TELEPHONE NO. 7

My very dear old Hackberry Neighbors:—We have received word through several of you, that you had planned a farewell surprise party for us Saturday night had we not unexpectedly moved away during the day. The surprise the evening before was a very happy one and we supposed that was the end of it, and moved to Valentine on Saturday, just in time to miss the glorious time your party would have given us. Our hearts are filled with regret that we did not know you were coming, but in fancy we see your bright smiles and hear your merry laughter and the delightful songs by that matchless quartette; and while we have sacrificed you as neighbors we are happy to still hold your friendship. Our memories of you will ever be fond and tender and as lasting and life-long as the evergreen. Although we miss you deeply, you know the glad welcome of the clever hearts of Valentine would make sunshine and happiness for anyone, so that we are indeed quite content in our little new home.

Very respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. Milt Latta.

J. M. Ganow died suddenly of heart trouble at his home near Oasis on Saturday Nov. 18, aged 72 years. Mr. Ganow was apparently in his usual good health and had been attending to the work around the place. About 1:30 while sitting in the house he was stricken and died instantly. Mr. Ganow was one of the early settlers, coming to Cherry county in 1887. Besides a wife he leaves nine children, seven of whom were at the funeral, which was held from the M. E. church on Monday. Rev. Haislop preached the funeral sermon and the remains were laid to rest in Mt. Hope cemetery. Four sons acted as pall bearers.

ANNOUNCEMENT

For a number of years past, Christian Hansen, the famous Danish Violin Virtuoso, has been appearing before crowded houses, pleasing the people with his "one man, one instrument" concerts. This season he is being assisted by Ethel Belle Haynes, one of the very best lady entertainers in the Lyceum field. Miss Haynes is not only an exceptionally talented pianist and accompanist, but as a reader and impersonator she has displayed more than ordinary ability. Christian Hansen began playing the "king of all instruments" at the early age of seven years. He was placed under the instruction of several of the most famous Scandinavian instructors. After he grew to man-hood he spent four years of hard study in Germany.

Mr. Hansen and Miss Haynes will present a program rich in originality and talent. Enough of the classical to be edifying, sufficient of the old melodies to appeal to the heart, and plenty of wholesome fun. These two talented people will appear at Quigley's Hall in Valentine, Monday evening, Nov. 27. Prices are within range of all. Admission for adults 50 cents. Advance sale of tickets will be reserved on Saturday preceding the entertainment, at Chapmans. List your tickets in advance with Miss Nellie Narber to make sure of good seats. Regular tickets will be on sale at Chapman's on date of entertainment.

In preparing the Thanksgiving dinner, the work of the housewife will be much lessened by patronizing the food sale, given by the Ladies' Guild at T. C. Hornby's store, Wednesday Nov. 29, at ten o'clock.

Stockmen Attention.

Stockmen and breeders of pure bred stock in Cherry county are requested to attend this meeting. Having been elected president of our organization in Cherry county I have called a meeting for Nov. 28, to be held in the district court room at Valentine, Nebr. It is to the interest of every stockman who is interested in pure bred stock, as well as our ranchmen who are interested in raising high class cattle to attend this meeting and become members of the association. This is an organization which is in a class by itself, and needs the cooperation of all stockmen in this county to make it a success. The organization will be perfected for the purpose of protecting the buyers as well as sellers of pure bred stock. Dr. W. E. Taylor will also speak on soil culture on this date. You will have a good time so be sure and come to this meeting, the first of its kind in Cherry county.

GEORGE CHRISTOPHER,
Pres. of Association.

SELENIUM A RARE ELEMENT.
Use for Reproducing Photographs by Telegraph.

Selenium is a rare and little known element described by the United States Geological Survey as having its greatest use in the manufacture of certain glasses to which it gives a red color and in coloring enameled ware red. It is used to overcome the natural green color of ordinary glass and also in making glass of a distinct red color such as that used on railroads for signal lights. Selenium has the peculiar property of being a very poor conductor of electricity in the dark and a fairly good conductor in the light, and a number of electrical inventions depend on this peculiarity. It has been used in experiments in telephoning along a ray of light, and for transmitting sounds and photographs from one place to another by means of a telephone or telegraph wire.
