cured of smallpox, desires it known that he has not been at his home, on South Tenth street, since the second quarantine was put up. He can not expose any one.

The culvert on Norfolk avenue, near Thirteenth street, is being repaired. This has been an eye-sore to residents of the neighborhood for many years and they feel that work has now begun along the proper channel.

The electric light system is being rapidly extended into the residence portion of the city. The line along Norfolk avenue was completed as far as Twelfth street yesterday and the lights along that route were turned on last evening for the first time.

R. B. Weller received word that Mrs. Weller's sister, Miss Wilhemy, died in Omaha last evening. She had been ill for some time and the end was not unexpected. Miss Wilhemy had frequently visited in Norfolk and had a great many friends in the city. Mrs. Weller has been in Omaha for several weeks and Mr. Weller left for that place this morning.

Beginning next Monday a pouch mail service to Warnerville will be established on the Union Pacific freight which leaves this place in the evening. This will give the people of Warnerville their mail twice a day, something that has long been desired, and will also enable them to dispatch mail twice each day. The service will be a convenience that will be appreciated by patrons of the office at that place.

In a letter from W. H. Chestnutwood, agriculturalist in the Kalamazoo, Mich., sugar factory, he says: "I have 5,000 acres for my company this year and beets are looking first rate. We have a nice factory here, with a capacity for 500 tons a day. It is a little bigger than the Norfolk factory, but old Nebraska has the land. Of course Michigan has good land but you have to go so far to find it." Stand up for Nebraska.

About 200 participated in the Baptist Sunday school picnic yesterday. About 25 prizes for athletic feats, were given. Among the prizes was a handsome bust of George Washington, presented by Chas. A. Johnson; an umbrella by the Johnson Dry Goods company; a choice picture and frame by Robt. Utter, and several small articles by the Novelty store. The ball game resulted in a victory for the league team over the Westsiders by a score of 20-0. The day was a great success and plans are now laid for a larger picnic and gala day in October.

Last night was a festal occasion for Norfolk lodge, No. 46, I. O. O. F. Grand Master P. C. Johnson of Holmesville and Grand Secretary I. P. Gage of Fremont arrived in the city yesterday noon. There was a large attendance at lodge in the evening. The regular business was hurried through as rapidly as possible, and then the meeting was resolved into a social session and general good time. Addresses were made by both of the grand officers and others present, and at the close all felt much better acquainted than before. Afterwards refreshments were served. Besides the grand officers, out of town visitors were present from Stanton, Madison and other places.

The entertainment given at the Second Congregational church last evening by Mr. H. Augustine Smith, tenor, assisted by Rev. Franklin Baker, reader, was exceptionally fine. Only a fair sized audience took advantage of the opportunity offered, due partially, perhaps, to the smallpox scare and partially to the fact that the public did not anticipate the high class of concert that was to be given. Mr. Smith is a lyric tenor who captivates his audience at once with his fine, clear voice and charming ease. He is withal one of the best tenors ever heard in this city. He is musical director in the First Congregational church of Chicago and instructor in the Chicago Theological seminary. Mr. Smith at certain times of the year makes concert tours, from one of which he is just returning. He has recently been at the Yankton, S. D., May festival. He is an old friend of the pastor and on this account the latter was able to offer the program complimentary to his congregation. The concert usually given by Mr. Smith is about twice as long and of a much heavier character than that of last evening. Mr. Smith is also master of the violin-cello, upon which instrument he rendered one number and an encore. He was accompanied in his singing by Mrs. E. O. Mount, whose ability as a pianist is so well and favorably known to music lovers in Norfolk. As a reader, Rev. Mr. Baker has more than ordinary talent and his selections were highly appreciated. It is barely possible that Mr. Smith may return in an engagement next winter.

LOCOMOTIVE BLOWS UP.

Boiler on Engine Explodes, Killing Engineer and Fireman.

BRAKEMAN INJURED SEVERELY.

Accident Happens While Fast Freight is a Few Miles Out of Clarke, Neb. Engine, Which Was One of the Big Ones, a Complete Wreck.

Columbus, Neb., June 14.—As a result of a boiler explosion on a Union Pacific engine yesterday morning two men are dead and a third fatally injured. The dead: ENGINEER CHAS. FULLMER, Omaha. FIREMAN DAVID JENKINS, Omaha. The injured: William Fleming, head brakeman, Omaha, severely scalded, leg broken; may recover. The engine was one of the large class, No. 1,831, drawing train No. 17, in charge of Conductor Wallace and Engineer Fullmer. When about four miles east of Clarke, the boiler exploded without a moment's warning. The engine was completely destroyed. One car was derailed and traffic delayed about four hours. Parts of the wrecked engine were found 100 yards from the track.

It is said that this is the second accident of the kind that has ever occurred in the United States. Numerous boiler explosions have occurred, but railroad men say that never but once before has the boiler of a locomotive been blown up while a train was moving along with such apparent smoothness as this one was.

Saw the Wreck.
S. C. Salter of Shelton arrived in the city last night for a visit with his brother, J. M. Salter. He came past the scene of the accident yesterday morning as soon as the wreckage had been cleared from the track, and states that the wheels together with the front end of the locomotive were all that remained of the machine. At the time of the explosion the train was moving 30 miles per hour, with 205 pounds (the limit) of steam up. It was thought when Mr. Salter came through that the blowup must have been due to a stick of dynamite in the coal.

The Examinations.
The competitive examination for naval cadetship was finished at 10:30 o'clock this morning. C. W. Crum, who conducted the work, and the eight young men trying for the place, have returned to their respective homes. The grading of the papers will probably be finished the latter part of next week. In the physical test R. R. Cain of Newman Grove, ranked first; Milo Draemel of Fremont came second and Jerome Langer of West Point, third. The other five were rejected. None of candidates were physically perfect. Those absolutely rejected can lay their misfortunes largely to flat feet, misshaped chests and bad teeth. More serious diseases were the causes of rejection in one or two cases.

The state professional certificate examinations began this afternoon at the High school building, with J. B. Barnes, jr., in charge. Those appearing for this are C. W. Wallace of Madison and Hugh H. Stevens of Laurel.
