VALENTINE LOCALS

Will Haley returned to the state university Saturday night.

E. Breuklander returned home Monday almost cured of rheumatism.

Jim Felch has got his restaurant in order and opened up for business.

Mrs. Chas. Gassan is visiting her sister, Mrs. Mena, and other relatives in Omaha.

C. L. Carson and family have moved to Kilgore. Charley runs the livery stable there.

The Cherry county grand jury report will be found on pages 2 and 3 of this paper. Look on the inside.

We'll miss Ed Spencer who has gone to Oelrichs, S. D., where he is section foreman again. Mrs. Spencer and the children have gone to join him.

The Gordon team came down last Friday night and walloped our team on the high school question. There was a good house and the debaters did well on both sides.

Judge Quigley returned from a business trip into the south central part of the state last week and while snow-bound at Hastings was both pleased and surprised to run across I. M. Rice and Max Viertel.

The interior of the Episcopal church is being decorated preparatory for Easter services. The daily services planned for Holy Week will depend upon the finishing of this work in time for the same.

Don McLeod has moved his office next door north the First National bank, recently occupied by H. I. Weinzimmer. The building is repapered and laid with linoleum, making a fine real estate office.

At Columbus we saw Tom Adams who grew up with Lou Brownell in Dowagiac, Mich., and was interested in hearing from Lou and his sister. Sorry to report that Lou is in very poor health just now.

Services will be held in the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning and evening, conducted by the Rev. D. B. Ralston of O'Neill, who comes as a candidate of the Valentine church. If he is satisfied with the town and the people and the people are satisfied with him, it is quite likely he will take charge of the Presbyterian work regularly in the near future. A cordial invitation is extended to everybody to attend both services.

Last week Chester Wells was one of eight to win the honor of being chosen the contestant after a preliminary trial, from the junior class in the coming annual elocution contest of Creighton College to take place in June. Last Saturday after a speech before his class meeting he was elected toast master for the annual class banquet in May; also he was elected as one of a committee of three to have charge of the banquet, which is a big social event of the college. This is the second year he has enjoyed this honor. As a further mark of favor he is chairman of the senior dance committee to reserve a hall and date for the annual senior ball, the society event of the season.

Owing to the extreme high prices asked by the growers of northern and eastern seed potatoes, and the lack of assurances that a car load would be used, the commercial club thought best not to buy a car this spring.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Sell Off About a Dime Under Heavy Receipts.

HOG RECEIPTS AT HIGH POINT.

Under Influence of Good Buying Demand Prices Are Ten Cents Higher. Demand for Fat Sheep and Lambs Holds Up Well—Prices Highest of Season.

South Omaha, March 26.—Cattle—Receipts were heavy, 6,800 head, and with lower markets east fat cattle prices declined fully 10c here. Best 1400-lb. beefs brought $7.55. Cows and heifers were in keen request and steady. Choice heifers brought $6.20, and bulk of trading was at $4.30@5.70. Veal calves were steady at $4.00@8.00, and bulls, stags, etc., weaker, at $4.25@5.60. There was a broad demand for stockers and feeders, at steady to stronger prices. Choice 900-lb. feeders brought $6.50 and trading was largely at $5.25@6.00.

Although hog receipts were liberal, 17,200 head, the demand from both packers and shippers was active and prices ruled fully a dime higher. Tops brought $7.40, the highest price paid since last September. The bulk of the trading was at $7.05@7.35, as against $6.55@6.75 one week ago.

The sheep supply was only moderate, 10,600 head and prices were about steady, under a very fair demand. Lambs are quoted at $6.50@7.60; yearlings, $6.15@6.60; wethers, $5.60@6.20, and ewes, $4.90@5.70.

Simeon

Harvey Hobbs is able to be around again. He has recovered from an attack of pneumonia.

A pleasant birthday surprise party was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Reece Saturday.

Mrs. Mal Bucy is seriously ill. Dr. Compton was called Sunday evening.

J. W. Daniels is husking corn. He says this is the first time the snow has given him an opportunity.

Stock is looking well despite the worst March we can remember. There has been no loss except young calves. They have had a rough voyage through March.

Mrs. Maggie Acord of Topeka, Kan., arrived last week for a visit her sisters, Mesdames Yingst and Tetherow, and brothers, C. S. and J. C. Reece.

Feeding ear corn is practical when hay is high and scarce. Cattle fed a few ears each day and about one-half hay ration are holding up well under this strenuous weather.

The family of P. H. Young was released from quarantine Monday. All are well. The nurse departed some time ago. We are glad to say that the fever dealt kindly with us—more so than was feared at first.

Wanted to buy 1000 bushels of potatoes.—John Ormsher, Valentine, Nebr. 10
