M. Roberts, and the said purchase of tax sale was made for the year 1907, and said purchaser has paid the subsequent taxes for the years 1908 and 1909, and the time of redemption of said land from the aforesaid sale will expire on the 31st day of November, 1910, and on or after said last named date I will apply to the county treasurer of Cherry county, Nebraska, for a deed to said land.

GEORGE R. LAKEY,
Owner of said certificate.

When the Anti-Saloon League lays before the voters of Nebraska a scheme which it pretends gives the voters the option of casting ballots for or against the issuance of liquor licenses, the League knows it purposefully misrepresents the facts. The use of the word option is made purposely to deceive; because the voters will be permitted, under the county option scheme, to vote only for dry areas.

We have answered this call in our new book "Fighting the Traffic in Young Girls," by Ernest A. Bell, U. S. District Attorney Sims and others. The most sensational indictment of the White Slave Trade ever published. It tells how thousands of young girls are lured from their homes annually and sold into a life of shame. The Cincinnati Inquirer says: "Of all the books of the season the war on the white slave traffic is the most helpful; it should be read by every man, woman, and child."

"The whoopers-up for President Taft claimed that he was omnipotent and could force Congress to do anything he desired" declared Minority Leader Champ Clark, reviewing the session just closed in an interview with the writer.

"If that be true one thing must be admitted and that is that Mr. Taft is in favor of the reckless waste of public money.

"The total of appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1910 was $1,044,000,000, whereas the appropriations for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1911, are about $1,058,000,000, an increase of $14,000,000. Such expenditures are absolutely unjustifiable. When the president came into the office he declared for economy with a great flourish of trumpets. The newspapers were full of what he was going to do in that regard to relieve the tax payers of the land. But all such turned out to be thundering in the index as the foregoing totals show.

"I have heretofore stated in the House and out of it that Senator Aldrich said a good business man can run the government just as well as it is run for $300,000,000 per annum less than it now costs. The President himself fixed the amount which could be saved every year at $100,000,000. Other Republican big wigs, notably Senator Currier of Montana, Senator Hale of Maine, chairman of the House Appropriations committee, have talked economy; but the fact remains that their economy consists entirely of gab and that they actually increased the appropriations instead of reducing them.

"As they have large majorities in both Houses of Congress and could do as they pleased, one of two things is true; 1: They do not desire to economize; or 2: They are utterly incompetent.

"But how can President Taft expect Congress to economize when he sets the example of extravagance not only by using up the $25,000 annual allowance for traveling expenses, but uses up several thousand dollars more? Be it remembered no President ever received this travel pay till the last part of the Roosevelt regime and Roosevelt never used all of the allowance, while his successor uses more. How can Congress be expected to economize when the Vice-President and Speaker set the bad example by using automobiles paid for by the public money?

"I am aware that economy is a humble theme, but it is close to the hearts of the people and millions of them cannot afford to be taxed to support Republican officials in their reckless extravagance"

"It has become known in Washington that President Taft endeavored to have Roosevelt pay him a visit at the White House, and that the latter did not accept the invitation. This further emphasizes the story that the Taft administration has been so bad that Roosevelt will not dare to endorse it. It is said that at the President's invitation was carried to Roosevelt orally by Captain Archibald Butt, and delivered on the day of Roosevelt's return Senator Lodge of Massachusetts and Son-in-law Longworth, according to information which has leaked out, also made strenuous endeavors to have Roosevelt pay his respects to Taft at the White House, but T. R. balked.

Now comes Representative Butler Ames of Massachusetts, Republican insurgent, with the statement that the political machine of Senator Lodge of that state "is backed by all the large corporations and all the state and federal patronage at his command" and is used to "advance the selfish financial schemes of the large railroads, banking and manufacturing interests he serves in the halls of Congress. This is hardly news to well-informed men in Washington. Lodge is one of the Aldrich group, ever ready to increase the tariff and serve the corporate interests. He stated in the Senate one day that the ultimate consumer is a myth.

Protectionists assert that high tariff rates "protect" American workmen. What is meant by the word "protect?" The steel industry is one of the most highly protected industries in the United States. The high rates on steel products have "protected" the American workmen in that industry by driving them from the mills. Positions formerly filled by Americans are now occupied by the cheapest foreign labor. A report just made on conditions in the mills of the steel trust at Bethlehem, Pa. states 4,725 men or 51 per cent of all the employees, worked twelve hours a day 220 workmen had a twelve hour day except on Saturdays and 4203 employees had a workday of ten and one-half to eleven hours in length."

Thus does protection "protect" "Tariff protection makes for monopoly," declares Alfred Henry Lewis in Pearson's magazine. But that is not all he says. "Monopoly," he declares, "is robbery arranged for by law. Anyone who would be a monopolist would be a pickpocket could he be safe. The politicians in Washington have cheated and betrayed you. They owed you revision upward, promised you bread and gave you stone."

"How can the government control the trusts when the trusts control the government?" Senator Owen of Oklahoma.

The Evolution of Booster Bill

II.—Bill Sits Up and Thinks
Bill Blue was such a grumbly sort We called him "OLD BILL CROUCH" for short, Since short he was in speech and lock And soon got short in pocketbook.

Said Bill, "This town is on the bum, Its stores are punk, its climate run, And then the people he ran down Made Bill look hummer than the town."

His business they put on the blink, And this made Bill sit up and think, "THE MAN WHO KNOCKS," said he, "is plain, GETS HIS by being knocked again."

Bill changed his tune that very day, Since then the world has come his way, His coffers soon began to fill, Now we're all friends of "Booster Bill."
