

A NEAR OUTBREAK

CITIZENS OF DENVER, COLO., INCENSED OVER OUSTING OF AN ASSESSOR.

MEETING OF PROTEST HELD

Crowd Hoists Henry J. Arnold, the Dismissed Man, on Its Shoulders and Starts for Courthouse to Place Him Back in Office.

Denver, Colo.—Colorado's state capitol was the scene of an unusual demonstration, participated in by more than 10,000 persons, including women and children, and it came near resulting in a riot.

The public had been invited to be at the west front of the building to join in a demonstration against Mayor Robert W. Speer and the city council.

The climax came near the meeting's close, when Henry J. Arnold was hoisted upon the shoulders of several anti-Speer enthusiasts. Arnold was recently ousted as county assessor by Mayor Speer, illegally, it is claimed by Arnold's supporters.

"We do not purpose to regain the office to which the people elected me by force," said Mr. Arnold, "but I shall reoccupy the office under the law."

"You won't have to wait for the law," someone shouted.

"We will put you in the office where you belong right now," shouted another.

Then an immense throng crowded in about the ousted official and eager hands caught him up and bore him upon their shoulders out into the crowd in an effort to reach the county courthouse but a few blocks away. Cooler heads soon ended the demonstration.

MORE BODIES RECOVERED.

Total Dead in Briceville Mine Placed at 84.

Briceville, Tenn.—Twenty-one more bodies were found in the Cross Mountain mine in which an explosion occurred several days ago. This brings the death list up to 84. President Steison, of the Knoxville Iron company, owner of the mine, stated that he believed this accounted for every man entombed.

Five were rescued. The company has claimed from the first that but 85 men were in the workings when the explosion occurred, but miners say there were more.

Fifty-nine women were made widows and 147 children left fatherless as a result of the disaster. It is probable all bodies will be removed by Sunday night. Only one of the 84 men killed carried life insurance. The relief fund has passed the $20,000 mark.

ROYALTY IN PERIL

KING GEORGE'S SISTER AND NIECES THROWN INTO WAVES WHEN BOAT CAPSIZES.

SIX FRENCH SAILORS DIE

Their Launch Capsizes When It Goes to Rescue of Passengers on Liner Delhi on Rocks Off Moroccan Coast.

Gibraltar.—King George's sister, the Princess Royal Louise, her husband, the Duke of Fife, and their daughters together with a number of Americans and other persons had a narrow escape from death when the liner Delhi, on its way to Egypt, went on the rocks near Cape Spartel, Morocco.

While being taken ashore by the longboat of the British armored cruiser Duke of Edinburgh they were thrown into the water by the capsizing of the boat, one of the daughters having a narrow escape from drowning. She was rescued by a sailor and carried to land with the others, all suffering severely from the bitter cold.

Six sailors of the French cruiser Friant were drowned when a small boat which had been sent to the aid of the English vessel was swamped by a gigantic wave. The others reached the shore in a desperate condition and several still are suffering.

It was still dark when the Delhi, having lost her bearings in the dense fog, was blown by a terrific gale on the rocky shores of Cape Spartel. The passengers all were in their cabins when the boat hit and the first warning they had of any danger was when the big liner began pounding. There was a panic on board, but the officers of the ship were prompt in their action and soon succeeded in calming the fears of the passengers.

The life boats were at once manned and made ready. As soon as daylight had fought its way through the smothering fog all the women and children aboard were put into the boats and the start made for shore.

Time and again it was feared that the terrible swells would swamp the boats, and groan after groan went up from the men assembled on the upper deck—many of them with their wives and children in the disappearing boats—as a huge sea would lift the small boats to the crest of a giant wave and an instant later send it plunging to a depth of thirty feet to meet a still larger swell.

In the course of an hour or two they were landed at a point five miles from Cape Spartel, from where they were driven through a drenching rain to the lighthouse, wet to the skin, and hurried to hotels in Tangier, where extra clothing was furnished. It was necessary to administer stimulants to many of the frightened and exhausted women.

The lifeboats at once returned to the wreck, and with the aid furnished by other craft, among them the lifeboats of the French cruiser Friant, which had by that time arrived, all the other passengers were safely taken from the Delhi and landed.

It is believed that the Delhi will be a complete loss, as she lies in an exposed position and the storm, which is one of the worst experienced in years, has whipped up a sea that will soon batter the boat to pieces.

WIRELESS MESSAGES CARRIED THE NEWS OF THE DELHI'S PLIGHT TO THE BRITISH WARSHIPS AT GIBRALTAR.

Realizing that several members of the royal family were on board, all was excitement and bustle in a moment. The two cruisers, the Duke of Edinburgh and the Duke of Weymouth, were at once dispatched to aid the stranded passengers.

VOTE TO ABROGATE TREATY

House Adopts Sulzer Resolution to Cancel Agreement With Russia With One Opposing Voice.

Washington.—The Sulzer resolution demanding the abrogation of the treaty with Russia passed the house practically without a dissenting vote. The vote in favor of the resolution was 300 to 1. Mr. Malby of New York, a Republican, was the only one to vote against the resolution.

A day of fervid oratory, in which Russia's treatment of American Jews was fully recounted, preceded the passage of the resolution. On the floor but one voice was raised against the Sulzer proposal, and this was that of Mr. McCall of Massachusetts. He urged that the Russian passport question should be submitted to arbitration before the house took drastic action. More than fifty speakers, in speeches ranging from one to five minutes in length, spoke in favor of the resolution.

Some of the speakers were characterized by Mr. Mann as being so in-temperate in language that they might precipitate war if uttered in a foreign parliament. Nevertheless Mr. Mann, Republican floor leader, favored the resolution.

THE SEASON OF JOY

One Good Thing Right on the Heels of Another.

CHICAGO IS CHOSEN CRAZED VICTIMS FLEE

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION WILL BE HELD IN ILLINOIS CITY.

CONVENES TUESDAY, JUNE 18

Administration Dictates Policy of Committeemen—Primary Question is Quickly Disposed of Despite the Opposition of Senator Borah.

Washington.—Chicago was chosen as the convention city to nominate candidates for president and vice-president by the Republican national committee which met here. The call was issued for the assembling of delegates on Tuesday, June 18. St. Louis formally withdrew from the contest before the voting began, leaving Denver and Chicago to fight it out. The vote resulted: Chicago, 42; Denver, 7; St. Louis, 1; absent, 3.

The committee formally accepted the resignation of Frank H. Hitchcock as chairman. A rising vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Hitchcock for his services. Former Gov. John F. Hill of Maine then was elected chairman.

The Taft forces, directed by Charles D. Hilles, secretary to the president, won the first serious fight attending the committee meeting. The administration's friends had insisted that Col. Harry S. New of Indiana be named as chairman of the subcommittee to take charge of the convention arrangements, including the choice of temporary and permanent chairmen, and the selection of a herald of the party keynote. The Taft people also had insisted that in addition to Colonel New they should name a majority of the committee.

A sharp fight developed with Postmaster General Hitchcock and other friends of Chairman Hill of the committee insisting that Mr. Hill should be given the authority to constitute the committee as he saw fit. At the end of a long series of conferences the administration forces won a complete victory.

The Taft forces dictated the entire membership of the arrangements committee, which was increased to seven, instead of the usual five.

The subcommittee having in charge the call for delegates developed a serious split, Senator Borah leading a hopeless fight to open the primary door to every state in the Union and framing a minority report. The subcommittee decided to follow the form of call adopted four years ago. This call recognizes the rights of states to choose delegates at primaries where primary laws have been passed and where the state committee so directs. In all other states it provides for the selection of delegates at state conventions.

During the hearing the name of Clarence S. Darrow was mentioned, but Franklin made a statement saying the Chicago lawyer was not implicated in the affair in any manner whatever.

The statement was called out when Robert F. Bain, sworn juror in the McNamara case, testified that Franklin had told him, when arranging for the bribe, that was paid to him, that Darrow had given Franklin $20,000 "to use."

"I haven't said anything about this case," said Franklin after the hearing ended.
