Normal Notes.

Three of the normalites who were in attendance in 1904 met at the home of Miss Effie Carlson last week.

Mr. Bettenga, in charge of agriculture, is very fond of bugs, so if you have any to spare just let him know.

If anyone hears a strange sound coming from the school house don't get frightened, for it is only Prof. Gregory and his music class.

A goodly number of normalites were out for a walk last Thursday evening. They visited the park and the lake and enjoyed all they saw on the way. It was a jolly crowd and they appreciated the diversion and relaxation from school work.

During the normal County Superintendent Hudson will be in her office from 8 to 10 a. m., and from 1 to 4 p. m.

Valentine seems to be the only junior normal where the teachers try horseback exercise. The pure air and great stretches of country constantly tempt one to outdoor exercise.

If anyone has a doubt about the ability of Judge Walcott to make first class coffee and prepare delicious bacon, one experience with him as the host in a camp supper would dispel that doubt. Superintendent Gregory and Philip Mc-Lean are ready to give the strongest testimonials for the Judge, either as a royal entertainer or as a first class chef.

Three judges from the Bristol household passed on the merits of the medal contestants in a rural district last Friday evening. Miss Rector of Valentine won first place.

Misses Dora and Francis Grewe leave this week for an all summer trip to the Pacific coast. They will visit scenes of interest and stay some time at the Seattle exposition.

Miss Hunter and Miss Searby are having a great debate. One declares that a person born deaf can never learn to talk. It is hoped the dispute will be settled peaceably.

Superintendent Bowen goes to Atkinson to give the 4th of July speech. Since this is to be on July 3, it is believed he will recover by July 5th sufficiently to care for his classes.

The Fourth of July is to be quite generally celebrated on the third in Cherry and surrounding counties. Many normalites will go home Friday evening and return in time for school Monday morning.

Friday afternoon at the close of the afternoon program Mr. Wilson headed an excursion to the steam shovel. Primarily, the trip was for the geography class but many others went and all enjoyed the sight.

Again the combined forces of skillful fishermen at the Bristol home have furnished fried fish for an appreciative group of boarders. A trio of normalites, inspired by the great success of three ardent followers of Izaak Walton, sallied forth early one morning and returned with eleven bass which the hostess placed before her guests at dinner, dished up in the most palatable style known to connoisseurs in cookery.

Effie Carlson has left for a summer's trip through the central and eastern parts of the United States and will spend a few weeks with relatives and friends in picturesque parts of Pennsylvania.

The Parland-Newhall Company next Wednesday evening will be the only remaining number of the entertainments under the auspices of the junior normal. No one who enjoys first class vocal or instrumental music can afford to miss this treat. Their marvelous bell ringing specialties are alone worth the price of admission.

Supt. Bettenga gave a demonstration of the force of the electric current, as developed by the voltz, Thursday morning at the chapel hour. All were much pleased with the experiment. Some of the boys called the apparatus a "sparking machine" and have begun to make drawings and specifications of it, evidently thinking that they could make some good use of it.

As heard in the class: Mr. Wilson—I have a friend who has two daughters, one has kindergarten training and the other has not. In what way is the one with training better off than her sister?

Mr. McDonald—Is she married?
Mr. W.—No, I hardly think so. Why?
Mr. Mc.—Oh, I thought if she is, she could teach her own children.

Some of the boys in the normal are wondering what will happen next. One of the best of the school ma'ams has captured a very capable young man and gone off with him to set up a home, and a few days ago a young teacher was seen standing resolutely by the track just west of the depot. When the train came in the engineer was compelled to stop and as he alighted he handed over a roll of bills which seemed to be all he had on hand. Was this a hold up?

Deputy State Supt. Perdue visited the normal last Wednesday and inspected the work in the various departments. He expressed himself as highly gratified with all he saw and heard.

Valentine 3-1-3; Ft. Robinson 2-7-14

The Valentine baseball boys matched their might with the fast Fort Robinson team the fore part of the week in a series of three games. The Sunday (first) game was an extra inning contest of the classy order and the locals succeeded in pulling off a brilliant victory after 12 innings of snappy playing. The game was a pitcher's battle, in which Grimes, the local slab artist, had a shade the best of it. The excitement never flagged from the cry "play ball" until the last man had been tagged. Our boys put up a fine exhibition of baseball and they are to be congratulated upon their splendid victory.

We hesitate to mention the last two games, for it sort of strikes discord in our gentler nature. It seems that our boys couldn't stand prosperity, for in the last end of the series they suffered two inglorious defeats. A little dumb playing, coupled with some disastrous errors, put the locals to the bad in each game. Hard luck and inability to hit the ball when hits meant runs was a vital factor in their defeat. On the other hand the soldier boys played in horse shoes, picked their hits in bunches and had a little merry-go-round all their own way.

Long Pine comes today for a game with the home team and we believe the Ft. Robinson series has given our boys sufficient experience to warrant a good game.
