Miss Maud Ralya of Snake river visited friends in Valentine last Saturday.

Taken Up—At J. P. Kreycik's place, 2 1/2 miles south of Arabia, the last of May, one light bay mare, branded N I T on right shoulder, weight about 800 lbs.

Webster Wertz and brother William were in town Tuesday. The latter is recently from Butler county and has purchased land near his brother's in the vicinity of Crookston.

Albert Pike, from up on the Minnehaduza, was a caller at our office Tuesday. Albert wore a smile a yard long and when questioned as to the cause, said: "A baby girl arrived at our house yesterday."

On Wednesday, June 26, 1907, John Ostrander and Miss Blanche Mudge, both of Cherry county, were married in Rushville at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ostrander, parents of the groom. Rev. J. M. Wallace speaking the words that joined the hearts together. John is quite well known in Rushville, but the bride is comparatively a stranger to most of us, but those who know her have nothing but praise to say of her.—Rushville Standard.

Guy Reed came up from Cody on Thursday evening of last week and Miss Iva Rosseter accompanied him back. They were married in Omaha on Friday and immediately left for Jamestown, Va., to spend their honeymoon at the Jamestown exposition. Mr. Reed is a prominent business man of Cody and it was there he met, wooed and won the love of Miss Iva. She is an accomplished young lady, a good musician, spent her younger days in this vicinity and has many friends and acquaintances here who wish her much joy and happiness as mistress of a home of her own.—Rushville Standard.

In keeping with the substantial improvements Valentine citizens are making, and being up-to-now, Davenport & Co., laid a cement walk along the side and front of their store building; also along the front on their other building, north, at a cost of several hundred dollars. Cement walks are becoming quite popular and should be encouraged. In blocks where brick walks have been laid it is, of course, more practicable to lay a brick walk, though we prefer a cement walk. We would suggest to the village board that the ensuing year they collect poll tax in cash and either pave or cement one block of our streets or such a part as the revenue therefore will permit. Such improvements are substantial and is much better than spending our money to fill up our streets with sand one year and then spending more the next to have it hauled out again. Valentine is many years old and the revenue from poll tax would have paved every business street in town if properly expended.
