With the great increase of values in heavy draft horses, it is but natural that the eastern importers will make strenuous efforts to show at the Nebraska state fair, Sept. 5 to 9, and Supt. J. A. Ollis of Ord is feeling that this department will make such a record as to fully satisfy all visitors, exhibitors and feeders, who are sure to be present in great numbers.

The contractors have begun work on the city water main, which comes down the east side of Main street. They are making rapid headway and we hope to see the other work progressing so as to get fresh water from a clean, new tank though very sorry it is to be a steel tank instead of a cement twin reservoir as the people expected for their money.

Martin Haley, father of W. E. Haley, of Valentine, died very suddenly of heart trouble last Sunday at the ranch of A. F. Cum-bow where he had been visiting several days. He was a familiar figure on our streets, walking along with his cane, bent with years and rheumatic pains, and always proudly wore the relics of St. Patrick's Day on the 17th of March, and like the famous "turnip that grew and grew behind the barn," Old Martin Haley never did anyone any harm. He came here several several years ago from Iowa to make his home with his son William. He was about 87 years of age.

Last Thursday was the sixth anniversary of ye scribe and his better half, whose father and mother were here to celebrate with us. Chas. N. Carpenter of York, who sells coal to our local dealers, happened to be in town on that day and he and Col. Davis met on the street as natural as down in the United States, and he being an old friend of the family was invited to the family circle at dinner. Our home grown lettuce, radishes and onions were admitted to be equal if not superior to those raised down in the United States and barring former prejudices of this country it was fast coming to the front and really better than it used to be or at least than they had believed it to be.

District Court.

District court is in session this week with Judge Harrington presiding and Jerry Scott reporter, taking the place of his brother Charles, who is busy at O'Neill building a home.

Tuesday forenoon was the busy time for naturalization of German-American citizens and other matters coming before the court.

Tuesday afternoon the case against Burdick charged with horse stealing was tried. The jury failed to convict the defendant, but Judge Harrington gave the young a few words of warning and good advice that ought to keep him mindful of the narrow escape, which is perhaps due mostly to his first defense and lack of desire of neighbors to prosecute.

Wednesday, the state vs Thomas J. Brown on charge of cattle stealing, or receiving and disposing of stolen cattle was begun.

There a large number of people in town from different parts of the county and especially from Wood Lake and southwards. Court will likely continue in session throughout the week as there is sufficient business on the docket if cases are all tried out in court.

A Wonderful Case!

C. W. Cramer, past 70 years of age, and for the past 17 years a resident of Cherry county, had a gold headed needle 2 1/2 inches long removed from the front part of his right leg about half way between the knee and ankle, three weeks ago yesterday.

He has no recollection of coming in contact with a needle that could have penetrated his flesh in the past, and the needle is an old design of which none have been in use to his knowledge for 40 years. Where it got there is a question. We can only surmise that it may have penetrated his leg when he was a child too young to know what ailed him. Mr. Cramer has suffered more or less from what was thought to be sciatic rheumatism in his right leg for the past 30 years.

Recently he bumped his leg against the wagon box, which caused the needle to penetrate, eye foremost, to the outer skin, which was very sensitive to the touch thereafter, and upon consulting Dr. Lewis, he thought it to be a piece of slivered bone protruding, only covered by the skin, and lancing it, disclosed the head of the needle and pulled it out with forceps.

Mr. Cramer is still hobbling around and his leg is very sore, but we think he is improving. He is the assessor for Table precinct and is a highly respected, honest and trustworthy citizen.

Moving Pictures Taken Here.

Scenes in the streets of this city will not only be taken by a moving picture camera, but shown on the circuits of a big film exchange, after running for several months in the Ak-Sar-Ben den at Omaha.

This is one of the benefits which the city will receive as a result of the visit of the Omaha and South Omaha business men who are coming one hundred and twenty-five strong May 23. They have arranged with a motion picture camera operator to accompany their special train and make pictures in every town and city where the light will permit.

The Omaha's have suggested that if a city has any special drive or trip representative of business or surroundings of this community, arrangements should be made to take the moving picture operator to the place immediately on arrival of the train. Some towns have arranged to have a parade of school children; others their fire department, while a few will have a live stock parade for the moving picture man to take.

The Ak-Sar-Ben den in Omaha is the big meeting place of the Nebraska boosters. It is where they entertain thousands of visitors every summer, beginning in June and continuing until October. The films made on this trip will be shown constantly at the den and then turned over to an exchange which has contracted to show them in the leading moving picture theatres in the west.

Pictures taken in this city will thus go around a long circuit and thousands will see the scenes reproduced, which will not be a bad advertisement for any town or city.

They will come here in a steel train of modern equipped Pullman coaches, and will have a military band and a big parade. Valentine wants every man, woman and child from the surrounding country to be in town Monday afternoon and have your picture taken. Don't miss it. It will be a sight worth seeing.

They arrive here at 4:05 p. m.
