Valentine

Wm. Gilmour visited in Ewing over Sunday.

Max Viertel of Crookston was here on business Tuesday.

Dr. M. F. Meer and Will Haley spent Sunday in Long Pine.

Robert Wyatt was up from Pur-dum the first of the week.

Mrs. James Morris of Johnstown visited in Valentine Monday.

Mrs. Wm. Palmer and daughter were in from Harmony Friday.

A wagon bridge and about twenty seats were built at the park the first of the week.

Genevieve Weed, of Independence, Mo., is here visiting her brothers, George and Alma Weed.

Bessie, the 7 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Salmon, while playing on the back porch at the family home, Friday, fell and broke her right arm below the elbow.

The last legislature passed a resolution to hold a reunion at the State Fair. Twelve o'clock Wednesday, Sept. 6th, has been the time selected and the place to hold it in the New Live Stock Judging Coliseum. This will give our farmers a chance to see what a real legislature looks like.

Mrs. Wm. Palmer returned to her home at Harmony, Friday, after a three weeks' visit in Oregon. She reports a very good time, but thinks Cherry county a paradise compared with eastern Oregon, Wyoming and Idaho.
Western Oregon is fine. While there she visited Mr. and Mrs.
James Pettycrew. They have a pretty home in Salem surrounded with beautiful flowers and fine fruit, they are happy and contented, but still like Cherry county. On the way home she stopped at Mr. and Mrs. Grant Dunn's in Woodburn. They too have a fine home. Mr. Dunn bought an orchard where he has nearly completed a fine residence. They are getting along nicely. Mildred, who was employed in a millinery store in Salem, is now working in a store in Woodburn. Harold is employed by his uncle John Bell, who is in the newspaper business.
Mrs. Palmer dislikes to leave Cherry county but the condition of Mr. Palmer's health makes it necessary for her to go back.

THE DOCTOR'S QUESTION

Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that ninety-eight per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Rexall Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effects. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Three sizes, 5c., 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store. G.
A. Chapman.

Strayed or Stolen.

Five head of two-year-old colts, consisting of 2 black geldings and 1 bay gelding, branded 5 on left shoulder; 1 black mare, no brand, but has a blood wart on front left foot. This is a large mare. One brown mare, branded 5 on left shoulder. These horses strayed or were stolen from the pasture two miles northwest of the T O ranch about three weeks ago. Reward offered to finder or for information about them.

The Sense of Smell.

"It is the upper part of the nose that smells," said a perfumer. "The lining there is very sensitive and brown in color, not red, as in the lower nose.
Men are more sensitive to odors than women. Scientific tests have shown, I believe, that, while many men can detect the smell of prussic acid even when there is only one part of the acid to two million parts of water, the average woman fails to detect the smell if there are less than ten parts of the acid. Though the white man is much less sensitive to odors than the savage, a prolonged stay in a part of the world where smells are few puts a very fine edge on the sense of smell.
Dr. Nansen has declared that when returning from the ice world to Franz Josef Land he knew when he was approaching the assistant he had left there by smelling his scented soap long before he saw him. He could, too, when approaching the hut have given an inventory of the stores there, as he smelled everything it contained separately and distinctly."

Ruled His Servants by Fines.

Sir Richard Newdigate, a seventeenth century Warwickshire squire, whose papers were published some years ago by one of his descendants, ruled his servants by a system of fines. The value at which he rated domestic crimes is shown by such entries in his diary as: "Nan Newton, for breaking a teapot, 2s. 6d.; Richard Knight, for pride and slighting, 2s. 6d.; William Hetherington, for not being ready to go to church three Sundays, 18 pence; Thomas Birdall, for being at Nunaton from morning till night, 5 shillings; cook, dead drunk, 10 shillings." As his cook's wages were only £8 a year she paid pretty dearly for her lapse from sobriety. Sir Richard had a system of rewards as well as penalties.
"To my three daughters," he writes, "because they came to prayers, 3 shillings," and "to Tom Cooper, who worked hard after he broke his head, 2s.
6d."

Origin of Foxe's "Book of Martyrs."

Foxe's "Book of Martyrs" was published in March, 1563, as the "Actes and Monuments" of the martyrs, a title borrowed from an earlier book, says the London Chronicle. The famous volume might never have appeared at all but for the association of Foxe with the printer Day of Aldersgate street, in whose business Foxe took an active part. On the tombstone of Day in the church of Little Bradley, Suffolk, the partnership is thus immortalized:
He et a Fox to wright how martyrs runne By death to life; Fox ventured paynes and health
To give them light; Daye spent in print his wealth.

Even in those days the alien problem troubled industry, for we find Foxe appealing to Cecil to relax the law and permit his friend Day to engage more than four foreign printers.

Iron In Plants.

Iron is the substance which gives the green appearance to foliage. It forms a constituent part of chlorophyll and is the green coloring matter which stains the bodies inside the cells of leaves, called plastids. When the first organized food is being formed in the leaves from water and carbonic acid gas a certain amount of energy is required. This is obtained from the sun's rays, but the work of absorbing it is carried out by the chlorophyll.
It requires very little iron for the production of all the chlorophyll found in a crop, and nearly all soils contain an abundant supply.

The Human Clock.

The Spanish painter Ribera, Mr. Haldane Macfall recalls in his "History of Painting," worked with such fervor that all count of time was lost to him.
"He made a living clock to check the passing hours. His servant came every hour to the studio to say in a loud and stately voice, 'Another hour has gone, Signor Cavaliere!'"

He Won.

"Before you kiss me, Horace, let me tell you that Fred has given Kitty a diamond ring. You have never given me one."
"Dearest, it is only girls who are not precious in themselves who require the aid of precious stones."
"Oh, you may kiss me twice, Horace."

Pen and Sword.

"Do you believe the pen is mightier than the sword?"
"Of course it is. Who ever had to pay $25,000 damages in a breach of promise case on account of the sword he carried?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Rule of Life.

We should meet each morning as from foreign countries and, spending the day together, should depart at night as into foreign countries. In all things I would have the island of a man inviolate.—Emerson.

The Irony of Fate.

"Speaking of the irony of fate"—
"Well?"
"I know an artist who earns money to pay his divorced wife alimony by drawing Cupids."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

One Was Enough.

Milton was one day asked by a friend whether he would instruct his daughters in the different languages.
"No, sir," he said, "one tongue is sufficient for any woman."

She Knew.

"But do you think I could deceive my own little wife?"
"No, I know you could not, but I believe you are silly enough to try."
