MASSACRE SPANISH WORKMEN.

Troops Sent to Morocco to Check an Outbreak of Natives.

The first brigade of Casadors, composed of six battalions of infantry, three batteries of artillery and a squadron of cavalry, as well as the eruiser Namacia and the transport Admiral Lobo, have been ordered to Melilla, Morocco, where Saturday four Spanish workmen were killed by the natives, to reinforce the Spanish troops there. No further fighting was reported Saturday. The massacre of the Spanish workmen occurred simultaneously with the arrival at Madrid of the Moroccan mission, which, it is hoped, will be able to adjust the differences between Morocco and Spain regarding the Riff coast.

Outlaws Attack Them in Their Camp Near Afton, N. M.

A special from Afton, N M., thirtyfive miles west of El Paso, Tex., says: Outlaws attacked ten Texas horse bnyers in their camp late Sunday night and it is believed killed nine of them.

The horse traders were driving 300 head of cattle from New Mexico into Texas. When near Afton they camped for the night. The outlaws, who evidently had been trailing the Texans, then made the attack. Only one of the ten horse traders escaped, and he, although wounded, reached Afton and
