The county dads are in session and are kept pretty busy meeting people who have some business to lay before them. They hold their session in the back room of the county judge while the grand jury use their room behind closed doors marked "no admittance."

H. E. Losey came up from Fremont Tuesday and is visiting in the city. Mr. Losey worked on The Democrat the summer of 1909 and played ball with the team. He has been working in a printing office at Huron, S. D., and is now visiting home home folks at Fremont.

March came in like a lion. Now it is up to the good old custom to have it go out like a lamb.

There are no new fever cases. Virginia Young has had a hard spell. All others are much better.

We are in full sympathy with all editors of county papers. If they have as hard times finding new news as their correspondents their lives are not to be envied.

C. S. and J. C. Reece have ordered a car of corn to feed their cattle on account of a shortage of hay. The spring of 1912 will long be remembered by our stockmen. Never in the history of the county has hay been so scarce.

Mrs. Ida Cook has leased the Stilwell ranch. She will conduct the hotel business as Mr. and Mrs. Stilwell have done. These neighbors are looking forward to a pleasant time visiting the Pacific coast in the near future.

Callie Bucy is feeding the hay his father sold the Federal Cattle company to the latter's cattle. This, with his home work, keeps him very busy. Cherry, or any other county, needs more young men like Callie. A county that can have a majority of its coming men of his type is always safe.

Rev. Beebe has been quarantined at the Young home. He has been making himself useful by taking care of Mr. Pettis. He will be very glad when his time to be released arrives, as will his many friends. Rev. Beebe is a young man of strong character and has a useful future before him.
