Arthur Humeston.

There is something refreshing in an occasional entertainment that makes no pretense of "pointing a moral or adorning a tale." That is the character of entertainment that Mr. Arthur Humeston furnishes. In fact, his programs have neither head nor tail. They are delightful medleys of fun and fancy, music and mimicry, story and stunt, ranging from recitations to tunes from goblets and broken sticks.

Mr. Humeston works on the theory that there is a big place for the entertainment that is all entertainment. He has prepared his programs accordingly. The result is most pleasing. After all the bustle and grind of business, the cares and vexations of the household, the trials and problems through which we must pass, it is a delight to sit down and listen for an hour to a man like Humeston, who is a past master at ironing out wrinkles and recasting careworn countenances. Our people will have an opportunity to hear this versatile entertainer at the Quigley Hall, Oct. 24th. Tickets on sale at Chapman's drug store.
