er the past week and about four inches of snow fell Tuesday evening. The wind blew pretty hard later in the night and drifted in places.

The crippled son of Wm. Johnson and wife, twelve miles south of town, died in the institute for the feeble minded at Beatrice last Friday and was sent to Valentine and was interred in Mount Hope cemetery last Sunday.

first of the week on account of his catching cold after his severe illness recently, and will stay in town with his family until he feels sufficiently recovered to return to his ranch at Kennedy.

Manager Massingale informs us

P. F. Simons and wife returned the proprietor of a boarding house old man looks older than Cap but is stout and healthy looking yet.

The fellows who have put up at the half way house for the past four years, have left and are now marching in the direction of Bryan's headquarters.—Falls City News.

You, gentle or ungentle reader, don't you feel ashamed of yourself when you reflect that you are so far down in the scale of humanity that you cannot pay 3 cents a week for your home paper, but must "bum" it from your neighbor?—Crawford Tribune.

(Crete Democrat.)

Bryan spent several days in Washington conferring with members of both houses. It seems as though the opposition to him has almost entirely disappeared in that quarter.

The Fairbury Journal has announced that it is a democratic paper and will support Bryan for president. The Journal has been independent but from this on will work with the party for the promotion of principles.

(York Democrat.)

When we hear a republican say he thinks Bryan has some show this year because the trusts know he cannot accomplish much with an opposition congress, it makes us think he is conscious of belonging to a trust dominated party and does not quite have the courage to break loose from it.

The State Journal says Pennsylvania cannot have a two-cent fare, but as long as it has a $14,000,000 state house and a statute of Matt Quay it should not complain. There is another thing Pennsylvania has which the Journal did not mention. That is a 300,000 republican majority. If either of the judges who held the two-cent fare invalid should run for reelection on the republican ticket he would be overwhelmingly elected. Poor old Pennsylvania.

(Rushville Standard.)

There is a law which deftly states that express rates has been reduced 25 per cent since July 1, last. But us fellows who "pay the freight" knows that the law lies.

Will Harry Orchard, the self-confessed murderer of ex-governor Stunenburg, for which crime W.
D. Haywood and Geo. A. Pettibone have been tried and found "not guilty," be hung? If not, why not?

If the rank and file of the republican party had their way they would nominate Sen. La Follette of Wisconsin as their choice of candidate for the presidency. But the rank and file of republicans have nothing to say when it comes to naming their nominee. If they want a La Follette, a Lincoln or a Jefferson, let them line up for W.
J. Bryan and get what they want.
