OFFERS MANY NOVELTIES.

The Wm. H. West Minstrels Not a Stereotyped Minstrel.

The Wm. H. West big jubilee minstrels that come to Valentine Saturday week, Sept. 7th, offers more real novelties than were ever before promised by a like organization. The fact is there is nothing old in the show, everything being right up to the minute, and those claiming that all minstrel performances were alike should see this superb company, and then apologize to their neighbor for what they have been saying.

The West Minstrels are like others in the way that they are called minstrels only, but the program presented is much different and superior. Its construction is such that it could be really termed a monstrous innovation with the gorgeous ensembles, grand stage spectacles, as well as its magnificent numbers in the musical class. Many of America's most celebrated vocalists are connected with this monster conclave this season, together with a contingent of mirth makers that put the name of West as the real leader in the minstrel world.

OBITUARY.

The wife of Alexander Burr of Pullman, Nebr., bids adieu to friends and earthly scenes and passes peacefully to her heavenly inheritance, Wednesday morning, August 21, 1907.

She had been ailing for some time, the heart's action growing weaker and weaker until it last, its pulsations ceased, letting free the pure soul of Mrs. Burr, which winged its way to realms of endless day, leaving a stricken family to mourn the loss of a loving wife and a faithful and true mother, and the community that of a friend.

Mrs. Dalia Armsbury Burr was born at Albany, Wis., Dec. 6,

1853. She was married to Alexander Burr at Tipton, Kan., in 1872. Together they came to Nebraska to seek their fortune in 1887. In the year of 1894 they located at Whitman, where they have since resided, part of the time at the ranch at Pullman, and part in town.

In 1873, Mrs. Burr embraced the faith of the gospel, uniting with the Congregational church. This hope continued her stay and support to the very end of her earthly life and is now lost in fruition.

Nine children have blessed this union, seven of whom still survive: A. C. Belle, Elmer, James M., Frank G., Lewis C. and J. H. Burr, all of, or near, Pullman, Nebr., all of whom have the sympathy of the community. Rev. G. C. Jeffers of Alliance conducted the funeral services which were held at the family home in Whitman on Aug. 23.

Come and see interesting pictures, hear good music and be amused. Opera house Thursday and Friday nights, Aug. 29 and 30.

The date of the Old Settlers' Reunion on North Table was changed to Saturday, Sept. 7th instead of the 13th as formerly announced. This was done on account of conflicting with the date of the Norden fair, which takes place the 11, 12 and 13th of September. Notice by advertisements and program in this paper.

Henry Detgen of the German Settlement is suffering from pains in his back since Christmas when he was kicked by a horse. He went down to Omaha in July to consult a specialist and was in two different hospitals but failed to find relief and returned to Valentine a couple of weeks ago. He has been staying at the Massingale hotel since returning but has decided now to go to a hospital in Sioux City. Herman and Miss Emma have been staying in town taking care of their father.
