GEORGIA ITEMS.

School commenced Oct. 7, with an attendance of 64 pupils.

The school house was decorated Saturday by the teacher and pupils.

Stella Johnson and Albert Osterman were absent one day last week.

The Georgia school is badly in need of another teacher. At the present writing there are 55 pupils enrolled, including all grades below the ninth.

There is quite an improvement in the west part of town, Mr. Rothleutner having painted his store.

Miss Emma Bruce of Crookston visited Miss Cotterill last week.

Bert Story has moved to town to school his children.

Crookston played ball with Georgia Sunday and won.

may be called upon to conduct these proceedings, and, laying all other considerations aside, determine which of the two candidates for this place is the best fitted for the office. Your nearest neighbor may be the best friend you have on earth, but if you are sick you will not call on him to prescribe for your ailment. If your arm is broken you will not ask him to set it for you. You will in either of these cases employ a physician who has been trained and is qualified to perform the service desired. You will probably say to your friend: "You are all right—I know you can do many things and do them well, but the work to be done here requires a different kind of talent." The same rule will work in any line of industry. A blacksmith is an expert in iron and can shoe a horse, but he cannot build your house. A carpenter can build your house but he cannot shoe your horse. A man might be a good sheriff and not be a good judge. The training that would do for sheriff might not be at all sufficient for a judge. These are a few of the things to which we invite your attention. First make up your mind that you will vote for the candidate for this office that is likely to make the most successful officer, then ascertain which candidate that is.

We feel that an investigation of this kind will lead you to the support of Mr. Clynes. He is careful, methodical and painstaking. He has a superior education and his mind has been drilled and trained in a way that fits him for a place where accuracy and correctness are essential. He is receiving almost the unanimous support of the old soldiers and their sons because they know he is fitted for the place and they feel that when an old soldier is qualified for the place he ought to have their support. The ranks of the veterans are getting thinner every year and the old soldier vote is not so strong as when Judge Towne was elected to this office, as the old soldiers' candidate, but there are still many robust men among them, and many a son of a veteran will avail himself of the opportunity to vote for one of his father's comrades, although that father may have passed to his reward. In just a few years the veterans of the Civil war will be mustered out of service. You will not have many opportunities to vote for a man that responded to the bugle's first call. If you would acknowledge your obligation to the men who offered everything on their country's altar do it while they still live. Do not wait until the "muffled drum's sad roll has beat the soldier's last tat-too."

Mr. Clynes is fitted for the place. He has earned your support by more than four years of active service on the field and by twenty-five years residence in Cherry county. Will you give it to him?

Try Kazda's barber shop. If Geo. Elliott is in Omaha on business.

Wm. Steadman was in town the first of the week.

Mrs. Towne departed Sunday to visit her daughter, Mrs. Maud Fritz, in California.

Mrs. M. V. Nicholson has gone to Belle Fourche to attend the wedding of her sister.

Fred Vincent and wife are home for a two week's visit with Mrs. Vincent's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Carlson.

M. Jelly and son Mat returned last Saturday from visiting Thomas who is corral boss at Ft. McKenzie, Wyo.

Mrs. Donohoe returned last week from a visit with her son Will in Salt Lake City. Her health has not been good of late.

J. H. Miller is recovering from a spell of sickness and was in town Saturday from his home three and half miles southwest of town.

Dan Sears delivered the Stetter and Quigley cattle the first of the week, which he has been taking care of the past year. Sunday a prairie fire burned 200 tons of Dan's hay. Cause of fire unknown.

A prairie fire started near Rosebud Monday and burned to the state line and is now burning back northeast. We hear the fire broke away from parties burning fire-guards. The fire has done considerable damage.

Mrs. Anna Childers returned yesterday to her home in Santa Barbara, Cal., after visiting her brother, Lines Ghens, three weeks. Miss Birdie Ghens returned with Mrs. Childers to make her home with her aunt.

An evening program with immigration as the subject, under the auspices of the missionary study class, will be given at Bethel hall Friday evening. Stereopticon views, music, recitations and an address by L. C. Sparks on the immigration question.

There will be a wrestling match Saturday evening, Sept. 26, between G. A. Gilbertson of St. Paul, Minn., and Wm. Fugate, the famous Cherry county wrestler who is the champion middleweight of Iowa and Nebraska. Catch as catch can rules, two shoulders down. See big advertisement in this paper.

Go to Stinard's. A dollar's ($'s) worth for 75c. See ad.

We have received word that Mrs. Julia (Colby) Vandergriit died Oct. 18, in Omaha of puerperal septicemia, whither she had gone for treatment. The body was returned to Woodlake for burial. For want of space this week obituary will not be published until next week.

Milt Latta is again going to the great city of patents in the interest of more of his own inventions. One is for the purpose of making deeper any rocky shallow which makes navigation dangerous in many rivers. Milt claims with this device he can sink a rock below the bottom line of any vessel. Any rock as large as the Red Front can be sunk. This would be a boon for the world. Milt claims as to his two last successful patents they were both true to the letter. Another device he seeks a patent for is water skates upon which to slip over the water in a way no boat can. Anyone can use these skates without a moment's experience, old as well as the young. This would be great for pleasure parties who would love to get by the loggish slow travel of the row boat. The other invention is a railless railroad, with which inexpensive device all secluded places on earth can be reached without the dragging out of the lives of horses and drivers to get into the city, 30 to 75 miles away, with 10 to 15 tons weight. This will by far beat the Kinkaid act in developing the country. All ranchmen so far spoken to are giving Milt a welcome right away free. This is the heart and hand pull that develops things on the fly.
