

UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM SOUTH CAROLINA PRAISES PERUNA.

Ex-Senator M. C. Butler.

Dyspepsia is often caused by Catarrh of the Stomach—Peruna Relieves Catarrh of the Stomach and is therefore a Remedy for Dyspepsia.

Hon. M. C. Butler, U. S. Senator from South Carolina for two terms, in a letter from Washington, D. C., writes to the Peruna Medicine Co., as follows:

"I can recommend Peruna for dyspepsia and stomach trouble. I have been using your medicine for a short period and I feel very much relieved. It is indeed a wonderful medicine, besides a good tonic."

CATARRH of the stomach is the correct name for most cases of dyspepsia. Only an internal catarrh remedy, such as Peruna, is available.

Peruna Tablets can now be procured. Ask your Druggist for a Free Peruna Almanac for 1909.

A piece of raw onion cures insect bites almost as well as does ammonia.

TO CURE A COLD IN ONE DAY. Take LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE Tablets. Druggists refund money if it fails to cure. E. W. GROVE'S signature is on each box, 25c.

The Alphabet. The great Phoenician alphabet, the parent of every form of European writing and of the scripts of Persia, Arabia and India as well, owes but little to Egypt. It is true that in the construction of their alphabet the Phoenicians made use of certain hieratic characters found in their trade dealings with Egypt, but this fact in no way detracts from the glory of the invention which belongs to the "Yankees of antiquity."—New York American.

Teat. "You insisted on our coming to this hot, horrid place," shrieked Mrs. Outsome, "and I'm smothered till I look like an Apache Indian!" "Not at all, my love," said Mr. Outsome. "Your complexion is a clear, beautiful light brown."

When Children Were Made to Smoke. It may seem strange that there was a period in English history when juvenile smoking was enforced officially, but it is nevertheless true. The diarist Hearne, in writing of the Plague of London, says: "Even children were obliged to smoke. And I remember that I heard formerly Tom Rogers, who was yeoman here, say that when he was a school boy at Eton that year when the plague raged all the boys of that school were obliged to smoke in the school every morning, and that he was never whipped so much in his life as he was one morning for not smoking."

CAUSE AND EFFECT. Good Digestion Follows Right Food. Indigestion and the attendant discomforts of mind and body are certain to follow continued use of improper food.

Those who are still young and robust are likely to overlook the fact that, as dropping water will wear a stone away at last, so will the use of heavy, greasy, rich food, finally cause loss of appetite and indigestion.

Fortunately many are thoughtful enough to study themselves and note the principle of Cause and Effect in their daily food. A N. Y. young woman writes her experience thus: "Some time ago I had a lot of trouble from indigestion, caused by too rich food. I got so I was unable to digest scarcely anything, and medicines seemed useless."

"A friend advised me to try Grape-Nuts food, praising it highly, and as a last resort, I tried it. I am thankful to say that Grape-Nuts not only relieved me of my trouble, but built me up and strengthened my digestive organs so that I can now eat anything I desire. But I stick to Grape-Nuts."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

FARM AND GARDEN

Blood will tell, and so will the feed trough. Read what people who know from experience say about incubators.

Large boned but smoothly built mares bred to a good sized jack of good blood will produce the best mules.

The farmer who does not sell off the fertility of his land through the milch cow seldom signs a note at the bank.

There is one advantage in teaching a horse to walk well, and that is he is not injured in the least in any way for any other gait.

To the shambles with the cow that cannot produce enough to pay for her keep. Keeping this kind of an animal is like pouring water into a rat hole.

The anonymous letter writer and the dog poisoner belong to the same cowardly company, both engaging in enterprises for which they do not care to assume responsibility.

The silo has certainly come to stay. No better proof of this assertion is the fact that in the older dairy districts of New England many new silos have been constructed this past season.

Poultry that is confined should be provided with an abundance of charcoal, oyster shell and grit. When running loose the fowls will get these elements or their equivalents of their own accord.

United States Secretary of Agriculture Wilson charges the farmers of this country with being soil robbers. The charge is rather sweeping, but if placed on trial a good many of them would have to plead guilty.

A New Jersey man who owns twelve White Leghorn hens, all over five years of age, says they laid an average of ten eggs per day during April. He thinks it is a mistake to kill hens under three years old.

Massachusetts has a new law which makes a uniform milk standard of 12.25 per cent total solids and 3.25 per cent of which must be butter fat. This reduces the butter fat for summer slightly and increases the winter standard by a fraction.

One beauty about a good system of tilling is the fact that, while it makes the land through which it runs arable in a wet season, it does not dry it out too much in a dry season, as a mellow condition of soil prevails that tends to prevent a baking of the surface.

The children in the home enjoy a balanced ration as well as do the animals in the feed lot or stable. Such a ration is pork and beans, boiled potatoes and brown bread, poached egg on toast, good graham bread and Jersey milk; roast pork, dressing and baked potatoes and apple sauce; roast beef, mashed potatoes and pie.

Where one understands the proper recipes for making the different kinds of cement for the various farm uses any enterprising farmer or farmer's boy can manufacture his own cement blocks, make water trough, hopen floor or construct the walks about the house provided only that a supply of sand and gravel is at hand.

A farmer who for a number of years past has made a specialty of some one product each year last year had fifty acres planted to cabbages. When he had marketed the last earload of the vegetable, he found that he had cleared in the neighborhood of $50 per acre. The raising of the crop meant to start with a rich soil, clean cultivation and lots of hard work both in the care and marketing of the crop.

The listing of corn—the planting of it in the bottom of a deep furrow and the covering of it deeper as it germinates and grows—is practiced in several transmississippi States and is made necessary in order to make up for a deficient rainfall. Planted in this way the roots of the corn go deep and receive moisture from the subsoil. In other States in the eastern portion of the corn belt the effort of the tiller of the soil is quite often to overcome the handicap of a surplus of moisture.

Feeding Horses. There are no iron-clad rules that can be given in regard to feeding the farm teams. If all horses were alike in regard to their appetite, their capabilities of assimilating nourishment from their food, their disposition in regard to worrying, or fretting, as it is called, and wasting their energy, then one could gauge the amount of feed according to the size of the horse and the amount of work he has to do and be guided accordingly. One needs to observe and study the needs of each animal under his charge and meet the requirements. Most horses are inclined to eat more of the hay and coarse feed than they can digest. It is safer to give only as much as the stomach can comfortably hold at a time and allow digestion to be accomplished before an-

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

To congratulate the Rev. Robert Colver on his eighty-fifth birthday, twenty members of the Unitarian Club entertained him at dinner in New York.

Andrew Carnegie was the first speaker and said: "I am not a Unitarian, but I have long ceased to pay much attention to the distinctions of Christianity. I vote for the whole ticket, I was born nearer to DE. Colver than anyone else here. I sailed from Glasgow in 1848; he came in 1850. That is the only occasion I think in which I got ahead of him. He has been a teacher of men; I went into business determined to make $100,000 a year. We both followed the prophets, but I with my well-known preference for simplified spelling, spell these profits."

As many as possible of the 5,000 New England members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, with their wives and friends, assembled in Boston recently to celebrate the 25th anniversary of the founding of the big order. All the railroads ran special trains or made special provision for carrying the men of their systems to Boston and back.

Patrick H. Morrissey, home again, grand master of the order, was present and spoke at the union meeting at the Boston Theater and also at the banquet, which in a measure was in his honor. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen is one of the largest and best managed labor organizations on the continent, and a large part of the credit for its fine standing is declared to be due to Grand Master Morrissey.

Prince Henry of Prussia, who was a passenger the other day in Count Zepelin's new airship for several hours, is the only brother of the German Emperor, whose junior he is by three years and six months. He is now 40 years old and holds several military commands besides being admiral of the Baltic.

Prince Henry is popularly known as "The sailor prince" and is much liked for his democratic ways and his love of fun. He is an athlete and is larger and stronger than his brother the Emperor. In 1888 Prince Henry married Princess Irene of Hesse and Rhine, and is the father of two sons, of whom the eldest is 19 years old, and of three daughters.

Col. George Washington Goethals, who has been exonerated of the charges made by President Brothers of the Balanced Cable Company, New York, who asserted that his company had been unfairly discriminated against in the award of contracts for the Panama Canal work and fainted at the administration of the canal.

Work has been chief engineer of the Panama Canal since February, 1907. He was born in Brooklyn in 1858 and was graduated from West Point in 1880. For several years he was an instructor at West Point, and in the Spanish-American war he was chief of engineers, winning much praise for his services in that office.

Joseph C. Sibley, the Pennsylvania Congressman whose name figured in the recent Standard Oil disclosures, will not be directly affected by the unpleasant revelations for he voluntarily retired from Congress a couple of years ago and has not sought political preferment since. Sibley was born 57 years ago in New York, and after teaching school, farming, merchandizing and selling goods on the road he struck a paying lead as an oil producer and amassed considerable wealth through the medium of a signal oil. He went into politics while still comparatively young.

If the coal receipts continue to be as heavy as they are now till the close of navigation there will be about 4,000,000 tons stored on the Superior docks when the ice closes the shipping for the winter. The shipments to the West have only very recently become as heavy as they should be so that there was a large difference between the receipts and shipments that have been added to the supply on hand two months ago. All the docks are filled up and some of them are contemplating the advisability of chartering boats for the winter storage of coal.

Whiskey for Lame Back.

The increased use of whiskey for lame back rheumatism is causing considerable discussion among the medical fraternity. It is an almost infallible cure when mixed with certain other ingredients and taken properly. The following formula is effective: "To one half pint of good whiskey add one ounce of Toris Compound and one ounce Syrup Sarsaparilla Compound. Take in tablespoonful doses before each meal and before retiring."

Toris Compound is a product of the laboratories of the Globe Pharmaceutical Co., Chicago, but it is as well as the other ingredients can be had from any good druggist.

Gen. Corbin Likes Old Clothes. Ever see Gen. Corbin's old shoes? He had them made four years ago when he went to the Philippines, and he's wearing 'em yet. They're great. The general delects a new pair of shoes or a new suit of clothes. A young fellow came along to his place near Washington recently and said:

"Sir, I don't want to ask for money, but I would be grateful if you would give me an old suit of clothes."

"Not by a good sight," said the general, "but there is a new suit inside you can have."—New York Sun.

No Fear of Any Further Trouble. David Price, Corydon, Ia., says: "I was in the last stage of kidney trouble—lame, weak, run down to a mere skeleton. My back was so bad I could hardly walk and the kidney secretion much disordered. A week after I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I could walk without a cane, and as I continued my health gradually returned. I was so grateful I made a public statement of my case, and now seven years have passed, I am still perfectly well."

Man's New Wig. There is a new hairy covering for the up-to-date man. It arrived from Paris and is called the King Edward hat.

This masculine headgear is built on the lines of the feminine clover hat and is blocked to resemble the pave wears. The hats are made of the same material as the ordinary black derby. Instead of a ribbon bow on the band a buckle clasps it. Several people who arrived from Paris recently wore the new hat. They say the King Edward hat was introduced to France on the King's return.

TORTURED SIX MONTHS

By Terrible Itching Eczema—Baby's Suffering Was Terrible—Soon Entirely Cured by Cuticura.

"Eczema appeared on my son's face. We went to a doctor, who treated him for three months. Then he was so bad that his face and head were nothing but one sore and his ears looked as if they were going to fall off, so we tried another doctor for four months. His hands and legs had big sores on them and the poor little fellow suffered so terribly that he could not sleep. After he had suffered six months we tried a set of the Cuticura Remedies and the first treatment let him sleep and rest well; in one week the sores were gone and in two months he had a clear face. Now he is two years and has never had eczema again. Mrs. Louis Beck, R. F. D. 3, San Antonio, Tex., April 15, 1907."
