OKLAHOMA IS BOOMING.

Government in Charge of Town and County Seat Sites.

LOT PURCHASES LIMITED

not Equal to This for Farming Purposes. Speculators Shut Out.

W. M. Robertson and son, Sydney, who recently returned from a week's trip through Oklahoms, report that country to be fairly booming and people flocking in by the score to take advantage of the newly opened territory. In one town they report that 48 brick blocks are in course of construction. Railroads country and activity prevails everywhere. Uhle present. Absent, Bullock.

The speculators have been shut out by the government, which has taken town sites into its own hands and is conducting the sale of lots in a manner that is proving very satisfactory to investors. In county seat towns a site is reserved for a court house and a government also reserved. The lots and blocks are case of fire. laid out uniformly about these reservations and it is expected that the cities will be very beautiful and modern when for crossings. built up.

Each investor is allowed to purchase but one business and one residence lot and the money received from the sale county starting out free of debt and regular meeting. should prove most acceptable to the opened up.

Those who have been over the ground cannot fail to realize that the country is granted. having a "boom" similar to that ex erienced by other new countries and that there is nothing particular in sight to maintain it in its present hustling condition. They recognize that the time will come when the boom will collapse and that business will settle down to the conditions of older places. Some few will prosper and grow rich, but many than they entered. The land, for farming purposes, is generally conceded to be below the average and is fit mainly for ranges. Many who go there to invest would be much more certain to profit if profits would be more quickly realized. There is plenty of available land here at prices which are not unreasonable and appoint a committee of three to employ sive dinner in Norfolk, and it proved a Johnson add to Newman Grove. their quality has been tested, while in that country it will require some time to determine their worth. Therefore those who have money to invest are advised to place it in a sure thing and if they already own land would be running great chances to sell out and take a risk in Oklahoma. The time will come when many now there or going will be only too glad of an opportunity to return to their former homes and pick up where they left off while their neighbors who remained have been forging ahead.

PARDONNER'S NEW HONORS.

Is President and General Manager of Sugar Beet and Irrigation Company. W. S. Pardonner, at one time manager of the Norfolk sugar factory, is president and general manager of the Arkansas Valley Sugar Beet and Land Irrigation company, which is being organized at Chicago with a capital stock of about $6,00,000,000. The company owns about $80,000 acres of land along theArkansas river in southern Colorado and the plant will be located in Prowers county, in the famous Rocky Ford fruit him. district. The company expects to expend between $1,000,000 and $2,000,000 in the construction of water storage reservoirs this year.

This company is said to be the largest beet sugar concern in the world and the colonization of its lands by farmers will be undertaken. A number of New York capitalists, including the Oxnards, the Cuttings, the Hamiltons, the Lawsons and Richards of the Mercantile Trnst company are interested.

In assuming these new and important duties Mr. Pardonnor's connection with the Oxnard Construction company is not changed and he will continue in the official capacity he now holds with that concern. His Norfolk friends congratulate him upon attaining this new position in which his ability will have larger scope.

Prompt Payment of Death Loss. Yesterday Mrs. Sarah Brown received at the hands of the proper officers an order for $2,000 in payment of the beneficiary certificate taken out by her husband in the Ancient Order of United Workmen, he having been a member of Norfolk lodge No. 97. Mr. Brown died on the 27th day of March and payment inducements. The climate is unsuron his certificate was made by the grand lodge of Nebraska in a little more than 30 days since his death. The order is characterized by the prompt meeting of death losses and although this was prompt it is not the quickest payment in the history of the order, one certificate having been paid

PROGRESSIVE DINNER.

The Ludies of the Kaffee Klatsch Give a Novel and Enjoyable Entertainment Last Evening

Last evening the ladies of the Kaffee Klatsch gave a progressive dinner, which was participated in by the husbands of the members of the club, with Mrs. Lucile Mathews of Omaha, Mrs. Joseph Shoemaker of Salida, Col., and Mr. E. C. Howe of Los Angeles, Cal., as guests of honor. The dinner was served in six courses at as many homes of Klatsch ladies.

The first course was given by Mrs Weatherby, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Warrick. Consomme in cups, radishes and olives, constituted this number on the menu, which was served at tables in the parlor and dining room, where the decorations were carnations. Partners and places were chosen by numbers. Guests were presented with hand rainted menu cards in blank, which they were expected to fill out as the dinner progressed.

The next course was at the home of Mrs. Dr. Bear, that lady being assisted by Mrs. Morris Mayer. Six small tables were set in the parlor and decorated with carnations and smilax. At the plates the guests found names and quotations. The course consisted of deviled crabs in the shell and wafers.

The third course was at the home of John R. Hays, Mrs. Hays being assisted by Mrs. David Baum. Chicken pates, potato croquettes and sliced tongue were served, tables being placed in the parlor and dining room. Partners were chosen with matched cards.

The company then progressed to the home of N. A. Rainbolt, where Mrs. Rainbolnt was assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Bucholz. The color scheme was red, the carnations being of that color, with shades of candelabra in same color. The course consisted of tomato and sweet bread salad with cucumbers, cheese straws, wafers and coffee.

At the home of E. A. Bullock, Mrs. Bullock was assisted by her mother, Mrs. A. S. Johnson. The colors used in decorating were pink, sweet peas and carnations predominating. The company was served in the dining and sitting rooms with strawberries, ice cream and angel food cake.

The last course was at the home of C. S. Bridge, Mrs. Jacob Baum assisting Mrs. Bridge in serving. The tables were laid in the dining room and the decorations were of carnations. The guests were served with vanilla wafers and ramonas. After dinner coffee, candy and cigars followed. The guests lingered over the coffee and cigars and remained until a late hour.
