Wendall, the small son of Mac Cramer, stepped on a peice of glass while out to Haley's farm Tuesday, and cut his foot severely. The wound bled profusely and the little fellow was very weak from loss of blood before the flow was stopped. Dr. Compton attended the boy and at last report he is getting along nicely.

The Primary Election results are not obtainable yet excepting some few contested places. Shallenberger has probably a safe plurality making him the Democratic nominee for Gov. Garret for Lieutenant Gov. Fleharty for attorney General. Indications are that John Tucker has been renominated for Co. attorney. Returns very slow and may contain some surprises.

Mr. and Mrs. James Shepard left Monday morning for a visit in Iowa. They had intended to start Friday morning, but when they reached the depot found that someone else had checked out their trunk, which was not located until Saturday at Rapid City. Then they decided to go Sunday morning, but again the wreck at Kilgore compelled them to wait until Monday when they succeeded in making their departure.

Two light fingered gentlemen were thrown in jail Saturday night by Marshal Hilsinger for stealing a sample case of cigars from a traveling man while the latter was playing pool in the "Owl" saloon. When he missed the grip, Ed Parry remembered seeing a fellow walk out with it and described the man. He was found in company with another fellow but denied the theft. The two however were arrested, one of them put up quite a fight on the way to jail but was finally persuaded to go, after feeling Webb's club a couple of times. The next morning they admitted the theft and told where the grip was hidden. It was found in the cellar of Fisher's old ice house south of Morey's old jewelry store. Rather than burden the county with the expense of a jail sentence they were given a short time to get out of town, which they did.

C. Sparks of this city. They were accompanied back by Mr. Sparks' mother and Miss Estelle Nicholson who expect to spend about four months visting relatives.

County Judge L. N. Layport died suddenly Monday about 11 o'clock a. m. of heart failure while talking to Henry Neil, Jr., in the Layport harness shop. Mr. Layport had complained some of his heart the previous night and two attacks of pain in the chest had warned him that he was not well. He was about 52 years old and leaves a wife and son in this city also one brother, a sister and his father and mother survive him. The funeral will be this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The wonderful little diminutive well drilling device that can be carried on a man's lap in a buggy will drill a well 200 feet in a day, without engine or horse power, recently invented by Milt Latta, has a bell with which to discover water; has a coil spring clapper that reaches the water slack and while the bell, if bolted fast on the little rig, the clapper will vibrate and proclaim, by a vigorous ringing of the bell, that water has been reached down in the earth by the drill, making it easy for experienced men to perform the same work of an expert. This rig is winning friends to its little self in throngs. It has been tested to a finish and is in the field now winning every battle as easily as play. Milt will keep one little rig ready to answer to the call of the poor who are unable to pay for the drilling of a well, such as a poor widow or the old soldier making the right showing of inability to pay, in Cherry county only. This little device will win out in the race around the world without a doubt, and takes its start from our old Cherry county. The Democrat rejoices with Mr. Latta in his success in this last discovery. But the end is not yet. We hear that Milt has worked out an air engine that will generate 6 horse power in one-fourth of a minute for the hay stacker of his own make, without fire, steam or gasoline. No preplexing batteries nor bucking engines. This stacker will stack for 5 or 6 sweeps, will be ready for next season. This will please the stockmen, as they can hustle the hay into the stacks out of danger of rain. This wonderment will be nearly or quite up to the all ready proven well drill with the water bell.
