

BUTCHERS MAY STRIKE.

Swift's Plants in Chicago and Omaha Involved.

COUNCIL IS CALLED TO MEET.

International President Donnelly Brings the Matter to the Attention of the Executive Committee—Sheehan's Report is Doubtful.

Syracuse, June 6.—The executive council of the Amalgamated Butcher Workmen of North America has been called together in Chicago by International President Donnelly because of grievances against the Swift Bros. Packing company of Chicago and Omaha and there is thought to be danger of a strike being ordered, involving all of the employees of the company throughout the United States.

Some days ago it was reported to the international officials that the company was discharging union employees. Third International Vice President Sheehan was ordered to Chicago to make an investigation and he notified the headquarters in this city that the foreman making the discharges had been discharged by the company, and that the men were being reinstated. Subsequent events, the labor people say, show that this was not so.

The international union now numbers about 25,000, of whom more than 4,000 are employed by Swift & Co.

CUBANS WAIT IMPATIENTLY.

Official Instructions From Washington Haven't Arrived in Havana.

Havana, June 6.—The official instructions from Washington regarding the Platt amendment have not arrived. The delay is causing annoyance to General Wood, as he has promised that the convention would have the letter Tuesday and a meeting was called for this purpose to discuss the document. The conservatives are not hopeful of holding the 15 who voted in favor of the resolution, adopting the Platt amendment.

At several meetings there has been discussion tending to embitter the delegates, who insisted that they voted in good faith and with the understanding that the United States would accept the amendment as passed.

At a meeting of the 15 last evening it was said that General Wood told the committee up to the last moment that the United States was satisfied.

There seems to be a feeling that if the instructions are in the form of an ultimatum, the convention will unanimously refuse to accept them and will then dissolve.

W. C. Whitney's Ambition to Win Classic Event is Gratified.

London, June 6.—William C. Whitney's brown colt Volodyovski, ridden by L. Reff, won the Derby in good record time, 2:40.45. Twenty-five horses started.

Foxhall Keene's Olympian (Henry) led until a quarter of a mile from home, when Volodyovski drew to the front, followed by William the Third, and won by three-quarters of a length. Four lengths separated the second and third horses. Florium was fourth.

The betting was 5 to 2 against Volodyovski, 100 to 7 against William the Third and 40 to 1 against Veronese.

Brodick Takes Hopeful View.

London, June 6.—It is understood that Lord Kitchener has not asked for reinforcements. Mr. Brodick, the war secretary, speaking in London last night, declared that the government was in no way discouraged over the present state of the war, which, he said, would soon be finished if the enemy would only come to action. The number of deaths from disease and military operations among the British troops in South Africa during the month of May was 25 officers and 709 men.

Tillman Can Now Resign.

Columbia, S. C., June 6.—Decidedly the most surprising outcropping of the senatorial row was the unexpected letter from Governor McSweeney to Senator Tillman yesterday. The governor declares to Tillman that if he wants to resign, his withdrawal from the senate will be immediately accepted. Tillman, however, has withdrawn his resignation.

VERDICT IS FOR MRS. EDDY.

Court So Orders It in Mrs. Woodbury's Libel Suit.

Boston, June 6.—Judge Charles U. Bell last night brought to a sudden and unexpected end the famous $150,000 libel suit brought by Mrs. Josephine Curtis Woodbury of Boston against the Rev. Mary Baker Eddy of Concord, N. H., the founder and present head of the Christian Scientists church, by ordering a verdict for the defendant.

A few minutes later the jury, which had been excluded while the arguments were being made, were summoned into the court room. After explaining briefly the course for this action, Judge Bell ordered the jury to find for the defendant, which it did in the usual form. Counsel for Mrs. Woodbury filed exceptions on all the questions passed upon. They expect to carry the case to the supreme court. This far-reaching decision of Judge Bell was given in response to one of the two motions offered by Mr. Elder, senior counsel for Mrs. Eddy. This was that the verdict for the defendant be ordered on the evidence as it stood.

The other motion, which was not sustained, was that the counts in the declaration referring to the publication in the two Christian Science periodicals be stricken out.

RECIPROCITY THE THEME.

Topic Discussed by Manufacturers' National Association.

Detroit, June 6.—Commercial reciprocity was the theme which the Manufacturers' National association discussed yesterday. Widely diverging views were expressed at times, but when self interests were laid aside and the good of the manufacturing interests of the United States was considered in the aggregate, the delegates were agreed that reciprocity was the only means by which the foreign trade of the American manufacturer could be safeguarded. During the discussion of the president's report, General W. H. Withington of Jackson, Mich., said he thought the business men of the country and not politicians should have the most to say about the tariff laws. He was in favor of tariff revision, although he had hitherto been in favor of a high tariff. W. L. Saunders, vice president of the Ingersoll Sergeant Drill company of New York, agreed with General Withington. He said a high tariff was not only unnecessary, but a hindrance and a danger to our business. "Our Russian sugar controversy," said he, "shows how we may be legislated against by other nations."

NAVY MAGAZINE ON FIRE.

About Thirty Tons of Smokeless Powder on Mare Island Destroyed.

Vallejo, Cal., June 6.—A magazine at the Mare Island navy yard, containing about 300 tons of smokeless powder, became ignited yesterday by chemical action. The powder did not explode, but generated enough gas and smoke to force the top off the magazine.

When the roof was blown off the people lying in the vicinity hurriedly left their houses, some of them partially dressed and carrying articles of wearing apparel in their hands. They took refuge in a ravine about a quarter of a mile away, knowing that if the magazine exploded, death and destruction would be the inevitable consequence, and that probably every building in the town of Vallejo would be wrecked. Fortunately, the steamer El Capitán, which was in the vicinity, succeeded in getting a stream of water on the main magazine and extinguished the flames before serious damage was done. The building in which the smokeless powder was stored is a complete loss. About 30 tons of powder were destroyed.

G. A. R. ELECTS METZGER.

Davenport Man Made Department Commander.

GENERAL DAVIS MAKES REPORT.

Tells of Loss of Membership and Criticizes Interpretation of Present Pension Laws—Sioux City Delegate is Fatally Hurt.

Dubuque, Ia., June 6.—George Metzger of Davenport was yesterday elected department commander of the state Grand Army of the Republic. There was no opposition.

In his annual report Department Commander Davis makes suggestions for the betterment of the organization. In discussing the subject of membership, the commander's report presents an array of facts that shows how rapidly the veterans are passing away. In 1891 the total membership was 20,324. On June 30 last there were but 11,529, loss of 8,795. Of these 2,644 had died.

Commander Davis was especially forceful in considering pensions. He quotes provisions of the pension laws and cites instances of how their construction is made to work against the interests of the old soldier.

Make Fiercer Attack on Those Who Had Taken Their Places.

New York, June 6.—Taking advantage of the fact that the police guards at the Acheson-Harden handkerchief factory at Passaic, N. J., had been reduced to two men, the girl strikers made a fierce attack yesterday on those who had taken their places in the factory. The police charged the rioters, but were driven off and sent for reinforcements. When these came up three of the girls were arrested and taken to the police station. At the station a mob attempted to rescue the prisoners and were only driven off by a fire company turning a stream from an engine upon it.

KENNEDY JURY IS SECURED.

Prosecutor Says Verdict of First Degree Murder Will Be Asked.

Kansas City, June 6.—A jury was secured yesterday in the case of Lulu Prince-Kennedy, charged with murdering her husband, Philip H. Kennedy, and Prosecutor Hadley made his opening address. He said that the state would show that the prisoner's motive for killing Kennedy was to avoid the publicity incident to the trial of the dead man's suit to annul the marriage into which he alleged her father and brothers had forced him. The state would ask for a conviction of murder in the first degree, but if the evidence showed that Kennedy had made a show of resistance, a lesser degree would be asked.

Kansas City, June 6.—A man believed to be William C. Bain, who figured in the mysterious disappearance on April 3 at St. Joseph of Ernest V. Harding, cashier of the German-American bank of that city, is under arrest here. Among his personal property held by the Hutchinson police after his arrest are said to be several telegrams of a sensational nature purporting to be from Harding to Bain.

McLaurin to Tillman.

Columbia, S. C., June 6.—With the governor "last word" to Senator Tillman and the withdrawal of the senator's resignation, all would seem to be over, but Senator McLaurin, after speaking very bitterly of the senator, made the declaration that if Tillman will now tender to the governor the unconditional surrender of his office, he (McLaurin) would consider this a direct challenge to him and would likewise resign and enter the contest for Tillman's place.

Motive is Still Unknown.

Lincoln, June 6.—The jury in the inquest over the remains of Mrs. Mabel Walker returned a verdict finding that the woman "came to her death by poisoning, and, from the best information obtained by the jury, administered by her own hands and for causes unknown to the jury." Brink and other witnesses were questioned, but nothing new of importance was brought out. This decision of the jury leaves the motive for the suicide still a mystery.

EDUCATION THE DAY'S TOPIC.

Friends of Carthage College Plead for Allowance From General Synod.

Des Moines, June 6.—The general synod of the Evangelical Lutheran church devoted yesterday to discussion of the eighth annual report of the board of education. A motion was made to give one-third of the apportionment of funds to the board for the ensuing biennium to Carthage college at Carthage, Ill., and was discussed at length. Dr. Bannock of Rockford pleaded for allowance for the college, calling attention to the fact that $2,900 had been pledged at the last biennial, but had not been paid. "It does not matter so much what these newspaper men say, that we are a body of scoundrels," he said, "but don't let the report go out that we break our faith."

After a warm discussion, led by President Ziegmond of Carthage college, it was decided to devote one-third of the apportionment for education ($1,000) to that institution the next two years, the other $2,000 to be divided between Midland college and Western Theological seminary at Atchison, Kan.

The synod expects to adjourn this evening.

NO WAR OF THE INDUSTRIES.

Threatened Movement Against Packing Houses Not Yet Ignited.

Des Moines, June 6.—Nothing has yet come of the proposal of the members of the Iowa State Butter and Egg Dealers' association to engage in a war against the packing houses which have entered the field in Iowa for handling the poultry and egg business.

The retail dealers in butter and eggs threaten to take severe measures to curb the packing companies and call in representatives of the railroads and of the freight lines to help them. But the packing companies, notably Swift and Armour, are preparing to greatly enlarge their business in Iowa. This week work was commenced on a big new warehouse and plant for Swift at Shenandoah for the southwestern Iowa trade. Similar warehouses have been erected at several points in Iowa. Thus far the association of butter and egg dealers has accomplished nothing in the way of shutting out the packers.

Denounce War Beer Tax and Abolishment of Army Canteen.

Reports from the vigilance committee were read and adopted. This committee took up the question of prohibition, and discussed the recent acts of Mrs. Nation.

"Carrie Nation," the report says, "became a law breaker of the most dangerous type, in order, as she imagined, to end a state of things which prohibition with all its despotic auxiliary laws cannot prevent. We can conceive of no better proof of the oft-repeated statement that prohibition does not prohibit."

Presbyterian Synod Declines to Pray for Eight-Hour Work Day.

Pittsburg, June 6.—Just before final adjournment last night the Reformed Presbyterian synod of America refused to accede to the request of the Federation of Labor unions of Chicago to pray for the eight-hour working day. The resolution adopted on the subject expresses sympathy for the laborer in his struggle for the betterment of his condition, but condemns the secret nature of labor unions and says Sabbath meetings are destructive of spiritual life. The synod voted to meet in Syracuse next year.

KILLS FAMILY AND HIMSELF.

Engineer Near Macon Murders Wife and Daughter and Commits Suicide.

Macon, Mo., June 6.—James Stacey, an engineer, aged 51, ten miles east of here on the Burlington road, in a fit of insanity, killed his wife and daughter, aged 18, and then, after relating the fact to a neighbor, shot himself to death. James, an 8-year-old son, was spared. The tragedy occurred when the victims were asleep.

Stacey, who for the past 30 years had been a trusted engineer at the Clarence water tank, arose at 3 a. m. to go to work. It is known that he loved his family, but it seems that when he awoke Stacey was seized with an uncontrollable impulse to commit murder. The wife was the first to suffer. With a clock weight Stacey sent her into eternity by a blow on the left temple. His daughter, Alma, aged 18, was asleep in a room upstairs with James, her brother. There the father next went, and, picking up the boy, laid him on a cot in an adjoining room. Then, with the clock weight, the crazed man ended the life of his daughter, as he had that of the wife.

Stacey was found lying on the porch with his head nearly blown off by the contents of a heavily loaded shotgun. He had placed the barrel in his mouth and pulled the trigger with his toes. The little boy, who was unharmed, is unable to give any account of the tragedy.

Averted the Storm.

A certain congressman went home at a very early hour in the morning. He had made a night of it with some friends. He knew that his conduct would be considered reprehensible by his better half, and so, as he ascended the steps of his modest home, he racked his brain for some plan to avert the lady's wrath. As he entered the hall he saw an umbrella. Instantly it occurred to him that the umbrella might be his salvation.

He carried the umbrella up stairs. Seating himself on a chair in the corner of the bedroom, he raised the rain guard over his head, and then he coughed loudly. His wife awoke and saw in the dim gaslight her lord sitting solemnly under the raised umbrella.

"What are you doing?" she asked in natural surprise.

"It is 3 o'clock, my dear," said he, "and I am waiting for the storm."

The congressman's ready wit saved him from a Caudle lecture. He is worrying now, however, to find an equally effective act for the next time he stays out late.—Washington Post.

Force of Habit.

In 1827, just after Dan Dougherty, the Irish pugilist, fought his famous fight with Jim Belcher, the English fighter, on the curragh of Kildare, near Dublin, he became involved in a controversy with an unknown. The latter was not a pugilist, and, not wishing to take any advantage of his opponent, Dougherty consented to fight him with pistols. The two met by appointment, but their seconds, unknown to them, extracted the balls from the pistols and substituted blank cartridges. By the terms of the agreement between the principals Dougherty's opponent was to have the first shot. The natural instinct prevailed even on the dueling ground, and as the fighter's opponent raised his arm to fire Dougherty elevated his right arm, as if to ward off a blow, evidently intending to stop the bullet from hitting him in the face. After this who can say that fighters are not dead game men?—Kansas City Independent.

Principles For Private Life.

Senator Hoar once gave five points of advice to young men about to enter public life which are well worth remembering. They are:

First.—Do not trouble yourself to court public opinion. People like independence.

Second.—In the second place believe in the strength of righteousness as a powerful political force.

Third.—Learn to judge of men in public as in private by their merits and not by their defects. Eight of the greatest villains in the world were presidents, so the critics said.

Fourth.—Never think you can gain favor of people by departing from the arena that belongs to you as educated men.

Fifth.—Set yourselves strenuously against evil, but do not go out of your way to reform. Remember that faith, hope and charity are the three supreme virtues.—Philadelphia Bulletin.
