

DAISY FLY KILLER
Kills any fly, whether it be a house fly, stable fly, or any other fly. It is a powerful, quick-acting poison. It is safe for all domestic animals. It is sold in all drug stores.

Sioux City Directory
JOHN J. KEEFE
BUILDING CONTRACTOR
First and Nebraska Streets, SIOUX CITY, IOWA

Established 30 Years
J. C. RENNISON & Co.
FLORISTS
Floral emblems and cut flowers for all occasions. SIOUX CITY, IOWA

EVIDENTLY SHE WAS ANNOYED

Good Wife's Punishment, Intended for Husband, Poor Compensation to Revivalist.

A popular revivalist had been holding services at a town in Mississippi when a heavy rain came on, and he accepted an invitation to pass the night at the house of one of the townsmen. Observing the preacher's drenched clothing, the host brought out a suit of his own and sent his guest upstairs to don it.

The good man had made the change and was on his way back to the sitting room, when the woman of the house came out of another room, holding in her hands the big family Bible, out of which the minister was to be invited to read a chapter before the family went to bed.

She was not, however, in a very amiable frame of mind, for careful housewives are likely to be put out of sorts by the advent of unexpected company. Seeing the revivalist in his borrowed garments, she mistook him for her husband, and as he passed in front of her she lifted the book and brought it down sharply on his head.

"There!" she exclaimed. "Take that for asking him to stay all night!"

—Lippincott's Magazine.

IN THE COUNTRY.

The City Man—Your father, I believe, cleared the land of everything. The Countryman—Yes—everything but the mortgage.

Time to Reorganize.
"I asked her to marry me, and she gave me a supreme court answer."
"What kind of an answer is that?"
"Said she would give me six months to readjust myself so as to be acceptable."—Puck.

Her Method.
Mistress—Have you a reference?
Bridget—Foine; oi held the poker over her till I got it.—Harper's Bazar.

The worst thing about having money is the way everybody worries for fear he won't be able to prevent you from keeping it.

Nobody admires a knocker, yet he can always get an audience.

"That's Good"
Is often said of Post Toasties
when eaten with cream or rich milk and a sprinkle of sugar if desired.

That's the cue for housekeepers who want to please the whole family.

Post Toasties are ready to serve direct from the package—

Convenient
Economical
Delicious

"The Memory Lingers"
Sold by Grocers

POSTUM CEREAL CO., Ltd.,
Battle Creek, Mich.

BONES OF MASTODON

Fossil of One of World's Most Colossal Creatures.

Three Mammoth Molars Unearthed in Old Doggett Mine, Near Walker, California—Largest Contain Four Cuspids Each.

San Francisco, Cal.—Five gigantic teeth, which in some prehistoric period probably graced the cavernous mouth of a mastodon, predecessor of the mammoth, and one of the most colossal creatures that have ever inhabited the earth, have been unearthed in the old Doggett mine, on the banks of the Klamath river, near Walker, Cal. The three largest of these stupendous molars contain four cuspids each, each tooth measuring seven inches across from the first to the last cuspid and a little over six inches from the tip of the root, or that part of it which remains, to the top of the center cuspid. The teeth measure four and a half inches in width.

In a remarkable state of preservation, they were found in a pocket of sand and gravel eighteen feet under the surface of the earth, by a gang of shovelmen in charge of Edward B. Frost, a mining engineer, who was in charge of an excavation project at the mine.

That the teeth were those of an herbivorous animal seems evident from their evenness. They are too large to have belonged to the mammoth. This would seem to indicate that they belonged to the mastodon, which towered in size above the mammoth as that creature did above the modern elephant.

Close to the teeth was found an ancient stone hatchet, which is believed to belong to a period co-existent with that in which the animal to which the teeth belonged is believed to have lived. Indians of the Klamath river tribes, on being shown the hatchet, declared that they had never seen or heard of anything resembling it, and the medicine men and chiefs stated that the traditions of their people contained no account to show that the hatchet had ever been made or used by them.

In the same pocket where the teeth were found was a horn seven and a half feet long, which crumbled in the hands of the shovelmen when they attempted to take it up. The horn measured at the butt fourteen inches in diameter, but, according to Frost, who has spent some time in Alaska, where he saw several specimens of the horn of the prehistoric mammoth unearthed, it bore no resemblance to the horn of that animal. The horn, Frost states, was of the same contour as that of ordinary cattle, and contained a core and a thin shell similar to that of the ox.

These relics were found in a stratum of earth which bears evidence of being the ancient channel of the Klamath or some other river from which the Klamath was evolved. The general formation of the earth gives every indication of having been massed ages and ages ago, and from the trees and the partly petrified trunks of trees which were found at bedrock twelve feet under where the relics were unearthed, there is every reason to believe that the teeth have lain imbedded where they were found upward of 10,000 years.

That the teeth and horn could not have traveled far from the very spot where the animal met his death is the belief of Frost. He bases this on the fact that the gravel would grind to a powder anything that was caught in it as it slowly moved along as a mighty mass in the process of creating some new geologic formation. This he states is partly proved by the quick disintegration of the horn once it was touched by the hand of man.

Child Nicknames a City.
Charleston, W. Va.—"The Cog City," meaning coal, oil and gas, has been adopted as the slogan for Charleston at a large open-air meeting on the capitol lawn. Miss Nan McDowell, aged 14, suggested the name, and it was selected out of 1,300 suggestions.

Sentences Prisoner to Job

Judge Sabbath of Chicago Gets Employment for Young Man Who Was Pursued by Misfortune.

Chicago.—"Young man, you have a good face. I sentence you to work at $1.50 a day."
"Judge, that's fine."
"And here's a dollar. Get a room near the factory."
It didn't take five minutes, yet Sabbath, sitting in the Maxwell street police court, the other day, heard Harry Jackson's story of woe, took stock in it, got him a job and gave him a dollar with which to make a good start. Thirty minutes after the case had been called and he was led to Judge Sabbath's bench by a policeman, Jackson was at work.

Jackson was arrested by the Maxwell street police. He was idle and was taken on suspicion. He told Judge Sabbath a story of hard luck. He said wherever he turned misfortune pursued him, even caught up with him and detained him.

"I'm not a 'bun' judge," Jackson said sorrowfully. "I'm just playing in fierce luck. For seven weeks I've slept out of doors. I'm an orphan and I ain't got anybody to help me when

TEMPLE FOR SCOTTISH RITE MASONS

FRONT OF THE TEMPLE

WASHINGTON.—The Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry for the southern jurisdiction of the United States soon will commence the erection of a mammoth temple in Washington, which it is expected will be the largest and most magnificent of its kind in the world. The cost of the site was $164,000, and the cost of the new temple when completed will exceed a million dollars. Classic in design, the structure will be of white marble, four stories high, with two basements. The building will be square in shape, the frontage 156 feet and depth the same and have a gold dome rising 160 feet from the street level. The steps leading to the temple will be symbolic of the Masonic degrees. On the terrace will rest symbolic and allegorical statuary. Over the massive portals of the entrance to the temple will be a golden sunburst, the rays of which will flash from the symbolic double eagle and triangle of the thirty-third degree. Above this will rise great columns, 33 in all, each 33 feet high, which will support the temple on three sides and support the entablature, from which rises the square shaped golden dome. Each one of the 33 states in the southern council will be provided with an apartment on the main floor. The cathedral, which will be the crowning glory of the temple, will occupy the entire upper floor of the building. The temple will be completed in time for use of the international conference of supreme councils of the world, 26 in all, which meets with the southern council in Washington in October, 1912.

King George Has 'Phone

Special Exchange Has Been Installed in Buckingham Palace With Three Fifty-Line Boards.

London.—Among many other improvements at Buckingham palace, sweeping alterations have been made in regard to the telephone department, which in King Edward's time was of the most primitive description. The late king heartily disliked the telephone and never used it if he could manage without it, but King George, who is methodical and businesslike, uses it constantly day and night.

The general postoffice has now installed a special exchange to the palace with three fifty-line switchboards, two for day and one for night service. There is an extension from the switchboard to the king's private apartments and in addition, the king has a private exchange line of his own which is used for specially private conversation on affairs of state with cabinet ministers and high officials.

There is also a private wire to Windsor castle and to the residence of Lord Knollys, Sir Arthur Biggs and other court officials; to Marlborough house, York house, the residence of the duke of Connaught and St. James Palace.

The most extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent these private conversations from being overheard. The king's number, which is, of course, not made public, is "832 Westminster," but any one who expected to "get through to the king" by calling up that number would be disappointed.

Queen Mary, in addition to the same facilities, has a private line from her boudoir to the children's school rooms, and she, too, uses the telephone on every possible occasion. King George frequently gets through a lot of business on the telephone before he goes out at nine o'clock for his ride in Hyde Park.

FAMINE IN CIRCUS LEMONADE
New Yorker Gets Away With Forty-seven Glasses of Concoction—Owner of Pushcart Loses.

New York.—Well, as "Loole Zietmer, rear admiral of the East Side Land and Water Wireless News service, reports, it was this way:
"Dugan was as dry as a fish, but Bloomstein could not quench his thirst. 'Ice cold lemonade! It's ice cold! Keep cool! One cent a glass,' was shouting Harry Bloomstein, the lemonade peddler, as he pushed his small cart containing a large glass cask of lemonade in it along Pitt street the other day as he stopped in front of Dave Reiff's barber shop at No. 47 Pitt street.

"John Dugan, known as 'Red' Dugan, the coach driver, had just returned from a trip on Long Island and stopped in front of Reiff's shop. 'I am as dry as a fish,' said Dugan, and rushed over to the lemonade man: 'How much is a glass of lemonade,' said Dugan.
"One cent a glass."
"Such a small glass," said Dugan. Bloomstein answered, 'Never mind, the glass is thin and holds more than a large glass that is thick.'
"Your glasses are very small; I can drink forty of them."
"Yes, he can," said the barber, and I believe, the whole jar."
"Reiff, who knows Dugan and the great appetite he has and who come time ago ago ate over forty-six bananas from Bromsky's pushcart, knew what he was talking about.
"Ah, I can't believe it, mister,' said the peddler, 'he cannot drink all my lemonade.'
"Another who knew Dugan's wonderful appetite said, 'And if he don't finish and drink over forty glasses I'll pay you, and if he does you don't get paid.'
"All right, all right," said the peddler.
"The crowd watched and all eyes gazed at the lemonade peddler and Dugan, who kept right on drinking until he finished forty-seven glasses of the lemonade. You ought to see the face change on Bloomstein. The others who waited to buy a drink went dry."

ALL OVER NEBRASKA.
School Faculty at Valentine.
Cherry County.—The school board of Valentine has hired the full number of teachers for the high school there as follows: Superintendent, G. W. Eaton of Fremont, Neb., principal, Mabel Helzer of this city; assistant principal, Hattie Brown.

University Summer School.
Lancaster County.—Commencement exercises of the summer school of the University of Nebraska were held last week. Seven were granted the degree of master of arts, while thirteen become bachelors of arts or science. Two were graduated from the college of law.

Violated Smoking Law.
Deuel County.—The first prosecution under the anti-smoking law that was passed by the last legislature applying to boys under 18 years of age was brought before County Judge Isaac Woolf. It being the first case the judge let the boy off with a fatherly talk.

City of Beatrice Enjoined.
Gage County.—A restraining order was issued in the federal court by Judge Munger preventing the city of Beatrice and its officials from enforcing the electric rate ordinance against the Beatrice Electric company until the merits of the case can be heard in court.

Autos on Boosters' Tour.
Nemaha County.—Fifty automobiles left Auburn accompanied by the Auburn band on a boosters' trip for the purpose of advertising the Auburn chautauqua and the German-American picnic, two coming events. It was a spectacular array of banners and flags that decorated the fifty different cars.

Suicide at Soldiers' Home.
Hall County.—Silas Crego, an employe at the Soldiers' Home, committed suicide by drinking strychnine in port wine. The act was plainly premeditated. Several notes, one to Commandant Hoyt and one to his roommate, were found on his person, asking that his father, George Crego of Aurora, be notified and directing the disposal of his effects.

Summer Normal at Chadron.
Dawes County.—The summer normal school in the high school building at Chadron, closed Friday and the new normal building was formally accepted by the State Normal board from the contractors. The principal address of the forenoon was by Rev. Roach of Lincoln, but the shorter address of the principal of the Wayne normal was also greatly appreciated. The acceptance of the new normal building was by Hon. J. J. Tooley.

Second Regimental Band.
Merick County.—There is great joy among the members of the Central City band and their supporters, which means the whole town, because it has been made a regimental band under the direction of the state military department. Adjutant General Phelps of Lincoln and Colonel Mack of Albion were there and listened to it render a few selections and were not slow in rendering their decision and hereafter the local organization will be known as the Second regimental band, Nebraska National Guard.

Hitchcock to Speak in Omaha.
Douglas County.—Frank Hitchcock, Postmaster General, will address the National Postmasters of the United States, when they hold their annual convention in Omaha in September 12-14. Mr. Hitchcock has recently issued an order, giving a leave of absence to all first-class postmasters on these dates, and it is expected that six hundred will attend the convention.

Nebraska at Land Show.
Douglas County.—Preparations are now well under way to have Nebraska handsomely and effectively represented at the Omaha Land Show from October 16 to 28. Commercial and development associations in various parts of the state have gone earnestly to work gathering and arranging for agricultural and other specimens that will make the finest display to be seen at the Land Show. Realizing that much is due to the State of Nebraska, since it is the home state of the Land Show, the management has selected the most desirable section of the immense Coliseum for the exhibits. The Nebraska section is in the most prominent part of the building on the stage. The exhibits that will be placed there will be seen from any point in the huge structure. Whether a visitor to the Land Show be in the midst of a throng on the main floor or arena, or whether he be in the opposite end of the building on the balcony he will observe the Nebraska display standing out prominently.

Farmer Loses Wheat.
Washington County.—Two wheat stacks belonging to William Sheeks were burned to the ground, the stacks catching fire from the traction engine. The separator narrowly escaped destruction.

Injured by Mowing Machine.
Sheridan County.—Water, the 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Richards, living two miles southwest of Rushville, fell from a mower while cutting hay and was unconscious when found shortly afterwar'

NOTHING BUT AN AMATEUR
Fair Damsel's Questions That Revealed Callow Lover in His True Light.
"Do you really and truly think I am beautiful?" she asked.
"You are simply divine," he replied.
"But there are other girls whom you think more beautiful than I."
"No, I don't think there is a more beautiful girl in the world than you."
"There are other girls you think are just as beautiful, though."
"You are more beautiful than any other girl I ever saw."
"I suppose there are plenty of girls whom you consider almost as beautiful as I am."
"I think you are far more beautiful than any other girl that ever breathed."
"Well, why didn't you say that in the first place?"
"That was what I meant if I didn't exactly say so."
"O, well, go on. My goodness! Must I suggest everything nice that you say to me?"
"What more can I say?"
"Heavens, I'm not going to sit here giving you lessons. I thought the way you started out that you had made love before."

J. PIERPONT, NO DOUBT.

Smith—My boy thinks he'll be a pirate when he grows up.
Jones—Thinks there is more money in piracy than anything else, eh?
Smith—Yes; but I think he's got Morgan, the buccaner, mixed up with Morgan, the financier.

To Laugh at Tuberculosis.
Much ignorance prevails among the unfortunate victims of tuberculosis and families of these unfortunates, according to the Los Angeles Herald. For such as these the words spoken by Adolphus Knopf should be chiseled in imperishable granite. Or, better still, they should be punished in every public print, viz: "There is no such thing as hereditary tuberculosis. The remedy is simple and all should know it. It is one of the most easily curable of all the chronic infectious diseases. You can cure consumption by the untimed use of God's good fresh air, twenty-four hours in twenty-four, plenty of good food and plenty of good water, inside and out. You all know that cleanliness is next to godliness. Children should get all the fresh air possible. They should sleep and play in the open air. They should attend open air schools."

Unexpected.
Suddenly the umpire called time.
"Aw, what's the matter!" demanded the catcher.
"Somebody in the grand stand applauded me," he said, wiping the blinding tears from his eyes, "and I wasn't prepared for that. . . . Play ball!"

Truthfully Said.
"My friend, you should join the church. As the prophet says 'Come thou with us and we will do thee good.'
"You have already, parson. I was at your church fair last night."—Smart Set Magazine.

STRONGER THAN MEAT
A Judge's Opinion of Grape-Nuts.

A gentleman who has acquired a judicial turn of mind from experience on the bench out in the Sunflower State writes a carefully considered opinion as to the value of Grape-Nuts as food. He says:
"For the past 5 years Grape-Nuts has been a prominent feature in our bill of fare."
"The crisp food with the delicious, nutty flavor has become an indispensable necessity in my family's everyday life."
"It has proved to be most healthful and beneficial, and has enabled us to practically abolish pastry and pies from our table, for the children prefer Grape-Nuts, and do not crave rich and unwholesome food."
"Grape-Nuts keeps us all in perfect physical condition—as a preventive of disease it is beyond value. I have been particularly impressed by the beneficial effects of Grape-Nuts when used by ladies who are troubled with face blemishes, skin eruptions, etc. It clears up the complexion wonderfully."
"As to its nutritive qualities, my experience is that one small dish of Grape-Nuts is superior to a pound of meat for breakfast, which is an important consideration for anyone. It satisfies the appetite and strengthens the power of resisting fatigue, while its use involves none of the disagreeable consequences that sometimes follow a meat breakfast." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.
Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a Reason."
Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.