In the District Court of Cherry County, Nebraska

In the matter of the application of William E. Haley, guardian of the estate of Alice May Seadore and Fred Seadore, minor heirs of John B. Seadore and Lizzie Seadore, deceased, for the sale of real estate for the support, maintenance and education of said minor heirs for the payment of the debts due and unpaid against the estate of said minors and investing any residue thereof for their use and benefit.

And it appearing from said petition that said real estate consists of unapproved public land from which but little income is derived that it would be for the best interests of said minor heirs that their interest in said real estate be sold and the proceeds thereof used for the support, maintenance and education of said minors and for their payment of debts due and unpaid against their estate and the investment of the residue for their use and benefit.

It is therefore, ordered that the next of kin of said minors and all persons interested in said estate appear before me at chambers at Rushville, Sheridan county, Nebraska, on the 18th day of March, 1911, at 10 o'clock a. m., to show cause, if any there be, why license should not be granted to the said William E. Haley, guardian, to sell said real estate for the purposes above set forth and it is further ordered that a copy of this order be published once each week for three consecutive weeks in the Valentine Democrat, a newspaper printed and published in said Cherry county, Nebraska, dated at chambers at Rushville, Sheridan county, Nebraska, this 17th day of February, 1911.

PURE FOOD LAW CRITICISED ON TOP

Branding Provision Being Tested Before Nebraska Supreme Court.

Lincoln, March 8.—The cases of the state against Friedrich brothers, Jacob Lichtenstetler, Ornan J. King, Burton T. Page and Lew Agnew under the pure food laws have begun in the supreme court, with John L. Webster appearing for the defendants and Attorney General Martin and his assistants, Ayres and Martin, for the state. The defense offered in the case of the last three named defendants, who are accused of selling Unecuda biscuit in unbranded packages, was that the pure food laws in such a case are interfering with interstate commerce and are therefore void. The state replied that the acts considered under the food laws are transactions within the boundaries of the state.
