Count de Casellane is fearful that he cannot live on $225,000 a year. It is a beggarly stipend, to be sure. He should come to Nebraska and run a newspaper until his income is sufficient to his needs.

Russell Sage commends Andrew Carnegie for his generous and charitable donations to the comfort and well being of others, but the old man evidently doesn't believe that his compeer is setting an example which it would be policy for him to follow. Uncle Russ is quite imbued with the belief that all charity begins and ends at home, as far as he is personally concerned.

Columbus streets are not paved with gold and the sidewalks are not constructed of solid steel according to the Telegram, which says: "Bellwood has been asked to pay $5,000 for maintaining a sidewalk with loose boards, one of which tripped a citizen and injured him for life. Columbus would be bankrupt in a day if every citizen who gets his shins barked on bad sidewalks should ask for damages."

Canadians do not like the American protective tariff policy to any great extent. Fortunately for this country they didn't have the framing of it. Their cause has, or did have, some staunch supporters in the United States, however, and Mr. Bryan and others of his party would have speedily enacted a tariff law favorable to the Canadians and other foreigners and detrimental to United States citizens if they had been given an opportunity.

The people of Japan propose to be up-to-date and naturally come to the foremost country for their pointers. E. Sonokichi and Y. Yamato, traffic manager and mechanical superintendent of Japan's longest railroad, have returned home after several months spent in studying methods of railroading employed in the United States. Their interest in American railroads is a compliment to those responsible for their present state of development.

The legislatures of 27 states, within a few years past, have asked congress to call a constitutional convention to amend the constitution so that United States senators may be elected by direct vote of the people. Three more states would make the requisite two-thirds and congress would be constrained to call the convention. This is provided for by article 5 of the constitution, which allows the states to take the initiative in proposed changes. The senate is opposed to the election of senators direct and the legislatures must institute the reform if it is done. Contests like that taking place before the Nebraska legislature are urging the change as nothing else could and the constitution will undoubtedly be amended at as early a date as possible. Public sentiment in Nebraska certainly favors the change.

BATTLE CREEK.
Joseph Rotter of Tilden was down here Monday.

W. B. Fuert and P. Boepel were Norfolk visitors Tuesday.

Clinton D. Smith of Madison was over here on business last Thursday.

Misses Maggie and Katie O'Neill arrived home Friday from college.

Thos. Moyers of Norfolk was visiting here Friday with his brother, A. G.

Lots of new buildings, mostly dwellings, will go up here in the near future.

A. M. Lovelace has been sick in bed for the last week. He is reported better now.

John Horrick left Tuesday for Billings, Mont., where he has been the last three years.

August Sump of Lindsay was visiting here Wednesday with Herman Eucker and family.

Owen O'Neill went up to Garfield county Sunday to look after his ranch property there.

Uncle Mike Conley, who has been sick for a long time, was around on the streets again Saturday.

Dr. Tanner is the hardest working man in our community, because he is on the road almost day and night.

Mrs. Day, the mother of our jovial station agent, went home to Jefferson, Ia., Monday, after a two-month's visit.

Mrs. Montross and children were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Quivey at Pierce, from Saturday till Monday.

G. F. Warnke and Carl Goetsch, who have been visiting here for about one month with M. Warnke and Albert Roewert, went home to Wisconsin Monday.

There was shipped Monday: George Berry, two carloads of sheep; Howard Miller Lumber Co., one carload of hogs; L. B. Baker, one of hogs, and J. Osborn, one of hogs.

A. B. Richardson formerly of Emerick lives in Valley precinct, near Battle Creek, now. He feels that he will be with white people all the time and will soon start a postoffice on his place.

Sam Hanen & Co. of Madison are here this week to move Herman Hogrefe's dwelling onto a lot north of the High school and Mr. Hogrefe will erect a fancy dwelling on the lot across from the Lutheran church.

Last week the Howard Miller Lumber Co. bought eleven acres of the Pioneer Town Site company and Otto H. Maas four acres in the part of town that is called Highland Park. We understand the consideration was $100 per acre.

The electors of our village held a caucus Saturday at O. H. Maas' office and nominated W. A. Barnes and Fred Broehler on the citizens' ticket. This was a combined business, because Henry Neuwirk acted as chairman and F. E. Martin as secretary, and the candidates are one good republican and one hot democrat.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer one hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
