

A STRICT QUARANTINE.

Council Takes Measures Toward a More Rigid Enforcement of Smallpox Regulations.

The city council met in special session again last evening upon call of the mayor for the purpose of considering the smallpox situation and to take steps toward enforcing a more rigid quarantine. There were present Mayor Koenigstein and Councilmen Brummund, Degner, Uhle, Spellman, Westervelt and Walker. Absent Councilmen Clements and Gow.

The mayor stated that many complaints were being made to him that the quarantine rules were not being properly observed, but in the majority of cases investigated, the complaints were found to be without foundation.

Councilman Gow entered and took his seat with the council. A motion prevailed that hereafter no quarantine be raised until the building shall have been thoroughly fumigated according to methods and instructions of the city physician.

The mayor was authorized to put on an extra patrolman, in addition to those already working, to act until the next regular meeting of the council for the purpose of enforcing the quarantine regulations.

Councilman Brummund stated that to make a 16-foot sidewalk in front of the Bishop block would run the sidewalk into the street beyond the curb line at the corner and that the hydrant and telephone poles would have to be moved into the street. He thought that some action should be taken by the council at once as Mr. Ransom was commencing to put down a cement walk.

The street and alley committee was delegated the power to act in reference to the sidewalk mentioned and authorized to see that the same be built in accordance with their instructions.

The following resolution was read and adopted by an unanimous vote:

Resolved, That it is the sense of the council that all persons be requested to be vaccinated in order to assist in stamping out the smallpox and to prevent the disease from taking a more virulent form in the fall.

On motion the council adjourned.

The Truth About Vaccination.

The following, taken from the public health reports issued by the government, is published by request of the board of health of Norfolk:

Dr. Bizzozzo, in a recent lecture delivered at Rome, recalled strikingly to his audience the success of vaccination in Germany. He said: "Germany stands alone in fulfilling in a great measure the demands of hygiene, having in consequence of the calamitous smallpox epidemic of 1870-71 enacted the law of 1874, which makes vaccination obligatory in the first year of life, and revaccination obligatory at the tenth year. What was the result? With a population of 50,000,000 having in 1871 lost 143,000 lives by smallpox, she found by her law of 1874 the mortality diminished so rapidly that today the disease numbers only 116 victims a year. These cases, moreover, occur almost exclusively in towns on her frontier. If it were true that a good vaccination does not protect from smallpox, we ought to find in smallpox epidemics that the disease diffuses itself in the well vaccinated no less than in nonvaccinated countries. But it is not so. In 1870-71, during the Franco-German war, the two peoples interpenetrated each other, the German having its civil population vaccinated optionally, but its army completely vaccinated, while the French (population and army alike) were vaccinated perfunctorily. Both were attacked by smallpox. The French army numbered 23,000 deaths by it, while the German army had only 278, and in the same tent breathing the same air, the French wounded were heavily visited by the disease, while the German wounded, having been vaccinated, had not a single case."

It is advised that whatever measures are adopted they should be made thorough. Measures, good or bad, half done are worse than useless, as they give a fauaded security.

Smallpox can not be suppressed without the expenditure of money. The more promptly you act the less it will cost.

When in doubt act on the safe side. Finally the following motto is offered for your banner in smallpox work: "Isolate, vaccinate, disinfect!"

Nebraska air received deserved honor when President McKinley acknowledged that since crossing the state line Mrs. McKinley's health was much improved. Nebraskans know that the air is healthy and even pleasantly intoxicating when not on a rampage and are pleased to know that it should have proven beneficial to the first lady of the land.

Wm. Cody—Buffalo Bill—wants to establish a military college at Cody, Wyoming, in the heart of the Big Horn basin, where students will be instructed in rough rider military tactics for the United States army. It is the intention to have the barracks constructed of unshewn logs and the course, besides military tactics, will include the hunting of game. It is probable that if such a college were established it would have a large attendance and its merits would not be few.

Beginning this morning a train is being run out from Fremont to Leavitt to carry children and others who wish to work in the beet fields of the Standard Cattle company—transportation free.

On Memorial day—Thursday—the postoffice will be closed, except from 11:30 a. m. to 1 p. m. and in the evening from 7:30 to 8:30. After July 1 the postoffice will close at 1 p. m. on Sundays, instead of 1:30 as heretofore.

While Will Forney of Madison was out hunting last Thursday with a cap rifle a piece of one of the caps flew in his eye. He did not consult a physician until Saturday and on Sunday was compelled to go to Omaha and consult a specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Salter will leave tomorrow noon for an extended visit in the east. They will visit Chicago en route, and after viewing the exposition at Buffalo will go to their old home in Port Hope, Canada. They expect to be absent six weeks or two months.

A Washington dispatch to the Bee states that the application of G. D. Butterfield, Josephine D. Butterfield, W. H. Butterfield, Alice D. Butterfield, P. H. Salter and W. Anders to organize the Creighton National bank of Creighton, this state, with $25,000 capital, was approved yesterday by Comptroller Dawes.

A special to the Sioux City Journal from Winside, under date of the 27th, says that Charles Walters, employed by J. McClure, of Mankato, on the stone bridge near Winside while intoxicated attempted to give an exhibition of high climbing. He fell from near the top of Schneider's ice house, striking on his head and shoulders, and was carried unconscious to his boarding house. He is paralyzed and the physician says his chances for recovery are slight.

Rev. Herbert E. Ryder, pastor of the First Baptist church, is a fortunate man. Not only has he a good church to give him a two-months' vacation, but he is anticipating a first class method of spending that vacation, for on June 26 he will sail from New York on the steamship St. Louis, of the American line, for a trip to Europe, where he hopes to participate in a wedding ceremony and this time not for the other fellow but for himself and the Baptist people are reckoning on giving his bride a rousing and hearty reception on her arrival here in the fall. This will make the sixth time Mr. Ryder has crossed the "old fish pond."

W. A. Homleben and Miss Alwine I. Stolle were united in marriage at the home of the bride's mother in Madison, Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Denninger of the Lutheran church officiating. About 100 guests were present at the ceremony and a number of fine gifts were presented the couple. The serving of a choice wedding supper followed the ceremony and the evening was passed very enjoyably. Both parties to the contract are very well known in Norfolk. Mr. Homleben was at one time clerk at the Pacific and more lately has represented the Armour interests in the poultry business. The bride is also well known, having formerly made this her home, but for the past two years, until recently, has made her home in Portland, Oregon. Their many friends will unite in wishing them an abundance of life's pleasures.

A short change artist was operating in Norfolk this morning, with more or less success. He was the kind who has nothing less than a $20 bill until the merchant or clerk has almost succeeded in counting out the change, then he remembers that he has a small sum, himself, and not only takes the first bill back but as much more of the merchant's money as he is able to secure. The work is so shrewdly and quickly done that the victim doesn't realize what has transpired until afterward, then the artist is nowhere to be found, usually. Myron Collamer was the first person approached. The man was out of tobacco and after the change had been effected, Mr. Collamer found he was $10 shy. He started out and found the fellow, and made him "dig up." Then the "con" man went to George Holler's place of business and got ahead of the game to the amount of $5. He suddenly disappeared after this transaction and has not yet been located. If enough interest is taken in apprehending the man he may be located in another town.

The factory of the Rushville Furniture company at Rushville, Ills., was damaged $30,000 by fire, and D. J. Kosse, an employe, was fatally burned.

Made It a Burlesque.

Franklin Fyles recalls some amusing first night experiences in his article on "The Theater and Its People" in The Ladies' Home Journal. One he relates is of Laura Don, now dead: "She had the role of an Egyptian princess in 'Fresh, the American.' It was intended that she should be seriously and sentimentally impressive, while the late John T. Raymond, the star of the company, should be contrastingly comical as the lover. But the audience would not have it so. Nor was it anything in Miss Don's appearance, for she was beautiful, nor in her acting, for it was clever, that made the people laugh. It came of a miscalculation by the author. The quick witted woman, seeing that she could not control the audience, resolved to humor it. By an exaggeration of speech and manner she turned the part into burlesque, and it was always after acted in that way."

Mr. Fyles also tells that "in 'Cleopatra,' as produced by the late Fanny Davenport, a general should have given to his queen an impetuous account of a battle which he had won. But he stood wordless, silent, stuck fast. 'You have come to tell me,' Miss Davenport said and then went on with the narrative which he should have spoken."

WEDNESDAY WRINKLES.

Mrs. H. C. Matrau was a passenger for Omaha today.

Landlord F. P. Prince of Madison was a city visitor yesterday.

Rev. J. B. Loedon was in Norfolk yesterday from Randolph.

J. B. Barnes, jr., is taking the school census of this district, beginning today.

Mayor D. J. Koenigstein and children, John and Mertie, went to Madison today.

E. A. Bullock is treating his home in the west part of the city to a new coat of paint.

The Ladies guild of Trinity church will hold its regular meeting with Mrs. Leonard, Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Bryan and daughter, Miss Marie, left this morning for Montana, where they go to spend the summer.

Mrs. H. H. Hull and daughter returned last night from Beemer, where they had been visiting a few days.

Judge and Mrs. J. B. Barnes will go to Wayne tomorrow where Mr. Barnes is to make the Memorial day address.

Work on the second story of the Stortz block is progressing rapidly and the building will soon be ready for the roof.

On account of so much sickness in town the Ladies auxiliary to the Y. M. C. A., will postpone the reception to be given the retiring and incoming secretaries in the Y. M. C. A. hall Monday evening.

Tomorrow is Memorial day and a legal holiday. There will be no public exercises, but the deceased soldiers will be remembered by their former comrades who will deposit flowers on their graves. The banks and other similar institutions will observe the day by closing their doors and in accordance with its usual custom on such occasions THE NEWS will not issue a paper.

Charles Allen, who preceded the Norfolk members of the mining camp to Wyoming, writes from Sheridan informing the party to follow, and they expect to leave tomorrow for the scene of their summer's work. The snow on the mountains is disappearing and it is thought that by the time the party arrives no difficulty will be encountered in crossing the trail to the mine.

I. W. Alter of Wayne, the newly elected member of the A. O. U. W. grand lodge finance committee, was in the city over night on his return home from attending a meeting of the old and new committees and the officers of the grand lodge at Grand Island. Deputy Grand Master Workman F. F. Miller of this city also attended the meeting and was assigned the northeast section of the state as his territory.

At the Baptist church this evening, a good time is expected. Beside the regular praise and prayer service with an addressing by the pastor, it will also be the covenant meeting for all the members. The ordinance of baptism will be administered during the service. On Thursday the church will give a reception to all the new members who have come in during this year, of which there will be over fifty.

Niobrara Pioneer. Roy Reid was seen coming up the road by the post-office as happy as a lark Monday morning pushing his wheel barrow of fish, having caught one 18 pounder and one 25 pounder. The next morning he was noticed with a team and wagon. When he reached Main street a crowd gathered around him and with some assistance he unloaded a 110 pounder upon the city scales, where Mark Lindsay took a picture of the young whale. He was caught with an ordinary hook and line, the hook being in his mouth and the fish breathing when Lindsay took his picture. Roy took the fish over to Creighton and disposed of him that morning.

The governor of North Carolina is one of many who once thought otherwise but now believe that a state has no right to secede from the union. At a banquet recently given in New York the southern governor gave utterance to the following patriotic sentiment: "Now there are two things that I thought were setled. I thought it was settled that in 1861 any state had a right to se-

Medical Opinion in regard to Dr. A. H. Keller's Sylvan-Ozone.

An editor of a medical journal writes as follows: "Dr. A. H. Keller's Sylvan-Ozone offered by the Dr. A. H. Keller Chemical Company as a cure for Consumption, Asthma, Bronchitis, Hay Fever, Catarrh, Coughs, Colds and all diseases of the air passages. This we know to be a genuine specific for these complaints, and as such, entitled to our confidence and that of our readers."

"Close examination into the practical results which have been had from the use of this remedy has caused us to endorse it as being an undoubted cure for the above ailments, effectual in removing the exciting cause in a number of attacks which had been of the severest and most tedious character. Dr. A. H. Keller's Sylvan-Ozone permanently restored health, and in cases which were of a milder description its use immediately afforded relief."

cede and that in 1901 no state had a right to secede. At any rate, this is the opinion that prevails in North Carolina today, and I am here now to tell you that if any state—if your Empire state of New York, for instance—secedes, I will pledge to Uncle Sam 200,000 men, each one warranted to bring down a squirrel at ever so many hundred yards and all of them good for nine birds out of ten on the wing, who will march to the front prepared to help lick New York back into a proper frame of mind. No, thank God, there is no more secession, no more divided country. We are one country, under one flag—a glorious country under a glorious flag. We are not separating any more, we are annexing—bringing the rest of the world into our fold. I am a citizen of North Carolina; you are citizens of New York, but we are all, thank God, citizens of this great United States."

The mayor and city council are to be commended for the action taken at the special meeting last evening, when more stringent measures were adopted to stamp out the smallpox. The employment of extra patrolmen to see that quarantine regulations are strictly enforced, will go a long way to speedily rid this city of the trouble, especially when followed by thorough disinfection of every house where there has been disease. The recommendation that every person be vaccinated is also timely, and should be generally followed. It is true that the city authorities have been a little slow in taking hold of this matter, but with the proper spirit of assistance on the part of citizens, there should be no trouble in quickly stamping out the disease from this community.

The decision of the supreme court on the insular cases is worthy of study. Its import cannot be determined by a mere perusal and every citizen having the welfare of his country at heart should fully understand the full meaning of the decision in order that they may act knowingly if the time ever comes when their vote may be required to determine the status of acquired territory.

The plans for celebrating the Fourth of July in Norfolk have apparently been dropped by common consent and it now appears as though no celebration will be held. Under existing circumstances it is perhaps just as well, as there would undoubtedly be many difficulties encountered. The sentiment for a celebration having been so unanimous and there being apparently so much disappointment THE NEWS would suggest that a "harvest home festival" be held some time during September. Such a festival would admit of a more varied and pleasurable program than a celebration. Speaking, music, racing, fireworks, floral and other parades may be made features that would attract a large attendance and the festival might be continued through two or three days. Decorations and camping features would not be inappropriate, in fact a variety of entertainment could be afforded that would be limited only by the capacity of the committees in charge to suggest and the amount of funds at their disposal. It is Norfolk's turn to provide some sort of entertainment during the summer and this suggestion, with good management, could be made very profitable and entertaining. Suggestions are invited regarding the subject and short communications and to the point will gladly be given space by THE NEWS.

Every woman in the country ought to know about

Mother's Friend

Those who do know about it wonder how they ever got along without it. It has robbed childbirth of its terrors for many a young wife. It has preserved her girlish figure and saved her much suffering. It is an external liniment and carries with it therefore, absolutely no danger of upsetting the system as drugs taken internally are apt to do. It is to be rubbed into the abdomen to soften and strengthen the muscles which are to bear the strain. This means much less pain. It also prevents morning sickness and all of the other discomforts of pregnancy.

A druggist of Macon, Ga., says: "I have sold a large quantity of Mother's Friend and have never known an instance where it has failed to produce the good results claimed for it." A prominent lady of Lambert, Ark., writes: "With my first six children I was in labor from 24 to 30 hours. After using Mother's Friend, my seventh was born in 4 hours."
