Grandfather's Cure for Constipation

GREAT medicine—the Sawbuck. Two hours a day sawing wood will keep anyone's Bowels regular.

No need of pills, Cathartics, Castor Oil, or "Physic," if you'll only work the Sawbuck regularly.

Exercise is Nature's Cure for Constipation. A Ten-Mile walk will do, if you haven't got a wood-pile.

But if you will take your Exercise in an Easy Chair, there's only one way to do that, because there's only one kind of Artificial Exercise for the Bowels and its name is "CASCARETS."

Cascarets are the only means to exercise the Bowel Muscles without work.

They don't Purge, Grip, nor "upset your Stomach," because they don't act like "Physic."

They don't flush out your Bowels and Intestines with a costly waste of Digestive Juices, or Salts, Castor Oil, Calomel, Jalap, or Aperient Waters always do.

No Cascarets strengthen and stimulate the Bowel Muscles, that line the Food passages, and that tighten up when food touches them, thus driving the food to its final.

A Cascaret acts on your Bowel Muscles as if you had just sawed a cord of wood, or walked ten miles.

Cascarets move the Food Naturally, digesting it without waste of tomorrow's Gastro Juice.

The thin, flat, Ten-Cent Box is made to fit your Vest pocket, or "My Lady's" Purse. Druggists—10 Cents a Box.

Carry it constantly with you and take a Cascaret whenever you suspect you need one.

Be very careful to get the genuine made only by the Sterling Remedy Company, and never sold in bulk. Every tablet stamped "COC."

TORTO RICO COW HUMBLE.

Natives Found It Was Not Necessary to Truss Her Up.

"The Porto Rico cow," said the man who had been stationed on the island as a soldier for two years, "is as humble a looking animal as one ever came across. I never saw one hook or kick or display the least temper, nor did I ever find any one else who had. The first time I ever saw one milked was a matter of greatest surprise. When a boy had driven her up to the shed, where she stood chewing her cud and switching her tail, the owner brought out a rope and tied her head fast to a post. Then a second rope made her front legs fast. A third did for her hind legs and a fourth went around her body. She was trussed up until she could hardly wink an eye.

"What on earth is all that for?" I asked the man.

"I am going to milk her, señor," he replied.

"And do you tie her up that way twice a day, taking half an hour each time?"

"Always, señor."

"But she doesn't look to me like a kicking cow."

"Perhaps she is not. I do not know."

"I cast off all the ropes," said the ex-soldier, "and then took the pail from him and sat down and milked. The cow stood as quiet as a monument. During the performance a score or more of men and women had gathered around, and when it was over I said:

"There, now. But why tie your cows up to be milked?"

"Santa Maria!" gasped an old man, as he looked around on the crowd and crossed himself. "If we are not to tie our cows up to be milked, how long will it be before these Yankees will be telling us that it is not necessary to keep our eggs four weeks before eating?"

Trunks that Kill.

One of the most dangerous of trades, according to the Pilgrim, "is the covering of toy animals with skin, chamois leather being used, for instance, for the elephants, calfskin for the horse, and goatskin for the camels. This covering must of course fit without a wrinkle to look natural, so the wooden model is first dipped into glue, then sprinkled with chalk dust; then the skin is put on. The chalk is so fine that it fills the air and is drawn into the throat and lungs. A year of this sort of work often results in death. Another very injurious toy is the rubber balloon. The fumes and solvents used in reducing sheet rubber to the necessary thinness while retaining its strength and the dyeing of the brilliant yellows, greens and purple are most of them poisonous.

SOLD SECRETS OF COURTS.

Discovery that Papers Were Stolen Opens Up Far-reaching Plot.

Secret service operatives are working in Chicago to determine to what extent government secrets in recent cases of national importance have been sold by Miss Rita McLean and Alexander B. Gordee, who were held in $5,000 bonds to the grand jury on charges of conspiracy and the theft of papers in the John L. Walsh case.

Discovery of papers relating to the Standard Oil trial in the room of Miss McLean has led to the suspicion that she and her confederate may have disclosed government plans not only in the Walsh case, but in the cases against the Standard Oil, the Chicago and Alton railway, and the school book combine.

Miss McLean's position as stenographer in District Attorney Sims' office, which she held since April, gave her ample opportunity to obtain copies of the most valuable papers in all these cases. The fact that Gordee, her sweetheart, was able to live in idleness, dining at expensive restaurants, for the past six months has made it apparent he had some secret source of income.

While the government officials feel confident they have unearthed a far-reaching conspiracy, they have yet to learn its magnitude or to what extent its operations have injured government prosecutions. In the prosecution of the Standard Oil, the Alton, and the book combine it was apparent at every turn that the defendants knew in advance the government's moves, no matter how secretly planned. The arrest of the couple, it is believed, has solved this enigma.

SCHOOLS AND COLLEGES

By the will of the late Robert N. Carson of Philadelphia, his fortune, amounting to $5,500,000, will, after the death of his widow, be devoted to the establishment of a college for orphan girls, similar to the Girard college for orphan boys. Girard's benevolence was Carson's inspiration, and in this disposing of his fortune Mr. Carson took satisfaction in the thought that no man would live in idleness as a gentleman of leisure on the Carson wealth. The college thus provided for will be known as the Carson College, and will be erected on his estate in Montgomery county, near Philadelphia. It will be non-sectarian in character, although clergymen will be allowed to talk within the limits of fundamental Christian principles.

Two more cities have joined in the popular chorus against the secret fraternities in the public high schools, namely Washington, D. C. and Denver, Colo. In the former city Sup. Chamberlain holds that the "presence of secret societies is the sign of a decaying or very young civilization," and that where the proper spirit prevails there is a "totality to the school as a whole." In Denver, Mrs. Margaret T. True, president of the Board of Education, is leading the opposition to the chairman of the committee appointed to investigate the matter. She says: "The board feels that the existence of these societies is an injustice to all the pupils, as it creates false ideas of social status and wrongs those children who become outsiders through not being admitted to the societies."

Trouble is reported at Sumrall, Miss., growing out of the opposition on the part of the natives to Italian children attending the white public schools. The endeavor to shut the Italians out began some weeks ago. The State superintendent of education and the Attorney General were appealed to and they decided that the constitution provided for whites and negroes and did not catalogue Italians as a separate race. One of the leaders of the Italians who insisted on the rights of his people was taken beyond the town limits, soundly thrashed and ordered to desert in his efforts to get Italian children into the white schools. The anti-Italian sentiment is strong in Mississippi and one of the candidates for Governor made it the chief plank in his platform.

Discontent with the public school system has crystallized into a war cry for neighborhood schools, says the Literary Digest, and this war cry is raised by the friends and not the enemies of the public schools, who believe that concentration has reached a limit in schools as well as in other departments of civic activity. Boston has had the subject brought to its attention by observing that over 3,000 of its children, or over one-third of its school population, are attending private schools. A writer in the Boston Transcript says there is among parents a growing dread of the big public school where little children are herded together by the hundreds. They are afraid of it physically, mentally and morally. Year after year these public schools have been growing bigger and bigger, until at present it is common in the larger cities to see from 2,000 to 3,000 little tots crowded together into the same building, which in consequence just so much further from the homes of many. Machine methods, under such circumstances, become inevitable, and it is difficult to give any kind of elasticity to such a system, and the writer believes that the growth of the private schools marks a revolt against this kind of public school. He thinks the remedy will be the development of neighborhood schools under central supervision.

The limit of pay for grade teachers in Minneapolis has been raised from $800 to $1,000 after a lively campaign in which committee of citizens took part, the Board of Tax Levy appropriating the necessary amount.

The National Academy of Design of New York has decided to separate the men and women art classes. Heretofore, with the exception of those devoted to work from living models, the classes have been mixed. The management has the impression that flirtations have distracted the attention of the students from their work.

Not a Stranger to Her.

The conductor of the Pullman car and for some time had his eye on the man who seemed to be fishing for an excuse to speak to the lady across the aisle. The passenger finally left his seat and took one beside her, and when they had conversed for a few minutes the lady seemed to be protesting, and the conductor's opportunity had come. He stepped forward and said:

"Madam, if this man is forcing his attentions upon you he must resume his own seat."

"He is not exactly a stranger to me," she admitted.

"But you seemed to be annoyed, madam."

"I am not exactly annoyed, but I wish he wouldn't talk to me."

"I am simply arguing a case," explained the man.

"Yes, but there is nothing to argue. We have been married and divorced twice, and now I've married another man, and we can't be married again until he dies. Give it up, Jimmy—give it up and go back to your seat."—Chicago News.

Barred Fake Call.

The second day after the new maid came the mistress had company. Just before the callers arrived the maid said, confidentially:

"Shall I go out and telephone to you while they are here?"

"Telephone?" exclaimed the mistress. "What on earth should you telephone to me about?"

"Oh, anything," responded the maid. "I always did it at the last place I worked and the place before that. The ladies wanted me to. It gave the impression that they were very popular and were overrun with engagements."

But the mistress, remembering many suspicious telephone calls that had interrupted the conversation when she herself had been calling, declined to purchase popularity on those terms.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

TIED TO A CHAIR.

Unable to Move About on Account of Kidney Troubles.

Mrs. Anna Beebe, River and Monroe streets, Anoka, Minn., says: "I had to sit in a chair day after day unable to move about on account of rheumatic pains in my back, hips and legs. I was short of breath and my heart would flutter after the least exertion. I had dizzy spells and bearing down pains and the kidney secretions were much disordered. I thought I would not live long, but since using Doan's Kidney Pills I am a different woman, can do my own work and have no fear of those troubles returning."

The President stood at the bow of the steamer, looking down at the turbid, boiling waters of the great river.

"Doesn't it suggest something to you, Mr. President?" asked one of the Governors, in an undertone.

"Suggest something?" said the chief executive in a loud tone, as is his wont when anybody tries to be confidential. "Suggest something? How? What?"

"It's—it's running."

(In a still louder tone) "Well, why not? Why shouldn't it run?"

"See the parallel, Mr. President? A great many of the people think—"

(Louder yet) "No, I don't see any parallel. Ever do any fishing in this river, Governor? It isn't much for black bass or mountain trout, but you can catch some walzing big catfish."

Subsequent remark by the Governor to one of the other Governors:

"Blame him, I can't make out whether his 'no' still holds or not."—Chicago Tribune.

BABY'S ECZEMA GREW WORSE.

Hospitals and Doctors Could Not Relieve Him—But Cuticura Remedies a Speedy, Permanent Cure.

"Eczema appeared when our baby was three months old. We applied to several doctors and hospitals, each of which gave us something different, every time, but nothing brought relief. At last, one of our friends recommended to us Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment. A few days afterwards improvement could be noted. Since then we have used nothing but Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and now the baby is six months old and is quite cured. All that we used was one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment, costing in all $1.25. C. F. Kara, 343 East 65th Street, New York, March 30, 1906."
