M. V. Nicholson returned this week from Omaha where he had been on the grand jury which convened Tuesday of last week and adjourned Friday. Few cases were investigated.

These young people have the good wishes of a host of Valentine friends. They go to house-keeping in the dwelling recently purchased of C. A. Austin in Valentine, formerly the Thackrey home.

Frank Ashburn was in town yesterday on business.

Richard Osburn has just returned from Oklahoma where he has been visiting a brother.

Geo. Tellier and Joe Jennett came in from Newton yesterday and Mr. Tellier called at our office today and found the editor-in-chief at his desk for the first time in a year, so he handed in a dollar for the paper and we marked the date Jan. 1, 1909. Who's next?

Mrs. Dora Pease Knott is here from Wyncote, Wyo., visiting her sister, Mrs. M. R. Harden, and relatives. Miss Pease went out to Wyncote a couple of years ago to teach school and captured a ranch already stocked with horses and cattle, implements and a man—Mr. Knott—who has now sold out and is seeking a new location. In the meantime they will probably reside in Valentine where they will build upon lots owned by Mrs. Knott.

Melvin Roby was thrown off a horse last Wednesday week and was severely hurt. He had been down to Ernest Bowden's, riding bareback and with nothing but a halter to guide or check with, and when returning, met Mr. Herman, with whom he stopped to converse a few words, and upon starting to go the horse began to run and then to buck, throwing Mr. Roby with such force that his hip was hurt and he has since been confined to his bed.

Mrs. Mary Moon and daughter Queen returned Saturday night from a three week's visit in Iowa and Ohio, the early home of the Moon's and Fenner's. Mrs. Moon's father, John Fenner, returned with them and will visit here this winter. They brought paw-paws, persimmons, hazel nuts and buckeyes home with them. They had a pleasant visit and saw all the fireplaces, bringing home one of the old family andirons of the Moon home. The visit recalled all the pleasant memories of the earlier days which were not so long ago. The people still living there have been doing well and were glad to see the weary wanderers of the western lands.

Digging potatoes is the order of the day. The yield is reported lighter than the average.

Teacher's wages have gone skyward this fall. For those districts able to pay $45 and $50 per month that have been fortunate enough to get teachers of good manners, and good morals, as well as good learning, it is alright. But the poor districts!!!
