escape.

Fred W. Bradley of San Francisco, former manager of the Bunker Hill-Sullivan mine in Coeur d'Alene, said Orchard's statement quite fits in with his experience.

The attempt to poison me with strychnine in milk," he said, "was frustrated by my habit of early rising, my custom being to breakfast before anyone in the house. On this morning I found a bitter taste in the milk, spat it out and had it put out of the way. Several innocent lives were thus saved. The milk had only been delivered a few minutes before my tasting it."

Bradley stated he was so terribly injured by the explosion spoken of by Orchard that he was unable to clearly follow the accounts of the outrage.

JAPS IN UGLY MOOD.

Rising Anger Over Conditions in San Francisco.

The Hochi, a paper published at Tokio, which is supporting Count Okuma in his position on the American question, says:

"The San Francisco outrages are worse than the murder of a missionary in China, which resulted in the occupation of Kiaow Chow.

"Who would blame an appeal to the last measure if an impotency to protect treaty rights is proved?"

"We hope, however, that Ambassador Aoki will be firm enough to make the Washington government quickly take measures to mete out justice to the Japanese."

The Nichi Nichi says:

"Even traditional friendship will not escape a rupture should incidents like those that have occurred in San Francisco be repeated. Whether or not the sufferers are school children or restaurant keepers, and the site of persecution be limited to California, it does not alter the fact that our compatriots are victims of anti-Japanese outrages. Japanese go there under treaty protection.

"President Roosevelt's enlightened message to the last congress was received here with eminent satisfaction, but actual developments since are a total failure. What we want are not so many expressions of civilized sentiments, but one act of efficient protection of the treaty rights of Japan.

"The waste paper box is no destination for a treaty between Japan and the United States."

FAR REACHING REFORM BILL.

Gov. Hughes Signs Measure of Great Import.

The so-called public utilities bill was signed Thursday by Gov. Hughes, of New York. The bill is probably one of the most far reaching reform measures ever passed by an American legislature. It places under direct state control every public service corporation, great or small, in the state of New York, with the exception of the telephone and telegraph. It applies not only to railroads, street railway and subway lines, express companies, gas and electric lighting companies doing business exclusively in the state, but to business within the state of all railroads or other common carriers which enter the state at any point. Two commissions created by the act will have most sweeping powers in regulating the corporations affected.

The bill, which was urged by the governor, reached its final passage in the face of the most bitter and determined opposition. It was fought from first to last by representatives of the tremendous, strong and wealthy corporations, which will feel the weight of regulations it imposes.

JAILS OIL PROMOTER.

Tucker, of Uncle Sam Fame, Gets Three Months.

Judge Hook, of the United States circuit court, at Leavenworth, Kan., Wednesday sentenced H. H. Tucker, Jr., the indicted secretary of the Uncle Sam Oil company, to serve three months in the Leavenworth county jail for contempt of court, the contempt being a sensational affidavit filed by Tucker alleging a conspiracy between Federal Judges Pollock, Smith McPherson and Phillips, and the Standard Oil company to drive the Uncle Sam company out of business. Judge Hook delivered a terrific arraignment of Albert L. Wilson, of Kansas City, who prepared the affidavit. He said the only purpose of filing the affidavit was to create a sensation in the papers and influence public sentiment. Judge Hook declared there was no precedent for such an affidavit, and the clerk of the court was criticised for placing it on file. It was stricken from the files by order of Judge Hook.

Tucker commenced his sentence Wednesday night.

The bankruptcy proceedings were continued until a judge can be found who can sit in the case. Judge Hook will not preside.

WORK ON THE BIG DITCH.

Good Record For May Despite Rainy Season.

The secretary of war has received a cable dispatch from Col. Goethals, chief engineer of the isthmian canal commission, on the isthmus, stating that the excavation in the Culebra cut for the month of May was 690,365 yards and at Gatun 70,360 cubic yards. While this shows a decrease from the excavation for March and April, due chiefly to the rainy season, it shows a very large increase over May of 1906, when the total excavation for the month was 194,645 cubic yards. This, in fact, is the largest total excavation for any single month except March and April of this year.

Information has been received to the effect that the Japanese consul general in San Francisco is contemplating bringing suit against the city of San Francisco for damages incurred by the owners of the Horse Shoe restaurant and Folsom bath houses from the attack by a mob on May 20 last. It is understood the Japanese will be perfectly satisfied with the judicial determination of the case.

SUICIDE AT CHADRON.

Strange Case of Self-Destruction at Chadron.

The body of A. B. Stanley, who committed suicide at Chadron, still lies in the morgue awaiting some arrangement for payment of expenses before being sent east. Apparently about 21 years of age and with no visible marks of any bad habits about him, the young man came to the chief of police, saying that he had just arrived on the morning train from Philadelphia and had been robbed of $4,000 while asleep the night before, and asking the chief to telegraph to his foster father, Benjamin Gichen, of Philadelphia. This was done, but no reply came for several days, when a telegram came with one word, "Unknown." Young Stanley explained that his father was very angry at him for coming west instead of going into a bank, and had said he would disown him. Nothing was thought of the matter until a shot was fired in the men's waiting room of the Northwestern road. The young man had placed a revolver in his mouth and fired. He was an educated person, said he had just graduated, was well dressed and had a valuable gun. After notice of suicide, Benjamin Gichen telegraphed for the body, but local authorities are waiting to have him arrange for the last expenses. A sleeping car check on the body shows he had a ticket from Philadelphia to Dakota Junction, a place where the Dakota and Wyoming lines of the Northwestern branch, about five miles west of Chadron.

APPLICATION FOR REPRIEVE.

Warden Beemer Will Reuse Application.

Judge Homer, of Kearney, will soon make an application to the district court of Lancaster county for a jury trial to determine the sanity of Barker, the Webster county murderer, whose reprieve expires June 15. Gov. Sheldon has refused to extend the reprieve and has left the state to be tried June 18. The law provides that if the warden of the penitentiary believes that a prisoner condemned to death is insane he may apply to the district court for a trial of the question, and if the jury finds the man insane the death sentence shall not be imposed. Warden Beemer said that he would not make this application.

REWARD UP FOR ASSAILANT.

Twenty-One Hundred Dollars Offered for Red Willow Fiend.

The hunt for the assailant of Mrs. Claude Spaulding north of McCook, May 22, 1907, received a new impetus when the First National bank of McCook added a reward of $1,000 to the $1,100 already up for the capture of the fiend. The officers are preparing for still more active work in attempting to land the man and bring him to justice. Mrs. Spaulding is slowly recovering her faculties and improving from the terrible wounds inflicted and is able to give fuller and more accurate description of the assailant and the hunt will be prosecuted with renewed vigor.

New Northwestern Schedule.

Agent R. W. McGinnis, of the Northwestern railroad, notified the Nebraska railway commission that his road had informed him it has clerks at work on new passenger schedules based on the new laws passed by the various states through which the Northwestern runs. This announcement is taken as conclusive proof that the Northwestern road does not intend to oppose any of the new passenger rate laws passed in western states. It is the first road to make this announcement.

Cadet in Trouble.

The university cadets at Beatrice in annual camp did not have entirely smooth sailing. Yale Holland, of Seward, first sergeant of Company A, and Walter Webster, of Lincoln, first lieutenant of Company D, were charged with misconduct and their cases reported to the chancellor for action. FOUR OUT OF SIX DROWN.

Boat Too Heavily Loaded and Capsizes Near Shore.

A fishing party had a sad and tragic ending at Wunder's lake, eight miles southeast of Pate, the first station east of O'Neill, on the Great Northern railroad recently. Four persons were drowned by a boat capsizing.

The dead are Clinton Samson, aged 44 years; Morris Samson, aged 20 months; Mrs. Blanch Tracy, aged 30 years; Miss Alice Dunn, aged 20 years.

A party of about thirty people living in the vicinity of Pate went to the lake in the forenoon to spend the day fishing. The accident occurred about noon, when a boat load of six persons started out on the lake and went down only about twenty feet from the banks. Two of the party, Mrs. Samson, wife of the man drowned, and H. V. Tracy, husband of the woman, were gotten out by the aid of fish poles. The bodies of the drowned were fished out with hooks and lines shortly after they sank and a physician was summoned from Ewing and every effort made to resuscitate them, but of no avail. The water is about eighteen feet deep where the boat capsized.

The bodies were taken to their homes some three or four miles north-east of Pate and Coroner Flynn summoned from O'Neill. An inquest was held, the jury finding that drowning was accidental, caused by the boat being too heavily loaded.

FATHER FINDS LOST DAUGHTER.

Separated Forty Years Ago When the Mother Died.

Josiah Daniels, aged 72, a prosperous farmer of Norfolk, is the happiest man in all the world today. He has found his daughter after forty years.

In 1867 Josiah Daniels' wife died in Carroll county, Illinois. Their little daughter, Ella, was then 6 years of age. Daniels left the country to grow up with the new west. With neighbors he left his little daughter. He located in Kansas, where he remained for thirty-two years. An unmarried aunt and uncle found the little girl and took her to Chicago to educate her. Daniels lost trace of the little girl. A few days ago the daughter, now 46 years of age and a teacher at Santa Fe, learned through distant relatives of the whereabouts of her father. She sent a registered letter and he replied. He sent a check for $50 and told the daughter to get on a train bound for Norfolk.

Miss Daniels will leave Saturday to attend a Chicago art institute during the summer. Next year she will teach at Las Vegas, N. M.

COMMERCIAL AND FINANCIAL

CHICAGO.

The progressive state of commerce discloses no specific grounds for a declining confidence in the outlook. Payments through the banks furnish the best approximation of general activity, and the remarkable aggregate of these for May testifies to a volume of business in this district greater than at any time heretofore. This reflex of expansion is made more satisfactory in the fact that there is also a better supply of money, with a lower discount rate.

Interest in the markets for breadstuffs is attended with less excitement, but prices have changed little, and the speculative element is a small factor, advising as to an improvement in crop conditions.

Higher temperatures brought the necessary stimulus to demand in distributive lines. Local sales of seasonable necessities made a good advance, especially in light-weight apparel, footwear and house furnishings, while late reports show country merchandise stocks undergoing rapid reduction and buying throughout the agricultural regions gaining strength.

Bank clearings, $196,517,104, exceed those of corresponding week in 1906 by 14.2 per cent. Failures in the Chicago district numbered 17, against 14 last week and 20 a year ago.—Dun's Review of Trade.

NEW YORK.

Unseasonable, cold wet weather, with frosts throughout the northern half of the country, has again been a barrier to retail trade, except in a few sections, and the coldest May in twenty-five years closes with large stocks of goods undisposed of by retailers. The shoe and leather markets are quiet as a whole, as is natural in a between-seasons market. Shoe manufacturers are receiving more orders, but are reported not satisfied.

Pig iron markets are quiet, but very strong in price. Supplies for early delivery are very scarce, hence foreign iron continues to be purchased in moderate volume. Fair sales of southern iron have been made for delivery in the first part of 1908, the basis being $18 to $18.50 Birmingham. Considerable new business in steel rails has been booked, most of which is for delivery in 1908. May was a good month for structural steel interests, the tonnage booked being very heavy and large orders are looked for within the next few months.

Business failures in the United States for the week ended May 30 number 140, against 165 last week, 127 in the like-week of 1906, 154 in 1905, 194 in 1904 and 157 in 1903. Canadian failures for the week number 14, against 19 last week and 19 in this week a year ago.—Bradstreet's Commercial Report.
