SIXTEEN DEAD IN M'COOK WRECK

Two More Victims of Burlington Collision Die in Hospitals.

OPERATOR HELD RESPONSIBLE.

Official Investigation Shows Order Was Not Delivered to Train No. 12. Physicians Say More Victims May Succumb to Their Injuries.

Lincoln, May 31.—After an official investigation of the Burlington wreck near Indianola, Superintendent Allen made the following statement:

"The wreck was due to the failure of the operator at McCook to deliver an order to train No. 12."

McCook, Neb., May 31.—Two more victims of the Burlington wreck are dead, bringing the list of fatalities up to sixteen.

Miss Dean died in the hospital at Holdrege. Hiram Feekin died in the Cambridge hospital. The seriously injured were removed to these two places as soon as possible after the wreck. Mrs. Feekin is expected to die. H. H. Culbertson, whose wife is also among the list of dead, is another victim who cannot recover.

The body of Miss Dean was sent to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dean, at Minden. Her death was principally due to internal burns from escaping steam. She was twenty-seven years old and was, until her resignation this spring, a teacher in the Minden schools. She was on her way to Los Angeles to visit a brother, L. B. Thomas of Lincoln is the only other injured person in Holdrege whose condition is critical. He was badly scalded by steam. Upon orders from railroad officials, the body of T. J. Gately is being forwarded to Gretna.

REFER LORIMER CASE

Committee on Privileges and Elections to Name Bipartisan Subcommittee.

Washington, May 31.—A virtual agreement to refer the Lorimer case to the senate committee on privileges and elections with the understanding that that committee shall instruct the proposed inquiry to a bipartisan and bi-Lorimer subcommittee of eight was effected in the senate.

The agreement was the result of a conference of Democratic senators, at which the previous decision to support the Martin resolution was rescinded and all Democratic senators released from caucus obligations.

The bipartisan idea was suggested by Senator Stone, and while no vote was taken, it was generally accepted as a satisfactory compromise.

In general terms it meets the demands of the Democrats. Their suggestion is for the selection of a subcommittee, to be composed of two Republican members who voted for Lorimer in the last senate and two who did not and of two Democrats who voted for him and two who did not, with the understanding that in case of a tie vote on the admission of testimony, it will be admitted.

It is understood that the subcommittee on investigation will consist of Senators Ellingham and Gamble (Rep.) and Fletcher and Johnstone (Dem.) pro-Lorimer, and Senators Clapp and Keayon (Rep.) and Kern and Lea (Dem.) anti-Lorimer.

The final disposition of this matter by the senate was postponed until the next meeting on Thursday.

RULE OF REASON TO BE THE GUIDE

Administration's Policy With Respect to Late Trust Decision.

NOTHING NEW IN ATTITUDE.

Decision as to Criminal Prosecutions of Members of Tobacco Trust Not Yet Reached by the Government. Many Bills Before Congress.

Washington, May 31.—That the government means to formulate its anti-trust policies in accordance with the "rule of reason," as laid down by the supreme court in the Standard Oil and tobacco trust decisions, notwithstanding the vigorous dissents of Associate Justice Harlan, and the many bills introduced in the senate to amend the Sherman anti-trust law, was made evident.

Administration officials, after consideration and study of the tobacco decision and a thorough comparison with the Standard Oil decision, were agreed that "the rule of reason" is no new feature of the supreme court's interpretation of law, and one member of the cabinet, whose views have always been regarded as reflecting those of the administration, made a comprehensive statement to that effect.

The statement was attributed to "an official close to the administration."

The possibilities of criminal prosecutions of the individual members of the tobacco trust, which was ordered dissolved by the supreme court, are being carefully considered at the department of justice.

Neither Attorney General Wickersham nor any of his associates on the big case would make any statement as to the probable course of the government and no decision on that point is likely to be made for several days.

In respect to criminal prosecutions, however, the tobacco case is said to differ somewhat from the Standard Oil case. In the latter, Attorney General Wickersham said no criminal prosecutions were under way, but declined to say positively that none were contemplated. Certain questions regarding the application of the statute of limitation enter into both cases and it is said that the legal problems are very delicate ones.

May Delay Amendments.

Sentiment in favor of amending the Sherman anti-trust law so as to make "overly" restraint of trade a violation of the law, instead of only "unreasonable" restraints, was pronounced by several senators as perceptibly reduced by the decision of the supreme court in the tobacco case.

No intention, however, of abandoning the proposed attempt to amend the law has been announced by the senators who introduced amendments in the senate just after the Standard Oil decision. It is said nevertheless that a stubborn defense of the law and of the interpretation by the court would be made on the floor of the senate if the amendments are urged for passage.

The drastic remedy held over the heads of the defendants in the tobacco case in event they do not remedy the evils complained of by the court, is said to have strengthened the faith of those who accepted the majority opinion of the court in the Standard Oil case as the proper course. The decree in the tobacco case is taken by such persons as showing that the Sherman anti-trust law is an instrument by which every evil of this nature in interstate commerce may be crushed out, "if the government only possesses the will and energy to do so."

The decision of the supreme court has been read with interest by President Taft and members of his cabinet, but it is probably they will prefer to wait for several months to outline definite anti-trust policies. If additional legislation is then thought necessary, President Taft will recommend it in his message to congress.

Decatur, Ind., May 31.—Harvey Parker hanged his four-year-old daughter from a rafter in his barn just before he committed suicide in the same manner. Mrs. Parker discovered the two bodies. She cut down the child, who showed signs of life, but left her husband hanging until the coroner arrived. The child is expected to recover. Neighbors say jealousy was responsible for the husband's deed.
