is a feature that everybody wants in comforts and we have it in the Maish Laminated Cotton Down Comfort. By a special process, the long strong fibers of the best, natural unbleached cotton are curled and woven into a network of minute springs which, unless pressure be applied, KEEP EXPANDED. In this respect Maish Comforts are on a par with the finest down comforts, of which the recognized features are loftiness, thickness and light weight. We would be pleased to show them to you.
