Dr. Traer's course of lectures new being given at Bethel hall are proving to be both entertaining and instructive. Considering the severity of the weather they are being well attended and everybody seems well pleased. This course of lectures is something new in Valentine and ought to be encouraged by our best people. Don't fail to take them in. See the programs.

Fire escapes have been put up on the school building leading to the ground from the second story windows on the east and west sides. It would now be a proper thing to train coming down the fire escapes when the weather is warm and learn how to reach the ground safely and orderly. This training will also be valuable to children in other places where they might happen to be in case of fire. They will be taught to observe the fire escapes.

Bob McGeer came near having an explosion last Friday night while trying to fill the gasoline tank of his hot water heater. He thought the gasoline tank was about empty and shut off the burner and proceeded to fill the tank and when through set the can down a few feet away. The blaze had not gone out in the meantime and was burning low with a flickering light when Bob returned to place the heater on the back bar and with a flash the drippings about the oil tank which was well filled exploded and flamed up around the tank. Bob was worse scared than hurt but he can't understand yet why the flickering light didn't ignite the gasoline while he was filling the tank. It was a narrow escape, for had the explosion occurred an instant earlier the oil car in Bob's hands would also have exploded.

Geraldine Tracewell of the class '07 made a pleasant call at our home last Sunday evening before returning to her teaching in Cody.

Miss Gordon stopped over in Chadron Monday to attend the funeral of a cousin who had died very suddenly. Mary Easley taught her room on that day.

Nelda Hoefs, who spent part of last year in the ninth grade of the Valentine schools, visited friends in Valentine last week and went west on Sunday morning's train, enroute to McCann where she is teaching this year.

Mae Cavanaugh, who was a member of the freshman class in Valentine a few years ago and who now has a position in the Neligh schools, spent her holidays in Crookston. She seems to be having excellent success with her work at Neligh.

Alma Carlson, who has been at home for the past year, has accepted a position at St. Mary's Mission for Indian girls. We believe that this is a case of the right person in the right place and that Miss Carlson will give most excellent satisfaction in her new position.

We understand that Ora Hooper is to give a talk at the next teachers' meeting to be held in Valentine about the exhibits at the corn show. These young ladies should feel proud to have had the privilege of entering this class and we have no doubt they have derived much benefit therefrom.

On Tuesday morning of this week, Laurentia Haley gave to the high school an excellent talk about her experiences in the cooking school in connection with the Omaha corn show. She says that of 60 girls in the class 57 roomed in one house and we must imagine what a jolly time they had, three of the members of the class being Omaha girls and went to their respective homes.

Sandy Griswold in Sunday's World-Herald, Jan. 3, gives an extended write-up of the Burns-Johnson fight and seems to think Johnson is it. He doesn't think anybody will take the championship away from him for awhile.
If Jim Jeffries should come to the front he might make it warm for awhile but perhaps he doesn't want to fight any more. The eyes of the world will turn to and the cheers of nations will greet a champion to defeat Johnson. Who will do it?

Some of our people are enjoying the lectures of Dr. Traer the phrenologist which are given nightly at Bethel Hall. Each night two or three persons are called up for examples and the Doctor causes many a broad smile as he tells the character of each individual whom he has never seen before with the accuracy of detail that permits of no doubt that he knows considerable of his subject. He has made a study of this work for 50 years and it is worth while to spend a few evenings with him. Beside the fun there is instruction worth learning. The first night George Gaskill and I. M. Rice went up to start the fun and exhibition, and last night Mr. White and Josh Hitt went up to be examined. As each striking characteristic of the person was told the audience laughed heartily.

Through a Puncture.

Ever see a drunken man trying to fill a bottle with the bottom broken out? It's a great waste, and it looks mighty silly.

But it's no more foolish and no more wasteful than for a sober man to expect his town to fill up with people and bubble over with prosperity when he is continually pouring his dollars into the wide world outside. THROUGH THE MAIL ORDER HE IS IN THE bottom of his home town.
