

and think there are no others so good, for this is not always the case. Among the special brands manufactured by Mr. Ziesche we would mention particularly his Norfolk Perfecto, Blossom Girl, Little Havana, Pierce County Leader, Porto Rico Leaf, five cent, and the La Flor De Vuelta, ten cent, which are in great favor with the traveling public as well as with the smokers of Norfolk and vicinity. And why should they not be for they are of excellent stock and without a peer on the whole line. If you have never tried them do so, for it may just suit you in every way. And then remember, this is a home enterprise and deserving of the support of Norfolk and vicinity. Mr. Ziesche carries a full line of chewing and smoking tobacco, pipes and a complete line of smokers' articles of all kinds.

Mr. Ziesche is widely known for his skill and reliability in all transactions, enterprising and progressive in business and takes an interest in everything that is of public benefit.

D. J. Koenigstein.
ATTORNEY-AT-LAW AND ABSTRACTOR OF TITLE.

The rapidity with which this western country is becoming settled and the uncertainty which surrounds the titles of some of the early pioneers to lands renders the business of abstracting titles one that is growing continually more important. It behooves every one under all circumstances when purchasing real estate to make careful search into its title and insure that it is not marred in any way by mortgages or liens of any description. This can only be done by the employment of an abstractor of titles, and there are none more reliable in this respect than Daniel J. Koenigstein, who owns one of the most complete and strictly up-to-date sets of abstract books of Madison county. He gives his personal attention to the work of maintaining them perfect in every detail, and it is this thorough system that has made them recognized as reliable and accurate.

In addition to the abstracting of titles Mr. Daniel J. Koenigstein is among our most able attorneys at law. He practices in state and federal courts and has achieved success by hard work and a careful protection of his clients and all matters placed in his hands.

Personally Mr. Daniel J. Koenigstein is regarded as a conservative lawyer and he enjoys the respect and esteem of the entire community.

P. J. Fuesler.
MERCHANT TAILOR.

A very popular tailoring establishment which since establishing business here has through superior workmanship and upright and honorable transactions built up a large patronage among the best classes in the community is the above. The store is centrally located and contains at all seasons everything new and fashionable in foreign and domestic woolsens, cassimers, worsteds, tweeds, chevots, diagonals, etc. The work of this house is of the most artistic order and affords perfect satisfaction in material, the fit and latest styles being guaranteed at all times. Mr. Fuesler is noted for his close observance of metropolitan styles and costumes, and can turn out at any time a suit or overcoat equal to any merchant tailor in the large cities, while the prices charged are most moderate in consideration of the quality of workmanship, and everything made here can be relied upon as being first-class in every particular. Every garment made at this establishment is closely scrutinized before being sent to its destination, thus assuring to patrons thoroughly made and elegantly finished garments in every instance.

Mr. Fuesler has by enterprise together with conscientious, liberal and honorable dealings built up a trade and reputation of which anyone might feel proud.

Branch & Zuelow.
GENERAL STORE.

In all important lines of trade there are houses that stand prominently forth as representative in their respective lines from the complete and thorough knowledge of their business, as well as the character of the goods in which they deal. In this connection it is with pleasure that we call attention to our patrons is called to the reliable grocery house of Branch & Zuelow. They carry a large, choice and well selected stock of staple and fancy groceries, fine teas, coffees, relishes, sauces, table luxuries, canned goods of all kinds, and the very best of everything the market affords, and complete in every particular. They also carry a full line of staple dry goods and clothing, men's furnishings, hats, caps, shoes, etc., and sell at prices that challenge successful competition. We account for this by the fact that Messrs. Braasch & Zuelow are thorough and competent business men, full of life and push, paying the highest market price for country produce; catering to no one man more than another. The poor man buys groceries here as cheap as the richest, no distinction being made between customers. Those who desire first class groceries and to be fairly dealt with should call at this store and give them a trial. Goods will be delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

Personally Messrs. Braasch & Zuelow are not only pleasant, courteous and enterprising men, but also take an interest in all matters of public benefit.

Mrs. Dr. Sadie Hart Miller.
OSTEOPATH.

No science of healing with or without drugs has made such rapid strides in the past quarter of a century as osteopathy and the bulk of the people all over the land are becoming free from the inherited prejudice against the different schools of medicine. It is also an undoubted fact that in our larger centers, where culture and education are the more advanced, osteopathy has made the greatest progress, at last becoming almost universally recognized. As one of our governors once said referring to osteopathy: "We can appreciate a system of medicine that does not make the human system a store-house for bad tasting and bad smelling drugs." Now the question is often asked what is osteopathy? Osteopathy is a new science of healing without drugs. This school denies the alleged curative properties of drugs and repudiates the whole system of drug treatment as unnatural and destructive to health. Nebraska has kept pace with the eastern states in adopting this school of medicine and in the ranks of the leading practitioners we have Mrs. Dr. Sadie Hart Miller, D. O., late of Hot Springs, S. D. Mrs. Dr. Miller is a graduate of the American School, of Osteopathy, Kirksville, Mo., from which she graduated in 1898 and began the practice of her profession. The doctor does a general practice, she has treated successfully nearly every known disease, chronic or acute. Some diseases that have been pronounced incurable have been made to yield by her treatment. Osteopathy is making great advances in the favor of the people and it is to skillful, careful practitioners, who like Mrs. Dr. Miller, labored patiently and earnestly, that the credit is due.

Mrs. Dr. Miller is located permanently in Norfolk. Her office is over Hayes' jewelry store. Office hours from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m.

J. Koenigstein.
THE CORNER DRUG STORE.

A representative and popular drug store in the city is the Koenigstein pharmacy and Norfolk is fortunate indeed to be able to number among her business houses that of the above, which is accorded the distinction of being one of the most thoroughly equipped up-to-date and best kept drug stores in the county. The store is centrally located and is certainly an ideal establishment in every way. The appointments are all of the latest, the fixtures are highly ornamental and the arrangement of the extensive drug stock adds to the beauty of the interior, proving to every visitor what taste, energy and refinement can do.

Mr. Koenigstein carries a full line of pure drugs and chemicals, all the standard patent medicines of value and merit, physicians' and surgeons' requisites of all kinds and a full line of druggists' and chemists' supplies, such as all the superior assortment of perfumes, soaps, toilet and fancy articles, books, stationery, etc., also a large stock of paints, oil, and glass. A specialty is made of filling prescriptions and family recipes in a careful and accurate manner from the purest and freshest of material and this department is so effectually managed that the establishment enjoys the favor of the community and physicians in marked degree. In conclusion we would say that this drug store is maintained by avoiding methods which promise economy at the cost of quality. He has an elegant soda fountain and will be prepared to serve the public with nice cool soda water of any flavor.

Personally Mr. Koenigstein is among our most enterprising and progressive business men, well known, both in social and business circles and takes an active interest in everything that is of public benefit.

E. B. Kauffman.
SUCCESSOR TO FREYTHALER—BAKERY AND CONFECTIONERY.

A representative and most popular bakery establishment in Norfolk is that of E. B. Kauffman, and since commencing business here he has through great energy and perseverance built up a large and steadily increasing trade. The premises occupied are conveniently arranged and equipped with all requisite appliances for the manufacture of fine family bread, rolls, buns, plain and fancy cake, pies, pastry, choice confections, candies, chocolates, etc., and manufacture ice cream for the wholesale and retail trade, which are furnished to the trade and consumers fresh every day. Banquets, weddings, parties, etc., are catered to and at reasonable rates. He has a very fine wholesale and mail order trade which extends throughout this section and is steadily increasing. The materials used at this bakery are first-class in every respect, and its products are universally recognized as the finest in the city. A specialty is made of his well known and very wholesome breads, including his rye, graham, Vienna and home made breads which cannot be excelled anywhere.

Mr. Kauffman is thoroughly practical and experienced in this special line of business and personally supervises every detail of the business.

Personally he is an enterprising and progressive citizen and enjoys the reputation of being a careful business man, who has through careful and painstaking efforts built up a fine business enterprise.

The Turf Exchange.

While Norfolk is not at all wanting in handsome resorts where beverage forms the leading attraction, still there is ample room to choose between them. If, however, one should visit the Turf Exchange, Scott Holbrook, prop., he would have reason to seek no farther. This popular resort has since its inception received the visits of high class patronage drawn hither by the bonhomie of the proprietor. The premises are tastefully and conveniently fitted up, being the neatest and most handsomely appointed sample room in the city. All the favorite brands of old rye and bourbon whiskies are carried, also imported and domestic brandies, wines, etc., with the choicest brands of imported and domestic cigars, while the celebrated Fred Krug beer is always kept on tap. The patronage of the establishment includes some of the best people in the city, who come not on carousal but to refresh the inner man.

Mr. Scott Holbrook, the genial proprietor of this popular establishment, is well and most favorably known in the city, and has a host of friends who pay him their pleasant visits, and where Mr. E. Brumond, the bar tender, will mix you a drink, hand you a cigar, make change and discuss the weather without ever appearing to be in a hurry or causing you to feel other than welcome. The establishment is first class in every respect and the public and visitors to the city who enjoy a nice glass of wine and a few moments' conversation will find this an agreeable place to visit, under courteous and agreeable management.

Norfolk Steam Laundry.
D. CRAVEN.

One of the most important adjuncts to the well being of a city of any consequence is a first class laundry, and Norfolk can boast of such a one in every sense of the word. Located here in our midst is the Norfolk Steam Laundry. This laundry holds a most excellent reputation for doing first class work. Owing to an increase of business Mr. Craven is erecting a new building on Third street, which will be equipped with all the latest and most improved machinery for laundry work. Every department will be fully equipped for giving perfect satisfaction. A strict rule will be carried out to let no article go from the premises but what will bear out each and every representation. Lace curtains, embroidered garments, ladies' shirt waists and piece work generally is done with promptness and dispatch, making a specialty of shirts, collars and cuffs. Goods are called for and delivered free of charge, while orders from out of town are given prompt attention. Contracts are made for family laundering, and altogether this is a model establishment, a home enterprise and deserving of the patronage of the citizens of Norfolk and vicinity. The proprietor, Mr. Dan Craven, is an energetic and progressive business man, who has determined to continue and increase his large patronage by the acknowledged superiority of his work, and the business is progressing in a most gratifying manner under his personal attention and has become an important factor in the business life of our city.

Carl Korth.
MARBLE AND GRANITE WORKS.

One of the most gratifying evidences of the spread of correct artistic taste among all classes of society is the great attention that is now being paid to the production of beautiful designs in granite and marble in the way of monuments, headstones, sculpture, etc. Our productions in these lines are not surpassed by those of any other country in the world, and every year the national excellence in this respect becomes more distinctly marked.

A reliable and very popular house in this section in these lines is that of Carl Korth, who established business here in 1897. Skilled workmen are employed in the manufacture of monuments, memorials, etc., all of the designs embracing artistic taste and conception in the highest degree, and in making inscriptions he has no equal, and also makes a specialty of and guarantees all lettering. It has been the aim of this house to furnish strictly first class work to the public at fair and reasonable prices, and he cordially invites intending purchasers to call and inspect stock and get prices before purchasing elsewhere, as this is a home enterprise and deserving of the support of the citizens of Madison county and vicinity.

Personally it can be said of Mr. Korth, the proprietor, that his reputation for producing the finest and most artistic work is beyond cavil, at the same time his honorable methods of dealing assures confidence to all having business relations with him.

Peter Duffy.
HARNESS AND HORSE FURNISHINGS.

A very popular establishment in its line in this section is that conducted by Peter Duffy. He is enterprising and progressive and by close attention to business and honorable methods has secured the favor and confidence of the community and added to his trade steadily. He occupies premises centrally located where he carries a large stock and complete assortment of fine and medium harness robes, horse blankets, whips, brushes, saddles and horse furnishing goods of all kinds. Harness are made to order in the finest style and at short notice, while repairing is also promptly and neatly done, making a specialty of extra parts for harness, such as lines, tugs, collars, etc. Every article sold here is warranted as represented, and all work executed is guaranteed to be first class, while the prices prevailing cannot be duplicated in the county.

Personally Mr. Duffy is an enterprising business man and our readers can do no better anywhere than to patronize this popular and reliable harness store, and his reputation is the best testimony to the need any word of commendation in these columns.

Bert Eberhart.
RESTAURANT.

The restaurant business is one in which there is always room at the top, no matter how strong competition may be, and we can produce no better illustration of this fact than is furnished by the success and popularity of the restaurant conducted by Bert Eberhart. In its appointments and service this restaurant is clearly entitled to rank as the leader in its line in the city. It is conducted with a simple eye to the convenience of its patrons, and whether you desire a first class meal or a dainty lunch, you will always find the right thing on the bill of fare. One of the strongest points in favor of this restaurant is the neatness which prevails everywhere. This is not confined to the table linen, dishes, etc., which patrons cannot fail to observe, but extends to the kitchen, which is also neat and well kept. The best table in the city is set at this restaurant and the service is promptly drawn hither by the bonhomie of the proprietor. The public and visitors to Norfolk will find this restaurant a nice cozy place to go for a good first class home like meal. Personally Mr. Eberhart is a pleasant, courteous gentleman to meet, and he enjoys the respect and esteem of all.

Aug Pasewalk.
GENERAL BLACKSMITH.

One of the most popular wagon making, general blacksmithing and repairing establishments in this section is that of August Pasewalk. He does a general repairing business and is prepared to take orders for the manufacture of wagons, etc., to order, and does all kinds of plow repair work in the most reliable manner. He has every facility and convenience at hand for the successful prosecution of the business and all work entrusted to him is sure to be attended to with thoroughness and dispatch. The reputation of Mr. Pasewalk as an expert workman is a guarantee that all such work will be done in a highly gratifying manner. He is moderate in his charges and fills all orders promptly. He employs none but skilled workmen and has built up a high reputation in all branches of the business. Personally Mr. Pasewalk is popular and reliable in all transactions and enjoys the confidence of his patrons and the public in a marked degree.

S. L. Gardner.
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN AGENCY.

In writing of the influential factors which contribute to the general prosperity of our city no line of business is more worthy of mention than that of the real estate dealers, and no form of investment has become so important and popular with the conservative public as judiciously selected real estate, for not only is a permanent source of income assured, but also a reasonable certainty of increase of value. Prominent among the leading and one of the best known agencies engaged in the business of buying, selling and exchanging property on commission or order, negotiating loans at the most favorable rates, abstracting, insurance and general agency business is that of S. L. Gardner, whose office is located in the Western Union building. He has much information regarding western lands and their wonderful resources and advantages, which he freely dispenses to those who are seeking information with a view to investment. He has many bargains on his books and is enabled to quote some very low figures and make sales on very easy terms. Parties desiring to place loans in safe and profitable investments or to purchase a home can do no better than consult with Mr. Gardner from whom they can obtain valuable information, which he is always glad to give.

Personally Mr. Gardner is of our public-spirited citizens, always in the van in assisting or encouraging progressive movements for the benefit of the community, and to all he is known as a most honorable and reliable gentleman.

The Pacific Hotel.

The modern hotel of today ranks among the most essential of commercial activity. Every traveling man forms his estimate of a city not from its size, but from the manner in which its hotels are conducted. After a careful review perhaps one of the best conducted hotels in Northeastern Nebraska is the Pacific Hotel of Norfolk under its present exceptionally capable management. It is pronounced by competent authority to be one of the best conducted hotels to be found anywhere.

The building is a substantial brick structure containing 50 elegantly furnished sleeping apartments, has all modern improvements, steam heat, electric lights and call bells, and is handsomely furnished throughout. The cuisine is unsurpassed and the service is prompt and courteous. The spacious and elegant parlors are a special feature, and the dining room is not only a model of convenience, but that which is served therein is of the best quality and is calculated to make the visitors desire to return to the table of hospitality of the Pacific Hotel. The proprietors believe in the best and plenty of it. To travelers who seek the best and want the comforts of life we would say, put up at the Pacific Hotel.

Under the management of the proprietor, Mr. H. H. Patterson, this hotel has become deservedly popular with the traveling public, transient guests and regular patrons who have availed themselves of its hospitality. Mr. Patterson is a pleasant, courteous and popular host, and enjoys the respect and esteem of all in this community, as well as of his many patrons among the traveling public. The day clerk and book keeper, Mr. Geo. M. Dudley, is a pleasant, courteous and obliging gentleman, as is also the night clerk, Mr. H. H. Patterson, Jr. Both are ever ready and show every attention to guests of the house, and make every effort to make you feel at home.

D. D. Brunson.
PALACE LIVERY AND BOARDING STABLE.

A representative and popular livery, feed and boarding stable of Norfolk is that conducted by D. D. Brunson, known as the Palace Livery. He has a fine stable conveniently located and in addition to a well conducted livery business makes a specialty of boarding horses at moderate prices and giving all animals committed to his charge the same scrupulous care and attention that is bestowed upon his own horses. He keeps a number of horses for livery purposes and his turnout are the best to be seen in the city. A competent force of obliging and attentive assistants are employed so that anything in either a light or heavy hitch can be had at a moment's notice. Carriages, etc., with careful drivers are supplied promptly for funerals, weddings, parties, etc., at all hours day or night, and all orders are given prompt attention, while the prices are always satisfactory.

Mr. Brunson, the proprietor of this well known livery, holds a high place in the confidence of the citizens and trade generally, and is an enterprising business man and citizen.

L. L. Rembe.
PLUMBER.

Few, if any, of our business men have been more fortunate in securing a hold on public favor and confidence than L. L. Rembe, who is an expert in plumbing, steam and hot water heating and all work done by him is guaranteed to be strictly first class. He commenced business in 1888, and from the start has enjoyed a large patronage. A full and complete stock of fixtures, steam and plumbing appliances carried in stock. He is prepared to give estimates on all classes of work in these lines, paying special attention to water service, house drainings, sewerage, sanitary plumbing and all contracts undertaken by him are certain to be performed in the most satisfactory manner; jobbing generally is executed with skill and dispatch; all orders receiving prompt attention, while the prices charged are distinctly moderate.

Mr. Rembe has done the plumbing and other work on some of the handsomest and largest structures in the city, which stand as evidence of his skill. Personally he is among our enterprising and progressive business men and the enterprise is an important factor in the business life of our city.

The Trocadero.
H. LODGER.

In reviewing the various business enterprises of Norfolk we desire to call special attention to the Trocadero sample room, conducted by Mr. H. Lodger, who has always been an advocate of the advantages of selling none but the purest goods, and there is no establishment in the city which carries a larger stock or a finer line of all the leading and most popular brands of fine old Kentucky and Tennessee sour mash and rye whiskies, imported and domestic brandies, wines, gins, rums, etc., and after May 1st Mr. Lodger will have the exclusive sale of the celebrated Red Top pure whiskey, also a most choice selection of imported and domestic cigars. He is agent for the celebrated Fred Krug beer, which is always kept on tap.

Mr. Lodger would not think of offering an inferior article to the trade, his customers being among the leading business men of the city. The premises are one of the finest and handsomely furnished in the city. Clean, neat, and quiet, and a saloon conducted on these principles is bound to succeed and to attract a desirable class of customers, for anyone who patronizes the hospitality of the Trocadero is sure to repeat his visit if he remains any length of time in Norfolk. The proprietor is a pleasant gentleman to meet who will always make you feel welcome. Visitors to the city will always find the Trocadero a pleasant place to visit and under agreeable management.

Norfolk Planning Mill.

A review of the business interests of Norfolk would not be complete without mention being made of the Norfolk planning mill of which S. F. Dunn is the proprietor, who has by close attention to all its details steadily increased his facilities and trade until now he enjoys a large and steadily increasing business. He does all kinds of wood work including moldings, brackets, sashes, doors, etc., and does all kind of scroll sawing in the most artistic and improved manner; also makes a specialty of manufacturing of water tanks of all sizes and styles. He does all kinds of job work in these lines and is prepared to do all kinds of contracting and building. The mill possesses the most improved facilities and is thoroughly equipped with all the latest and most improved machinery and appliances adapted to the business and can supply the trade in any quantity demanded.

Personally Mr. Dunn is thorough and skilled in every department of the business and is one of our most enterprising business men. The enterprise is an important factor in the business life of our city.
