Jack Roach of Ainsworth was instantly killed the night of the 4th. He had gone to Long Pine to spend the day and on the way home fell under the wheels of a train. The body was terribly mangled making identification difficult even for members of the family. Mr. Roach was about 27 years old and leaves a wife and one child.

July 4th was a quiet day in Valentine, many going to Rosebud, Crookston, Sparks and Higgins' Grove to celebrate. Rosebud and Crookston drew the largest crowds. Eight automobiles loaded with Valentine people, went up to Rosebud in the morning, some coming back by the way of St. Francis Mission and Crookston.

Now that the State Fair management have fenced in 15 acres additional of lawn and grove on which to pitch tents for those who wish to camp during the week, the camping idea promises to grow in Nebraska the same as it has in Iowa. Last year nearly ten thousand farmers camped the entire week on the Iowa Fair Grounds. This privilege permits an inexpensive outing and there is enough to see at the Fair Grounds to keep every moment employed during the entire period. Bring your family with you to the Fair September 4th to 8th.

Mr. Perdue and Mr. Williams representing respectively the Macmillan and the Silver Burdett Co. spent last Thursday visiting the normal. Mr. Perdue was formerly deputy state superintendent.

The department of public instruction is making a rule requiring that all state certificates for positions under the county superintendent be registered in her office in order to make them valid. They are also holding that those who are excused from institute attendance should pay the institute attendance fee.

The fudge party promised by the basket ball girls to those who put the basket ball grounds in shape occurred last Thursday evening at Sparks'. The guests were feasted with all sorts of delicious concoctions of the kind for which Valentine girls are famous and they feel fully recompensed for any blisters, callouses or aching muscles that may have been received while clearing the grounds.
