Dr. L. Marann of Ainsworth and Miss Viola Brosius were married Wednesday evening by Judge Quigly at the home of the brides mother. They left for Ainsworth on the night train. THE DEMOCRAT extends its congratulations.

Miss Wade entertained a party of young people last Saturday evening in the L. C. Sparks' laundry and thence took a trip down the alleys and to the grave yard, where de hob goblins, jack o' lanterns and spooks seemed a predominating feature.

A party of 21 Valentine ladies went to Wood Lake last Friday night to a Royal Neighbors Halloween party. They had a delightful time and all say that the Wood Lake people are royal entertainers. The program was excellent and the banquet following unexcelled.

Judge Harrington, at a special term of court held today sentenced Wm. L. Dillon to two years in the pen for embezzlement on a plea of guilty. George Brewer got two years for horse stealing. Grant H. Warren was given two years for disposing of mortgaged property, and Ralph Ellis, the man who took Elva Beauchamp to Kansas with him, was sentenced to three years on the charge of rape, each pleading guilty.

Who's the Town Booster? Why, Here He Is!

The citizen who praises his own town.

The citizen who encourages local enterprises.

The citizen who helps along home improvements.

The citizen who patronizes the home merchants.

The citizen who gets his job printing done in his own town.

That man's THE TOWN BOOSTER.

Geo. J. Gaskill is running a dray and delivery.

John Siedfor has been in town the past two weeks with his wife visiting her parents.

Fred Cumming sold the white mill team and wagon to Mac Cramer who will now do the hauling for the mill.

The election seems to have been a republican election. It is not the people's choice in such cases but rather party enthusiasm.

Thoroughbred Hereford Sale.

The attention of our readers is called to the public sale of the Brookmont Herefords at O'Neill, Nebr., Thursday, Nov. 18, 1909. There will be 40 head of Hereford cattle in this sale. The best of blood lines are represented and cattle of pronounced individual merit. Those of our readers that have followed Hereford history for the last 20 years are familiar with this herd of cattle. Some of the best sires of the breed have been used in building up this herd and it is conceded that Brookmont Farm has one of the greatest collections of Hereford cattle in the United States. They are making this sale at O'Neill on account of having a surplus of cattle on hand and with a desire to get acquainted with and extend their trade among the breeders and farmers of Nebraska. This will, undoubtedly, be the most desirable bunch of Hereford cattle sold in the state of Nebraska this fall. Cows, Heifers and bulls. Ask for a catalog which can be had by addressing either Cooks Brookmont Farm, Odebolt, Ia., or R. W. Barclay, Mason City, Ia., the Auctioneer in charge of the sale.

The Best Food for Workers.

The best food for those who work with hand or brain is never, high priced. The best example of this is found in Quaker Oats. It stands at the top among foods that supply nourishment and vigor, without taxing the digestion, and yet it is the least expensive food one can eat. This great food value and low cost make it an ideal food for families who want to get the greatest good from what they eat. Laborers, factory or farm hands, fed plentifully on Quaker Oats will work better and with less fatigue than if fed on almost any other kind of food. All of these facts were proved and very interesting information about human foods were gathered by Professor Fisher of Yale University in 1908. In addition to the regular package Quaker Oats is packed in large sized family packages either with or without china dishes.

the High school to meet "The Ghosts, Goblins and Green Squashes." This, they gladly consented to do. Upon arriving at the meeting place, Friday evening, they were loaded into hay racks, and finally landed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. House on the North Table. Ghosts conducted them into the house where they were welcomed by a witch. The room was lighted by Jack O' Lanterns, and then numbers were given out, and, as they were called, each person went outside. A ghost led them around to a small cellar window. Through this they all had to crawl. They went down into a spookier cellar. Here were skeletons in the corners which made your blood run cold and your hearts jump into your mouth as bats greeted you now and then. You wondered what was coming next, but you had not long to wait, as a ghost soon took you up a ladder and onto the garret roof. Then, crawling into the window, you were again frightened by more ghosts and bats. How thankful you were when you at last reached the ground and were on your way to the gypsy tent to have your fortune told. After everyone had gone through all the daring feats they were very thankful when the refreshments were served. The Freshmen did themselves justice in this supper and their manner of serving. The High school is very glad for a class of such royal entertainers to be considered of their numbers.

I have for sale 20 head of pure bred Shropshire and Ramboulette Rams. Am closing out and will sell cheap. D. A. Hancock Wood Lake, Nebr.

250 Good Stories.

The Youth's Companion abounds in stirring stories of adventure and heroism. One may describe an escape from accidental peril, another a strange encounter with wild creatures—man or beast. Many of these stories are true as to facts, and only disguised as to names and places. A score or more of such stories will be published during 1910 in addition to nearly 200 others—250 good stories in all, and no two alike. And this is not counting the serial stories, which is believed will be considered by all Companion readers as the best The Companion has ever published.

Every new subscriber will find it of special advantage to send at once the $1.75 for the new 1910 Volume. Not only does he get the beautiful "Venetian" Calendar for 1910, lithographed in thirteen colors and gold, but all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1909 from the time the subscription is received.
