

THRONE IS IN PERIL

SITUATION IN PORTUGAL HELD EXTREMELY CRITICAL.

Peaceful Establishment of Republic Would Follow Withdrawal of Monarch, but Revolution by Violence Will Occur if King Holds On.

A special dispatch from Madrid says it is rumored that collisions have occurred between the troops and insurgents in Lisbon, and many persons have been killed and wounded.

Persons arriving from Lisbon, the dispatch states, report that Col. Tasta, aide de camp to King Carlos, has resigned and that several regiments of doubtful loyalty have been disbanded.

It is expected that the governor's office that some citizens of Davenport will appear to complain against the sheriff of Scott county and the mayor of Davenport for not enforcing the law.

While the public was amused by the performance at Davenport when it first learned of it, there is indignation also that bodes ill for Davenport's defiance of the laws of the state.

DAVENPORT TO BOOK.

Mayor and Sheriff in Danger of Losing Jobs.

Without any delay the civil officers of Scott county, Iowa, are to be brought to an accounting for their failure to stop Thursday night's prize fight in Davenport, as well as Capt. O. W. Kulp, who was placed under arrest Friday and will be tried by courtmartial within eight days.

Within eight days the court will be constituted and try Capt. Kulp. Prior to that time he will be served with written charges which Gov. Cummins has directed Col. Logan, assistant adjutant general, to prepare.

It is understood that Capt. Kulp's sole defense will be that there was no prize fight in Davenport. It is the position of both Gov. Cummins and Adj. Gen. Thrift that the contest was a fight, but that whether or not it was, their orders to Kulp permitted no discretion on his part, but demanded implicit obedience.

While the public was amused by the performance at Davenport when it first learned of it, there is indignation also that bodes ill for Davenport's defiance of the laws of the state.

ARRESTS WIFE FOR MARRYING.

Says Helpmeet Sold Farm and Eloped to United States.

Charged with selling her husband's farm near a little Austrian town and deserting two of her three small children to elope to America with Casper Ladislof, a farm hand, and then with having married Warvagen Koavia, of Port Richmond, Pa., her third "affinity," after the farm hand had taken the money and left her in the lurch with a child to care for, Yetta Alster, of Philadelphia, faces a term in prison, for bigamy.

Four years ago Isador Alster, her first husband, left his home and family in Austria to seek his fortune in America. He established himself in business in New York City, and was so prosperous that he could afford to send his wife $1,600 in the four years.

Immediately he began a search for his wife. District Attorney Jerome, of New York, took a personal interest in the foreigner's case, and in a few weeks the detectives had an inkling that the much-married woman was in Philadelphia.

But Yetta Alster had found her third "affinity" in the meantime in the person of Warvagen Koavia, who she says she married in Bridesburg, three weeks ago, after she had been converted to the Roman Catholic faith.

BROWN OWNED BOYS.

Admitted Paternity of Mrs. Bradley's Two Sons.

The story of former United States Senator Brown's acknowledgment of the paternity of the two youngest of Mrs. Bradley's children was told Thursday in Judge Stafford's court by other lips than hers.

Such was Mr. Brown's own method of expressing himself on the subject and the legend was inscribed on a soiled and blotched piece of writing paper.

Col. Kaighn related many interesting facts concerning his association with both Senator Brown and Mrs. Bradley, and upon the whole made by far the best witness for the little woman that has yet taken the stand, herself excepted.

"I hated to do it," he said, after he left the stand, "for Senator Brown was one of my most intimate friends, but one cannot trifle with one's conscience."

SUBSIDIZING CUPID

Chicago Women Unionists Are in Favor of a Marriage Dowry.

A capitalistic cupid, with love darts in the form of $200 dowries and working girls as his targets, is the latest suggestion as an antidote for race suicide.

The gathering was one of the first three, held simultaneously, in this country. Another was at New York and the third at Boston.

"We believe in this plan," declared Miss Breckenridge. "It places the marriage question upon a serious basis. Unions have their death and sick benefits and a marriage benefit or dowry would be in order.

"The experience she acquires by being a unionist and wage earner will enable her to spend money wisely after she is married. She will also learn that when her husband works and brings his wages home to her she must also bear her share of the burden.

There were others present who thought that a stipulated sum of $100 or $200 should be given to a woman wage earner when she becomes a matron by the labor organization with which she has been identified.

HALF A MILLION A DAY.

That is the Amount Which Chicago Puts into Stimulants.

Chicago's consumption of stimulants is amazing, according to a correspondent. The money spent in saloons alone totals up between $120,000,000 and $130,000,000 annually. At least $10,000,000 more is spent for stimulating drugs in the 9000 drug stores in the city.

At the lowest estimate, taking alcoholic beverages, tobaccos, and all manner of drugs into account, it is impossible to figure that Chicago spends less than $500,000 per day on stimulants of various kinds, and the chances are the amount is considerably higher.

Of this enormous sum, how much does the worker spend? Fully 75 per cent, if all business men, officers of corporations, and all men who work with hand or brain, are included.
