fascinating subject, one scarcely knows where to begin. It seems hardly credible that there are still surviving a few benighted minds to which the word of the 'egg' suggests only the inevitable boiled, scrambled, peached and fried. U. S. Gov.

Some of the combinations are fussy, and some are very simple, and it is only a few of the simplest kind that will be described. Many a harassed woman has been suddenly overtaken by an unexpected guest for luncheon. and as there are usually eggs in the house it is well to know something at the same time a little out of the ordipary and not too difficult to prepare at short notice.

There are so many ways of cooking

e 23, so many endless combinations.

Take, for instance, the addition of a little chopped pimento to the usual crambled eggs, and you have a variation at once piquant and agreeable.

The best way to scramble eggs is first to melt a small piece of butter in a frying pan, then break your eggs into it without beating them, allowing two eggs for each person. Then add a little milk, another piece of butter and sait to taste and stir them spotted. quickly over a fire that is not too hot. tle paprika over them, and they are the eggs are done.

And from the southern creole cooks comes a pleasing change from plain fried eggs-to serve them with a good hot batter and before serving pour over them the following tomato sauce:

Don'ts For Interior Decorators. Don't use a narrow strip of carpeting on the stairway. This is an obsolete custom that must have originated in the mind of some person with more genius for economy than for decoration or comfort. Cover the boards completely with carpeting or with oriental runners. And don't use any of the fastening attachments that have an exposed strip of brass or wood. Tacks are better. The old rule, green with mahogany and blue with oak, is treacherous. Those who understand how to apply it usually have color sense enough to disobey it with impunity. Of course light blue with dark mahogany is preposterous, but so is light green. And, while light green fabrics are most interesting against light ma-The greatest monthly precipitation | hogany frames, light blues can be used with equally felicitous results. Simplicity in interiors, as in gowns, is apt to be expensive when most successful and is the result rather of selection than of elimination. Then remove from the fire and after turning the heaten up eggs into the pan place the chicken and meat upon them as the omelet is turning .-Harper's Bazar.

Staggered Webster.

In the somewhat famous case of Mrs Bodgen's will, which was tried in the Massachusetts supreme court many years ago, Daniel Webster appeared as counselor for the appellant. Mrs. Greenough, wife of the Rev. William Greenough of West Newton, was a very self possessed witness. Notwithstanding Mr. Webster's repeated efforts to disconcert her she pursued the even tenor of her way until Webster, becoming quite fearful of the result, arose, apparently in great agitation, and, drawing out his large snuffbox, thrust his thumb and finger to the very bottom and, carrying a deep pinch to both nostrils, drew it up with gusto, and then, extracting from his pocket a very large handkerchief, he blew his nose with a report that rang distinct and loud through the crowded
