INSTITUTION OF THE ELKS.

A Hot Time in the Old Town Tomorrow Night.

WILL BE MANY VISITORS.

A Welcome of Fireworks, Music and Enthusiasm Prepared Initiations, Banquets, Toasts, Parades and other Features on the Program.

Norfolk lodge, No. 653, B. P. O. Elks, will be instituted tomorrow evening with a demonstration, the like of which Norfolk has never witnessed on a like occasion. A great amount of this expected enthusiasm will be due to the interest being taken by the lodges of Omaha, Lincoln and other cities, which are said to be more enthusiastic over this occasion than any similar event in the history of the state. The lodge here starts in with a charter membership of more than 100, all of whom are to be initiated tomorrow night and the new officers installed.

Word has been received to the effect that there will be 100 visiting Elks from Omaha, a carload from Lincoln, a delegation of perhaps 20 from Sioux City and about 40 members of the order from other cities and towns throughout the state.

Those coming from Omaha and Lincoln will be brought up from the Junction by a special. They will be met at the Junction by a special committee, which will meet at the Oxnard at 6:30.

When they arrive, a line of march will be formed, headed by a flambeau club and the Norfolk Military band, and with the members of Norfolk lodge and all visiting members in line. During the march, which will be east on Main street to the Oxnard hotel, 1,000 roman candles will be discharged and other demonstrations will be made.

At the Oxnard supper will be served, after which the column will again form and march to the lodge rooms in the Mast block. Here the initiatory degree will be conferred on the charter membership by the working team of Omaha lodge, No. 9, and will be followed by the installation of the newly elected officers of the Norfolk lodge.

The members will then proceed to the Pacific hotel, where an elaborate banquet will be served, a seating capacity for 200 people being planned. The dining room will be decorated in lodge colors—purple and white, while cut flowers and two large elks' heads will be used as a part of the decorations.

After the banquet the following toasts will be responded to, C. E. Burnham of Tilden acting as toastmaster: "Our Guests," Dr. A. Bear. Response—James Mahan, Lincoln. "The Elks," Geo. P. Cronk, P. D. D., Omaha. "Charity and Justice," Geo. A. Eberly, Stanton. "The Moral Power of Elksdom," Lyle I. Abbott, Ex. R., Omaha. "Social Sessions," R. R. Dickson, Omaha.

After the banquet a social session will be held in the Mast block.

Notes. The future will demonstrate that the Elks are "just the thing."

Seating capacity for 229 people has been arranged at the lodge rooms.

Arrangements have been made to have the incandescent lights run all night.

Norfolk must do herself proud and the visiting Elks must be given a cordial reception.

The Tyler of the Omaha lodge will arrive this evening to assist in making arrangements for the session.

The band will start early and will play late. It will play exclusively "There Will be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight."

Omaha and Lincoln members will probably return home at 12:40 Sunday afternoon and Sioux City members at 6:30 in the morning.

Everybody will be permitted to sing or whistle "A Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight" while the visiting Elks are being welcomed.

Fine quarters will be fitted up for lodge purposes by Norfolk lodge and at stated intervals each week the rooms will be open to the ladies.

She Liked Variety. She is a very nice little girl, and yet she has an imagination so vivid that people can't help wondering once in a while what is going to become of her.

The little girl can and does tell the most marvelous tales, and when she is reproved she is entirely complacent and cannot see that her effective inventions are anything more than jokes. One of these she told to an interested neighbor, at whose house she called frequently.

"How is your mamma, dear?" asked the neighbor one morning when the little girl made her appearance. "She is very sick," answered the little girl earnestly. "Nelly (her sister) and I were up with her all night. We called the doctor." But when the kind neighbor went in haste to see her sick friend she found her in every respect as well as ever.

"Why did you tell kind Mrs. Blank such a story about me?" asked mamma seriously of her little girl at the first opportunity.

"Well, mamma," said the little girl, with a toss of her curls, "Mrs. Blank asks me every single morning how you are, and I get tired of telling her that you are very well."—New York Times

Too Honest. A lawyer took in a new boy the other day, and as he had suffered to some extent from the deceptions of the former one, he determined to try the new boy's honesty at once. He therefore placed a $5 note under a weight on his desk and walked out without a word. Upon his return, half an hour later, the note was gone, and half a dollar in silver had taken its place.

"Boy, when I went out I left $5 under this weight." "Yes, sir, but you hadn't been gone five minutes when a man came in with a bill against you for $4.50. I guess the change is correct?" "You paid the bill?" "Yes, sir. There it is, all receipted. The man said it had slipped your mind for the past four years, and so"— He did not get any further before he made a rush for the door. That boy is not in the law business any more. Chicago News.

Brazil Diamonds. It is not generally remembered that Brazil was at one time the most important diamond producing country in the world. Between 1772 and 1848 1,354,700 carats were taken out by the "Real Extracao." Since that day mining has been carried on exclusively by private individuals and mostly on a small scale. The total production of Brazil up to 1880 is estimated by M. Garceix at 2 1/2 tons. It is impossible to form an accurate estimate of the present production, but it is probably about 40,000 carats a year, including the Bahia diamond fields.

"One Is Quick to Suspect Where One Has Suffered Harm Before."

Perhaps there are some business men in this town who have tried advertising and found the results unsatisfactory. If so, something was the trouble. Contracting for space in a newspaper is not enough. When secured the space must be used to advantage. A convincing story should be told. A plant will not grow unless it is tended. An impression cannot be made upon the purchasing public except by careful, persistent work.

Many merchants err grievously in believing that time spent upon their ads is time wasted. No time can be made more profitable.

We believe the advertising columns of this paper can be used profitably by any one who seeks to reach the buyers of this community. We will gladly aid any one who desires to try it or who is trying it and is not satisfied.
