Remember our large stock of Wall Paper, cheaper than ever.

Kiesau Drug Co.

Boston, Mass., Apr. 23, 1901.—Mr. H. A. Pasewalk, Norfolk, Neb.—Dear Sir: We are just making a shipment of two very fine, style F, dark mahogany pianofortes to our representative, Mr. C. H. Johnson, of Norfolk, and he has mentioned your name as a possible customer, explaining that you have unfortunately been interviewed by a good piano salesman who has left a rather confused impression, especially of our house, in your mind, so we take the liberty of writing you. We realize that our enormous success as piano makers since the establishment of our house by Jones Chickering in 1828 has caused many competitors to use every possible means to lessen in the esteem of their customers the value of our instruments. Tales of various kinds come to our ears from time to time of the most extraordinary conditions concerning our house, which are so far from the truth as to be more amusing than anything else. We realize, however, that many customers hearing these statements are somewhat confused and find it difficult to pick out the truth from the very large amount of poisonous piano information which is poured in upon them. We shall be pleased, should you care to write us, to answer any questions which you may ask concerning our product, but take this opportunity of saying that never in the course of our seventy-eight years of continuous manufacture have we made an instrument the equal of that we are producing today. We should be glad to learn that you had examined carefully the two fine pianos we are just sending to Mr. Johnson, as they represent fully the superior qualities possessed by our pianofortes.

Yours very truly,
CHICKERING & SONS.

FRIDAY FACTS.

Two Fremont children have died recently of scarlet fever.

Madison old soldiers will observe Decoration day with appropriate exercises.

The Inskeep building is nearing its new location on the corner of Fourth street and Madison avenue, where it will be converted into a photograph gallery.

Brick laying on the new Stortz block is well under way and the foundation walls are being rapidly completed.

Madison firemen have this week received their first exempt certificates, fourteen of the documents being issued.

The 12th anniversary of the Epworth league will be observed by special exercises on Sunday night at 8 o'clock in the M. E. church.

The sprinkler wagon was out today for the first time and, although the dust was not very active owing to the recent heavy rains it did considerable good in keeping down that which was inclined to move.

The people of South Sioux City expect soon to see erected there a $75,000 plant for the purpose of converting sugar beets into syrup. The Omaha Beet Syrup and Chicory company is said to be backing the project.

Rev. Mr. Baker of the Chicago Theological seminary arrived last night to take up his work as pastor of the Second Congregational church, South Norfolk. He will preach his first sermon here Sunday morning and will also preach in the evening.

Dr. Robert Johnson has decided to locate in Norfolk for the practice of his profession and will office in the Mast block. The doctor has many friends in Norfolk and will undoubtedly receive a share of the practice, for which he has so well fitted himself.

The song of the lawn mower is again heard in the land and a number of enterprising property owners are likewise trimming the low branches from their trees, which will be appreciated by the person whose stature compels him to carry his head well up in the air.

Mrs. W. J. Gow and Mrs. C. C. Gow entertained a large company of lady friends yesterday afternoon at the home of the latter and those attending passed the time most enjoyably. The ladies were given a chance to show their artistic ability in illustrating songs and afterwards were permitted to guess at the names of the songs which had been illustrated. At 5 o'clock the guests were seated at small tables and served with a fine supper in four courses.

Winside Tribune: Rev. S. F. Sharpless was here to preach last Sunday, but on account of the rain there was no service. We learn that there will be a regular Presbyterian minister placed in Norfolk and will preach at Winside every Sunday afternoon. The presbytery has voted $300.00 to place a minister in this field and expects that the two places will raise $500.00 here so there will be a fine minister placed in the field. A young man, of Lincoln, is expected and will probably be here next Sunday. They expect to meet next Wednesday night to organize the church. There will be a Christian Endeavor organized either right away or before long.

The Music Students club held the last of its open meetings for the season last evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hazen on South Ninth street. There was a good attendance composed largely of the cream of Norfolk's musical talent and several visitors, some of whom participated in the exercises. The subject of the program was "Music and Legends of the Sea" conducted by the president, Mrs. Cora A. Beels, and its ample proportions served well to round the year's work to the gratification of the club and the delight of the visitors. The trio sung by Miss Nelle Gerecke and Messrs. C. C. Gow and V. E. Brainard was the striking feature of the evening and called forth a hearty encore.

Bishop Bowman from Chicago, will preach in the Evangelical church on Sixth street and Pasewalk avenue, May 15, at 8 p. m.

FOR SALE—Three lots on Second street and Madison avenue at Norfolk Junction $450. G. R. SEILER.

There will be a special meeting of Beulah chapter, O. E. S., in their hall tomorrow evening. A full attendance is desired as they wish to make arrangements for installation of officers. By order of the worthy matron.

Nice strawberries, nice boxes, at Schoreg's.

University Commencement.

The Norfolk branch of the Inter-State University of Music, in charge of Mrs. Cora A. Beels, will hold its fifth annual commencement exercises in the Auditorium Thursday evening, May 23. An interesting program will be rendered, with many new and attractive features and the public will be well repaid for its attendance.

Ahlman Bros. are agents for Columbia, Hartford and Vedette bicycles.

AMATEUR THEATRICAL.

Firemen and Their Friends Presented "Turned Up" Last Evening.

It was not a large audience that greeted the performance of the comedy "Turned Up" at the Auditorium last evening but it was an audience that appreciated the efforts of the performers at entertaining and was at times very demonstrative. The firemen cleared in the neighborhood of $20 by the venture. The play was presented by the West Side firemen and their friends under the direction of F. H. Livingston, who directed "Saratoga" here last season. Most of the performers were well up in their parts and the play was creditably produced. It was a comedy of the mixed up sort. A sea captain, supposed to be drowned "turned up" to find his wife married to an undertaker. A negro also appeared on the scene claiming to have been married to the captain in South America. The captain's son and daughter were each on the verge of matrimony and altogether the air seemed surcharged with marriages and double marriages, and everything was in a laughable state of affairs, but all straightened out satisfactorily in the wind-up.

A vocal selection between the second and third act by Miss Nelle Gerecke was a pleasing diversion that called forth a vigorous encore from the audience and she was almost compelled to appear a third time.

The cast of characters was as follows:

- Bones, an undertaker—F. H. Livingston.
- Captain Medway, who "turned up" at an awkward time—E. Ray Hayes.
- General Baltic, with a daughter who wants to wed—Art Steinbrecher.
- George Medway, son of the captain—Bert Livingston.
- Nod Stedham, in love with Miss Medway—H. E. Johnson.
- Mrs. Medway, with too many husbands—Miss Mattie McNish.
- Bina Medway—Miss Maud Clark.
- Ada Baltic—Mrs. Bert Livingston.
- Cleopatra, who darkened the happiness of the home—H. Hollyfield.

Lawn mowers sharpened and repaired at Reynolds and Stewart's machine shop, opposite waterworks.
