

Anticipated Cause for Sorrow.

Ina came in from the country on her fifth birthday to visit her cousin May. At night they were put to bed early. An hour passed, when heartbreaking sobs were heard from the children's bedroom. "What is the matter, children?" asked May's mother, entering the dark room. From under the bedclothes Ina sobbed out, "May won't give me any of her peanuts."

BACKACHE IS KIDNEYACHE.

Usually There Are Other Symptoms to Prove It. Pain in the back is pain in the kidneys, in most cases, and it points to the need of a special remedy to relieve and cure the congestion or inflammation of the kidneys that is interfering with their work and causing that pain that makes you say: "Oh, my back!"

David Price, Corydon, Iowa, says: "My back was so weak and lame I could hardly walk. The kidneys showed bad disorders. I ran down until almost a skeleton. I thought there was no hope for me and nothing helped me until I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. I improved rapidly and finally became so well that the trouble never returned."

AUTOS PRESERVE HEALTH. London Physician Says Gases Destroy Germs and Act as Tonic.

The death rate in London in a recent week was only 10 per 10,000, the lowest rate in over half a century. A physician whose anonymity is preserved declares this is due to the decrease in horse traffic and especially the increase in motor traffic.

The fumes from the motor cars and motor buses, according to this authority, are the finest possible disinfectant, clearing the air of germs and impurities. He says the burr carbonized matter is a splendid antiseptic and the creosote vapors that come from the motor are in reality a health tonic and bracer.

There has been a campaign recently against the motor buses in London, the charges against them being that they are driven to the common danger, create a tremendous noise, and make the air reek with a foul stench. Those who object on the last mentioned ground are now besought to regard it as a blessing in disguise.

An Unlucky City. Port au Prince, capital of Hayti, has a population of about 70,000 and is one of the unluckiest cities in the world. It was shaken to pieces by an earthquake in 1812. In 1855 one-fifth of the city was destroyed by fire. Another destructive fire occurred in 1894. In 1897 a tidal of the city was reduced to ashes. 800 houses were burned and 4,000 persons were made homeless. In 1899 there was another serious fire and this was followed by still another in 1902. Quite recently there was a conflagration which swept away 400 houses.

GOOD CHANGE. Coffee to Postum. The large army of persons who have found relief from many chronic ailments by changing from coffee to Postum as a daily beverage is growing each day.

It is only a simple question of trying it for oneself in order to know the joy of returning health as realized by this young lady. She writes: "I had been a coffee drinker nearly all my life and it affected my stomach—caused insomnia and I was seldom without a headache. I had heard about Postum and how beneficial it was, so concluded to quit coffee and try it."

"I was delighted with the change. I can now sleep well and seldom ever have headache. My stomach has gotten strong and I can eat without suffering afterwards. I think my whole system greatly benefited by Postum."

"My brother also suffered from stomach trouble while he drank coffee, but now, since using Postum, he feels so much better he would not go back to coffee for anything."

ANTI-JAP BILL FAILS.

Measure Beaten 42 to 28 in California Legislature.

There is to be no anti-Japanese legislation at this session of the California Legislature. That fact was very emphatically declared by the Assembly Wednesday when, after an all-day debate, Drew's anti-alien bill was beaten by the decisive vote of 42 to 28. As the bill would require forty-one votes to become a law, it was thirteen short of a majority.

The work of the President's big stick and of the Governor's war club was apparent in the way in which men who originally proclaimed themselves anti-Japanese dropped away from the bills when the test came. Even Speaker Stanton and Assemblyman Leeds, who led the fight against the Drew bill, were surprised at the completeness of their victory, as they had not expected the bill would fail by more than three or four votes.

The other bills aimed at the Japanese are to come up, but their fate was foretold by Wednesday's vote, and it looks very much as if the Japanese agitation was a closed question for this session.

Said Governor Gillett after the result of the Assembly was told to him: "It is very gratifying to know that the members of the Assembly took the stand that they did. I know that the President will also feel pleased, inasmuch as he will think that the legislators know that Washington is able to take care of the situation. Legislation of this kind coming at this time will prevent Eastern capital from coming in and taking advantage of the resources of the State. The anti-alien and anti-Japanese legislation has created a furor throughout the East, and it will be gratifying to the people of the Eastern States to know that the lawmakers of California can be depended upon not only to protect the interests of their own State, but of the United States."

GEORGE WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON'S INAUGURATION.

Historic Scene When He First Took the Oath as President. Of all the monuments that have been erected to American heroes and statesmen none seems more fitting and appropriate than the great bronze statue of George Washington on the steps of the subterranean building at Wall and Broad streets, New York City. This splendid likeness of the Father of His Country marks the exact spot where he stood when he took the oath of office on April 30, 1789. Furthermore, it marks the exact financial center of the nation whose destinies Washington so ardently proclaimed to Congress and the assembled multitude on that far-off day.

When Gen. Washington, on his way from Philadelphia, came up the bay in a handsomely decorated barge all the vessels in the harbor except one were decked with flags, and there was a continuous roar of saluting guns. The single vessel which wore no gala dress was the Spanish man-of-war Galveston. She stood off Governors Island black, grim and sullenly silent. There was a feeling of indignation among the crowds on shore when this was noticed, but at the moment when the President's barge came abreast the warship the Galveston's yards were manned as if by magic and her rigging burst into a bloom of fluttering flags as her guns crashed on the presidential salute. Arm in arm with Gen. Knox, Gen. Washington walked across Battery park. A carriage was in waiting to convey the President to his lodgings in Cherry street, but he preferred to walk, leading a civic and military parade up Broadway.

At dawn on the following day the national salute was fired at Bowling Green. Gen. Washington arrived with a military and civic escort at Federal hall at noon and was led to the Senate chamber. As he entered Vice President Adams said:

"Sir, the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States are ready to attend you to take the oath required by the constitution, which will be administered by the chancellor of the State of New York."

"I am ready to proceed," said Gen. Washington.
