

To Uneed a Biscuit

Hunger makes me think of you;
Thought of you makes me hungry.
Between the thought and sight of you,
Indeed I'm always hungry.

But with appetite awaiting—a nickle in hand and you
in store—who could wish for anything more?

J. E. Hendricks, the Eli merchant is rearranging the things in his store. Mr. Hendricks is doing a pretty good business in Eli.

John Ricketts, son of W. D., has quite a serious swelling on his jaw, just in front of the ear. It pains the little man considerably, and Mr. Ricketts is talking of taking him to a doctor.
J. E. Ricketts, brother of W. D., who is visiting at the home of his brother and family, expects to leave in a few days for his home in Harrison county Mo. We have not learned whether he intends to eat turkey in this country or not.
