O'Neill Shut Out.

Last Sunday the O'Neill team came up and engaged our boys in a double-header game of baseball, losing the first game by a score of 4 to 5. Valentine's superb playing shut out the O'Neill team in the second game. Score, 3 to 0.

Grimes pitched both games for Valentine and his work was of the gilt edge variety. Following is the games in detail:

T. W. Cramer is now ready to do any and all kinds of insurance, including growing crops, automobiles, windmills and thorough bred stock against death from any cause.

Long ago the Scotch learned this.

The sturdy old Scotchman must be amused at the recent "discoveries" that oatmeal is the best food in the world. Our scientific men have been making experiments which prove that Americans eat too much fat and grease and not enough cereals.

The Scotchmen say: "Look at our nation as proof. The sturdiest nation on earth." Still we have one good point to make. We make better oatmeal than the Scotch.

They buy Quaker Oats and consider it the leader of all oatmeals to be had anywhere. If you are convenient to the store you'll probably buy the regular size package. For those who live in the country the large size family package is more satisfactory. Follow the example of the Scotch; eat a Quaker Oats breakfast every day.

Dad's Day.

The following we copy from the Randolph (Kan.) Enterprise, which Bro. Moon says is going the rounds of the Kansas press. We first saw this article in Edgar Howard's Columbus Telegram and we suppose Bro. Howard is entitled to the credit for it:

Much has been heard in Kansas towns lately about "Mothers' day." Several Kansas editors are now "holering" that the "old man" should have an inning. They want a "Dad's Day." Should they have it? By all means. Give the old man his chance at the bat. Let him cavort in his ten-dollar hand-me-down suit, his last summer's straw hat and his bargain counter brogans. Of course, he looks pretty bum in that raiment alongside of daughter with her $25 inverted flour-barrel top piece, her $50 gown with the waist at the knees, her French heeled patent pumps and the rest of the stuff that goes with glad feminine decorations. But he is "Dad," nevertheless. "Ma" with her 500 clubs, her bridge parties, her pink teas and her cut glass society will certainly step back for one day and let the old man realize for a short twenty-four hours that "every dad has his day."

Revenue.

A "quiet millionaire" died in England last week, one of those who are described as being "comparatively unknown," and he left an estate valued at from fifty to seventy-five million dollars. Under the maximum death duty of 15 per cent and a succession duty of 5 per cent the government will receive from ten to fifteen million dollars from the estate.

This quiet millionaire was a bachelor and a man of simple habits. He had no use for money and probably did not even go to the trouble of trying to defeat the passage of the inheritance tax law, did not try to beat the law by giving most of his wealth away before he died, did not care what was done with it after he resigned his hold on it and other earthly things.

And that $10,000,000 or so will come in handy to the state. It would build a Dreadnought.

The English example will be one of the strongest arguments to bring the United States to an income and inheritance tax on the rich—that is, if we presume that some day the United States will have a law-making body in which the balance of power is not held by the direct agents of these same plutocrats who would be taxed by such a law. And even this latter condition is not an unreasonable hope, not even a distant hope.

The belief is strong, among both the common people and the scientific economists, that an income tax and an inheritance tax are just and desirable and the most equitable form of raising revenue by direct taxation. They cannot be defeated very much longer.—World-Herald.

Wabby and Weak Versus Solid and Strong.

Water can't rise above its level. Nor can a community rise above the level of its citizenship.

If the citizens are lukewarm, limp and lazy, the town will be wishy-washy, wabby and weak.

If the citizens have VERTEBRA, VIM AND VIGOR, the town will be substantial, solid and strong.

Let's all brace up and make this town of ours a place of energy, ambition and enterprise.

Howard Layport and family returned from a three week's visit with relatives of Mrs. Layport's near Kennedy Tuesday. They expected to come home earlier but one of the boys was taken ill. He is now completely recovered.

A prize banner will be awarded the county that has the greatest number of miles traveled by registered delegates in attendance at the State Sunday School Convention that meets in Kearney June 15-16-17. All counties have an equal chance at this Banner. Why can't our county win it? This Banner will be held by the county winning it during the year and contested for again the next year.

VALENTINE JUNIOR NORMAL.

G. A. GREGORY Principal.

The Seventh annual session of the Valentine Junior Normal will be held from June 7th to July 30th, 1909, eight weeks.

This longer session gives time to do better work in all the subjects pursued and will be especially helpful to those who are preparing for their first year in teaching, since more time can be devoted to observation in the model school and to the study of methods.

Tuition and text books are free. An enrollment fee of two dollars entitles each student to all lectures and entertainments.

Those branches required for any grade of county certificate, elementary state certificate or professional life certificate will be included in the course of study.

Good table board may be had in clubs at $3.50 per week. Rooms 50c to $1.00.

Convenient rooms may be had in which students may board themselves.

Several students, both boys and girls, would like places to work for their board. Any citizen who wants such help should let the County Superintendent know.

The State superintendent has made a wise selection of instructors for the faculty, men and women who have dealt with all phases of public school work, and who know how to inspire and help those preparing to teach.

No better place than Valentine can be found for a summer school and every instructor who has been here in the past six years has remained enthusiastic in regard to the ideal conditions here. This is the only place that provides boat rides, extensive horse-back excursions, annual picnic journeys and many other social recreations for the spare time. Teachers and students at Valentine form a large, happy, mutually helpful family, and they are helped in many ways by the genial citizens of the city on the Minnechadua. Come to Valentine. Enter the first day and remain throughout.

Institute week for Cherry county is from June 7th to 12th, inclusive.
